COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

Diplomatic relations rather than Caesar's Commentaries seem to continue to engross the attention of the world. England will reject the Berlin proposal of "you relax and I relax" on the food issue and it is said will retaliate with a blockade of some sort of all the German ports. This may bring the fleets into play and something may be reasonably expected to happen soon to break the monotony of reports from abroad. The so-called submarine blockade of the British Isles by the Germans begins tomorrow, but a Berlin telegram reminds us not to expect anything definite for a week or ten days.

That further friction is developing between Carranza and the foreign diplomats at Mexico City as the result of the expulsion of the Spanish Ambassador is evident from the dispatches from Vera Cruz. American attaches have been told to leave with the members of the Brazil delegation in case the order comes for the latter to depart. Villa is still in pursuit of the Carranza army that evacuated Guadalajara.

War-news headlines are constructed, as nearly as may be in the to reflect the tone of the several news reports, not the editorial

PEACE FOREVER MAY FOLLOW WAR.

VISCOUNT BRYCE SAYS PRESENT STRUGLE MUST CURE US OR NOTHING WILL.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Feb. 17, 12:48 a.m.—Presiding at a scientific lecture in London last night, Viscount Bryce, former British Ambassador to the United States, said that if there was a chance of ridding the world of the worst evil of the human race, war, that chance ought to come now.

"If this doesn't cure us," said Viscount Bryce, "nothing will."

The speaker ventured the hope that there would be a stronger feeling for peace after this war than ever before, and a stronger sense of the detestable consequences to which the worship of war may bring a great people. If so, he added, the sacrifice would not be made in vain.

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 16.—The United States was asked by the Dominion government to place guards on the American side of the international boundary at highway and rail approaches to Canada, it was learned tonight. The request was made through the British Ambassador at Washington. The recent attempt upon the Canadian Pacific bridge at Vanceboro by Werner Horn and confidential reports of the feeling of certain Germans and Austrians in the United States have led to the request.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—A prize crew of three officers and sixteen men was placed on board the American steamer Wilhelmina at Falmouth today. The Wilhelmina is loaded with foodstuffs bound for Germany.

LONDON, Feb. 16, 10:20 p.m.—Great Britain received today through Walter Hines Page, the American Ambassador, Germany's offer to withdraw her threat of a submarine blockade against Great Britain if the British navy would permit the free movements of foodstuffs to the civilian population of Germany.

There is no expectation here that the offer will be accepted. In fact, Great Britain is already preparing to retaliate against Germany by placing under more stringent control ships destined to German ports; and a proclamation momentarily is expected declaring a blockade of the German coast, or at any rate, the prohibition of foodstuffs destined for Germany. The Cabinet with its naval and military advisers, considered this question today, and it is understood the decision is awaiting the formal confirmation of the Privy Council, from which all proclamations emanate.

In the meantime, British and neutral vessels are moving as freely as usual, with the exception of those belonging to a few Dutch lines, which have reduced their number of sailings. The Norwegian and Danish insurance companies have given instructions that steamers insured by them shall have their national colors, the names of the ships and the country of their origin painted conspicuously on the sides of all vessels.

Holland and Italy, like the United States, have protested to Germany against her sea war zone threat and have asked Great Britain not to make free use of neutral flags. Similar representations are expected to be made by the two countries tomorrow in joint note by Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

For the time being, questions of diplomacy are arousing more interest than the actual fighting, although military movements of the first importance are taking place, especially along the eastern line.

THE GERMAN OFFENSIVE.

The German offensive movement, strongly supported by fresh troops, is being pushed with great vigor along the East Prussian frontier, and in Poland north of the lower Vistula. The Russians have now evacuated East Prussia, except for a small area near Lyck, where they are opposing the German advance, and also are apparently falling back in North Poland, for the Germans today announced that they have occupied Plock and Biesik, which the Russians recaptured from them a short time ago.

While the Germans seem to have inflicted heavy losses on the retiring Russian armies, military men here and the newspaper correspondents in Petrograd continue to refer to the Muscovite movement as a strategical retirement to the fortified line which lies along the Nieman River through Kovno, Grodno and Lomza, and thence southwest to the fortress of Novoe Georgiewsk.

Heavy fighting also continues in the Carpathians and Bukowina. In Bukowina the Russians also are falling back, but they continue to hold the Carpathian passes further west and are putting up a stubborn resistance to the Austro-German offensive in that region. Here the fighting is taking place in deep snow, and both sides are suffering severely.

IN THE WEST.

The large number of troops the Germans are using in the East, it is believed by military observers here, will prevent for some time any attempt by the Germans to break the deadlock in the West.

Although there have been no events of outstanding importance on this front, a long official report of the operations of the British force, from November to the beginning of February, issued today, shows that there always is more or less activity there. Despite the weather and the state of the ground the report says there has been a lot of trench fighting in which the Indians and British territorials distinguished themselves.

Gen. French in the report pays high tribute to the Indians and of the territorials says they have far more than justified the most sanguine hopes entertained of their value in the field. The report adds that reinforcements are arriving regularly.

The first of the promised bi-weekly reports of the doings of the British army in France also was issued today. It claims that progress has been made in the region of La Bassee, where the

A "bead" on the enemy.

The apparatus for dropping war bombs consists of three parts—the bomb tubes, the tube covers and the pedal board. The bomb tubes are arranged in a plate let into the floor of the fuselage, a little behind the observer's seat. If there is a danger of the lower openings of the tubes coming too near any parts of the aeroplane cylindrical guide tubes of wire netting are arranged so as to make the bombs clear all possible obstructions. The pedal board is operated by the foot of the observer. The explosive charge is placed in a streamline casing similar to that just seen dropping in the picture. In the neck of this casing is a circumferential groove, and when the bomb has been pulled up into the tube it is so arranged that a fork engages this groove and holds it fast. Pressure on the foot pedals, however, withdraws the fork from the groove in the neck, allowing the bomb to drop. In order to obviate mistakes the pedals and tube covers are painted in corresponding colors. The weight of the apparatus, exclusive of the bombs, is about fifteen pounds.

Chicagoan Summons Doctor to Treat His Wife's Cramps and Shortly Afterwards Eight-and-a-half-pound Girl is Ushered in Without Previous Preparations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Jackson are entertaining an unexpected guest today in their home at No. 1516 East Sixty-second street. She arrived without baggage at dawn and put up a loud "holler" when she found that no preparations had been made for her.

Waiving the comedy that unconsciously arises about a tremendously interesting scientific case, the facts are as follows:

At 3 a.m. today Mr. Jackson communicated with Dr. Arthur F. Wolford by means of the telephone and asked him to hurry to his home to treat his wife for cramps.

Dr. Wolford took one glance at his patient and immediately discouraged her theory. In announcing his own belief he occasioned much merriment for the Jacksons.

"You're joking, doctor," said Mrs. Jackson, laughing heartily.

Half an hour later a faint, querulous cry went wavering through the house. It was made by an eight-and-a-half-pound girl. At present the mother and child are doing extremely well.

The arrival of a daughter was entirely unexpected. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, the nurse and the doctor all testify to this.

"It is the only case of its kind I have ever heard of," declared Dr. Wolford. "The baby girl is a perfect specimen. Mrs. Jackson suffered not the slightest pain until she complained of the 'stomach ache.'"

All Buildings and Exhibits at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be Finished and in Place When the Gates Swing Open to the World Next Saturday Morning.

BY JEANNE REDMAN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 16.—Four thousand workmen, working three shifts a day, and a dozen engines hauling box and flat cars of exhibits directly into the exhibit palaces, automobile trucks by the score and drays by the hundred, swinging derricks and whirring winches by the dozen, are combining today to present a scene of high-pressure activity at the grounds of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. There was no rest for the exposition corps over Sunday. The gates are to be thrown open on next Saturday and dynamic labors are necessary in order that the long aisles of the exhibit palaces have their spaces filled.

President Charles C. Moore of the exposition company a year ago announced to the world that the exposition would be ready on opening day. The actual construction work is completed today and has been completed for weeks. As early as the first of the year Mr. Harris Connick, the clever director of works, announced that the construction was 98 per cent. completed, establishing a record in the history of the world expositions. Now the entire mighty machine of exposition organization has been thrown into the high gear in order that the things that go into the finished structures—the displays of the 80,000 exhibitors from the world over—may also be in their places and ready for the hundreds of

On the outside of these are to appear two red strikes each a meter wide.

It also advises that the Danish flag always be kept flying.

AIR ATTACK ON OSTEND

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Feb 16, 11:50 p.m.—The air wing of the British navy made another massed attack today on the German positions along the Belgian coast in an effort to destroy or damage the submarine base at Zeebrugge, the guns at Ostend and Middelkerke and the aerodrome at Ghistelles.

According to the official report good results were attained. Forty machines were utilized today, as compared with thirty-four in last week's attack.

While the British airmen were dropping their bombs on the gun positions, the supply trains and barges and the trawlers used in mine laying and mine-sweeping operations, eight Frenchmen attacked the Ghistelles aerodrome, thus preventing the German airmen from making an attempt to cut off the British machines.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

The official statement concerning the air raid says:

"The air operations of the naval wing against the Bruges, Ostend and Zeebrugge district were continued this afternoon. Forty aeroplanes and seaplanes bombarded Ostend, Middelkerke, Ghistelles and Zeebrugge.

"Bombs were dropped on the heavy batteries situated on the east and west side of Ostend, on gun positions at Middelkerke, on transport wagons on the Ostend-Ghistelles road, on the mole at Zeebrugge to widen the breach damaged in former attacks, on the locks at Zeebrugge, on barges outside Blankenberghe and on trawlers outside Zeebrugge.

"Eight French aeroplanes assisted the naval machines by making vigorous attacks on the Ghistelles aerodrome, thus effectively preventing German air craft from cutting off our machines. It is reported that good results were obtained.

"Instructions are always issued to confine attacks to points of military importance, and every effort is made by the flying officers to avoid dropping bombs on residential portions of towns."

The official report makes no mention of the airmen engaged, so it is presumed they all returned safely.

The day was bright and clear, conditions being more favorable than last week for a raid.

HOW RUSSIANS WERE SURPRISED.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Feb. 16 (via Sayville, L. I.)—A special dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger, referring to the offensive movement of the Germans, which began February 7, in Prussia, and along the frontier, describes the manner in which the Germans surprised the Russians. For the purpose of an outflanking operation the German infantry made forced marches through snow knee-deep. Later a thaw set in and they were compelled to make their way through slush. But owing to the immense energy of the infantry and the successful blowing up of railway bridges, the enveloping movement succeeded.

Several Russian divisions were virtually annihilated, those who were not killed being taken prisoners. A sortie by the garrison of the Russian fortress at Kovno was repulsed.

USE SUBMARINES AS LAST RESORT.

Suggests American Cruiser Convoy Our Vessels.

BERLIN, Feb. 16 (via Sayville, N. Y.)—Admiral Behncke of the Marine Department has made a statement to Lieutenant-Commander Walter Gherardi, naval attache of the American Embassy at Berlin, which is given out officially as the best exposition of the situation with respect to Germany's declaration of the waters around the British Isles as a war zone.

Admiral Behncke's statement follows:

"Up to the present time Germany in the war at sea has followed the London declaration or the stipulations of the Paris treaty, on which the conduct of war on the sea had been based before the London declaration.

"In waging this commercial warfare England had in view the subjugation of Germany by starvation. Germany had in every way sought to bring the attention of the neutral powers and all others to the necessity she was under to obtain food for her civilian population, which was her right under the laws of war. No results could be obtained from her efforts.

"Since the shutting off of food supplies had now come to a point where Germany had no longer sufficient food to feed her people, it became necessary for her to bring England to terms by the exercise of force. Germany knows that by the use of the submarine England can be placed in a position where food will be lacking. She has the submarine force with which to do it; her life as a nation and the lives of her people depend upon putting this campaign into action, and she must do so.

"The difficulties lying in the way of this campaign have been largely connected with the care which it is desired to give to neutral ships and to the lives of those on board all commercial ships, whether neutral or belonging to the enemy.

"First—In arming her merchant ships with guns for self-defense England adopted a policy against which Germans strongly protest. The United States took the British point of view. It is not possible for submarines to approach British merchant ships and make examinations without exposing themselves to gun fire or bomb attack, against which a submarine boat will be helpless.

"Second—England has advised her merchant fleet to fly neutral flags, to cover up names and change stacks, to escape the consequences of their nationality. This plan was designed to bring Germany into conflict with other nations.

"Germany does not wish in the slightest degree to harm American or other neutral ships, or their cargoes, unless carrying contraband of war. She is, however, in a position where her life depends upon her putting into effect the only means she has of saving herself. She must and will use this means.

"Commanding officers of submarine boats have been given orders to make every effort to safeguard neutrals. In spite of the precautions which submarines could take—without the danger of being destroyed themselves—the possibility was noted that neutral ships might, through error or accident, be destroyed. For this reason a strong warning was issued.

"In addition, the English coast has been mined by the British themselves for protective reasons, and will be mined by the Germans as an act of offensive warfare. Ships were therefore in danger from mines.

"In spite of the great effect the Admiralty staff feels the use of the submarine will have in bringing the war to a rapid close, the Admiralty do not wish to put it into effect, to the detriment of neutral commerce and the rights of nations on the high seas. They have, therefore, stated that if Great Britain will abide by the Declaration of London, without modifications, or by the Treaty of Paris, whereby food supplies necessary for the civil population can be freely brought into Germany, the whole matter of submarine blockade will be dropped by Germany.

"This proposal has been transmitted through diplomatic channels. If accepted, the matter will be no longer one provocative of trouble between the United States and Germany."

CLOSING NORTH SEA.

Admiral Behncke called Commander Gherardi's attention to the fact that Great Britain, when by her proclamation she closed the North Sea, did not give free passage to American ships bound for the neutral country of Holland, but compelled the ships to pass through certain channels, take an English pilot aboard and undergo search for contraband of war at the hands of officers of British warships.

Admiral Behncke then said that Germany was prepared to suggest to the United States an even freer and safer method of passage for American ships bound either through the channel or to English ports—namely, that several American warships would wait in some port on the southwest coast of Ireland, and when communicated with by wireless by an American merchantman, one of them should proceed to the place indicated and convoy the merchantman through that portion of the sea which Germany, following the example of Great Britain, has declared to be dangerous.

"Of course," said the admiral, "ships under convoy, by the rules of international law, are not subject to search, but the country to which they belong is upon its honor, as it were, to see that they do not carry contraband of war.

"American warships have distinctive masts and are well known to the officers of the German navy, and either by night or day they and the vessels under their convoy would be respected by German submarines.

"This is a safe method to follow for American ships which desire to enter those portions of the seas proclaimed dangerous by Germany, and differs only from the rule adopted by Great Britain, with reference to American ships passing through the channel, in that American ships, instead of being compelled to enter a British port, take a British pilot and be searched by officers of a British warship, would be permitted to pass unmolested to their destination without being subjected to search, the imperial German government being willing of course to accept the implied word of honor of the United States that the ships carry no contraband of war."

RUSSIANS LOSE IN CARPATHIANS.

BERLIN, Feb. 16 (via London.)—Reports from the Carpathian Mountains to the Pester Lloyd of Budapest, Hungary, say that the Austro-Hungarian armies were everywhere successful in their offensive movement in Dukla Pass. The total losses of the Russians in the Dukla Pass battles in the last few days, these reports say, were at least 50,000 men killed or wounded. In a single attack the retreating Russians left 1200 dead on the field.

SIR JOHN FRENCH AS A REPORTER.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The first of the bi-weekly communications from Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British army in the field, for which the War Office arranged as a concession to the public demand for more news concerning the progress of the war, was made public by the Official Information Bureau today. It is as follows:

"Since our successes near La Bassee at the beginning of last week there has been less activity in that area. We nevertheless made further progress in this quarter and on the 13th a valuable point was secured with loss. We have consolidated our hold on the ground gained, and conclusive evidence has been obtained that the enemy's losses in the recent fighting thereabouts have been severe.

"In the Ypres district the enemy attacked our line of the 14th and succeeded at first in gaining possession of a few trenches. Counter-attacks were made by us and the ground lost was recovered.

"On the remainder of the front there has been some increase in intensity in the artillery duel, in which we have shown a marked superiority.

"In spite of the bad weather our air craft carried out their accustomed tasks with comparative success. An aviator discovered a hostile ammunition column near La Basse and dropped a bomb on it, blowing up an ammunition wagon."

WHEAT HOARDED BY FOREIGNERS.

Therefore Bread is so Dear, According to Perkins.

Our Visible Supply of Grain is Greatly Decreased.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—George W. Perkins, chairman of the Mayor's Committe on food supply, testified today before Meyer Nussbaum, referee for the State conducting an inquiry into the increased cost of wheat, flour and bread, that the committee had reason to believe that the abnormal decrease in the visible supply of wheat was caused by European speculators buying in large quantities and storing against a continuation of the war. The visible supply showed a decrease of more than a half million bushels last week, as against a decrease of 150,000 bushels in the same week of last year, he said.

The hearing is being conducted for the purpose of determining whether a criminal conspiracy in violation of the State law is responsible for the increased cost.

Mr. Perkins gave it as the opinion of his committee that the Federal government should determine how much wheat the farmers of the United States were holding.

William Pechter, chairman of the East Side Master Bakers' Association and manager of Moses Pechter & Co., admitted that most of the members of the association had decided to raise the price of their products about ten days ago after a meeting. The Pechter firm, which bakes only rye bread, had increased the price 1 cent a pound, he said, because since July, 1914, the price of rye flour had risen more than $3 a barrel.

James B. Arthur, Secretary of the Ward Baker Company, stated that his company has bakeries in Brooklyn, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Boston and other cities, and that it has raised the price of its output in New York and Chicago 1 cent a loaf. He knew nothing about this raise, he said, except that it had been ordered by George S. Ward, the president.

William H. Collins, president of the General Baking Company, assumed full responsibility for having raised the price of his company's products, and introduced figures to show that the price of flour had risen in 1914. He said his company, capitalized at $20,000,000, had plants in all the big cities of New England and Atlantic Coast States.

The session was adjourned until tomorrow, when the principal witnesses will be millers.

GERMAN SOLDIERS CHEER KAISER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) Feb. 16.—Emperor William, in the course of his latest trip to Eastern Prussia, went into the town of Lyck on February 14 and was enthusiastically cheered by the German soldiers.

As he was leaving this town, the Emperor met a Pommeranian regiment of grenadiers, to which he expressed his thanks and appreciation. The Emperor declared the men had fulfilled his expectations and showed themselves worthy of their forefathers, who in 1870, as well as 100 years ago, had protected the Fatherland from the enemy with the same spirit and firm courage. His Majesty said he was convinced that the grenadiers, as well as the whole German army, would not fail to vanquish the enemy wherever they encountered him.

GERMANS EXPEL NEUTRAL CITIZENS.

GENEVA, Feb. 16 (via Paris.)—Seventeen Spaniards of means, expelled from Lorrach, in Baden, by the German authorities, arrived in Geneva yesterday.

The Germans have expelled also several hundred citizens of neutral states, Swiss, Italians and Hollanders, from Alsace. They have taken them to Wuerttemberg, in Baden, where they will be quarantined for fifteen days before being allowed to return to their respective countries.

SEA LOSSES OF BRITISH.

Killed—348 officers and 5812 men.

Wounded—45 officers and 352 men.

Missing—8 officers and 5 men.

To the list of Mr. Churchill should be added the casualties of the First Royal Naval Division, which participated in the defense of Antwerp, which were:

EXPLAINS BANKS TO CREDIT MEN.

NOT WHOLESALERS OF MONEY, SAYS DELANO.

Head of Federal System Points Out that Gross Assets Bear Only Small Ratio to that of Stockholding Institutions, Although Their Powers are Very Great.

BALTIMORE (Md.) Feb. 16.—In an address before the Baltimore Association of Creditmen tonight Frederic A. Delano, vice-governor of the Federal Reserve Board, explained the Federal reserve act, "from the point of view of the business man."

He said it was evident that in some particulars the true functions of the Federal reserve banks have been misunderstood. Important as they are as the central banks of their districts, they "are not in any sense wholesalers of money to their member banks, who, in turn, dispense or retail it at a profit to their customers."

"Their gross assets," said Mr. Delano, "really bear only a small ratio to that of the aggregate of the stockholding banks, and, while their powers and influences are very great their actual currency issuing power will represent, after all the reserves have been paid in, only some twelve to fifteen per cent. to total loanable funds of banks in the country, national and State."

ACQUIT GERMANS OF PILLAGING.

SURGEONS AND NURSES SAID TO HAVE LOOTED MUSEUM ARE FREED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Feb. 16.—The German surgeons and nurses who were sentenced by the permanent court martial late in November to terms of imprisonment ranging from three years to one month, for alleged pillage at Perrone, September 15, and who appealed from the decision of the court, were given a retrial today and acquitted. The decision of the court was that there was an absence of precise proof of the alleged theft.

When the hospital at Peronne was captured by the French, the bulky nature of the baggage of the German nurses and surgeons aroused the suspicions of the French army officials. A search was ordered and it was alleged that in the baggage of Surgeon-Major Collins, who, with Surgeon-Major Wohlfart, was in charge of the hospital, there were found three Tanagra statuettes with labels of the Peronne museum attached to them. In the baggage of the nurses it was charged that there were pieces of silk carpets and fine linens. The nurses asserted, it was stated, that these things had been given them by the Carmelite sisters in appreciation of their kindness to the French wounded.

Surgeons Collins and Wohlfart each were sentenced to a year's imprisonment. The hospital belonged to the Second German Army Corps.

GERMANS FAIRLY CERTAIN TO SINK NEUTRAL SHIPS.

BERLIN, Feb. 16 (via Sayville.)—The announcement of operations in the waters designated by the German government as a war zone is awaited here with the greatest eagerness, as well as with much curiosity. It appears likely it will be some days after February 18 before any news is received.

Indeed, the Germania, in an article which is reprinted by the Norddeutsche Algemeine Zeitung, says it may be ten or fifteen days before the public is informed on the subject. It warns its readers not to place credence in rumors, but rather to wait for official reports, which will be based on reports from commanders of submarines.

The Germania considers the possibility that neutral ships will be destroyed as "fairly certain," but declares they have had a proper warning. There are no indications as to the tone of the German note in reply to the American representations which may be delivered today. The newspapers give much space to the German victory in East Prussia, whose most pleasing feature, from the Berlin viewpoint, is that it virtually clears the province of hostile forces.

The Dulwich was a vessel of 3289 tons, and was owned by the British Steamship Company.

Hundred Thousand Inquiries for Rates in Chicago.

Better Business Conditions Felt in Middle West.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 16.—As the result of an unexpected number of inquiries for rates, the Union Pacific Railroad, with its connections, has decided to put in service two additional limited passenger trains in each direction between Chicago and San Francisco.

Traffic Director Winchell today announced the new trains would be operated on fast schedules and would be placed in service probably on April 1.

"Up to a few weeks ago," he said, "I was of the opinion that travel to the exposition would not necessitate extra trains, but in the past week or ten days the situation has so changed that we now feel that the movement from the East will exceed all expectations."

In ten days over 100,000 inquiries for rates and other railroad facts connected with the exposition have been received at the different agencies of the Union Pacific.

The change in travel sentiment is attributed to better business conditions.

Iowa Railroads Ask the Governor and Legislature to Add Half Cent to Passenger Rates.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DES MOINES, Feb. 16.—A committee of officials representing six western railroads, and headed by S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago, Great Western Railroad, appeared before Gov. Clarke and committees from the Legislature today, and asked that they be permitted to raise passenger fare rates from 2 to 2½ cents per mile. It was also urged that the State Railroad Commission be given the same jurisdiction over passenger rates that it already has over freight rates.

Gov. Clarke in his reply to the committee assured him that he thought the State would be fair in the matter. The Legislature is expected to consider a bill bearing on the subject.

EMDEN OFFICER GETS IRON CROSS.

BERLIN (via Amsterdam to London) Feb. 16.—Lieutenant-Commander Von Muecke, commander of the detail from the cruiser Emden, which landed at Cocos Island, has been awarded the Iron Cross, first class, while every member of the landing party has received the Iron Cross, second class.

When the Emden was run down by the Australian cruiser Sydney in the Indian Ocean on November 10, Von Muecke and forty members of the crew were on Cocos Island. They escaped by commandeering the schooner Aysha. A later dispatch from Manila said they had captured a collier on which they had mounted two Maxim guns.

The French Ministry of Marine announced on December 18 that the British auxiliary cruiser Empress of Japan had captured the collier. Announcement came from Berlin on February 5, however, that the schooner Aysha had arrived at Hodeida, on the southwest coast of Arabia, with Von Muecke and his men.

FRENCH AUTHORS IN THE TRENCHES.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—Many French authors, poets and dramatists are serving in the army in various capacities. Henry Bernstein, the dramatist, is serving as a gunner at Fort Havre; Marcel Prevost, the poet and author, is a captain of artillery in the entrenched camp of Paris; Etienne Rey, the writer, and Robert de Flers, the playwright, are serving at the front, as also is Reynaldo Hahn, the latter as a simple soldier in the trenches in the Argonne.

Marcel Boulanger, the writer, was taken, half-frozen, from the trenches near Nancy and placed in a hospital. Francois de Tessan, the journalist, and secretary-general of the French commission to the San Francisco exposition, was wounded some time ago, but has recovered and is ready to return to the front.

"For humanitarian reasons, this company finds itself obliged to refuse to consider the contract."

The value of the contract offered to the company was estimated at $450,000.

EXCHANGE MARKETS ABROAD DEMORALIZED.

Sight Drafts on London Sell at Lowest Quotation in a Generation, but Recover Before Call is Closed. Situation Due to Heavy Exports from United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Demoralization in the foreign exchange markets has affected the large financial interests to such an extent in the opinion expressed today by qualified authorities that a meeting of international bankers may soon be called to readjust existing abnormal conditions. Sight drafts on London sold down to 4.79 per pound sterling today, the lowest quotations in a generation, but recovered before the end of the market session.

The drop in exchange was followed by announcement of another small importation of gold—$2,500,000—that amount having been released by the Bank of England from the large sum now to its credit in Ottawa. Exchange between New York and most parts of Continental Europe, while less unsettled than at London, also pointed to acute strain. Francs, lires, reichsmarks were quoted at increased discounts by local dealers, while some of the more conservative banks and banking houses declined to engage in any actual transactions.

The situation is largely the outgrowth of the country's heavy extra exports to Europe, chiefly of war materials. In the first four months of the war, shipments of such supplies aggregated almost $50,000,000, and according to trustworthy accounts they have passed the $100,000,000 mark now. These figures do not include the enormous export of foodstuffs and other commodities, which have gone out in unprecedented volume since the beginning of 1915.

Except in instances where credits had been established here, payment for these exports was made in pounds sterling, francs, marks and other foreign moneys. These bills are now pressing on the exchange market and their extent, coupled with England's refusal to release gold in sufficient quantity to meet demand, have been the primary factors in depreciating rates. The situation has had the effect of putting all foreign gold at a premium.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The State Supreme Court today de fined the duties of a traveler approaching a railway crossing.

"It is the duty," said the court, "of a traveler on a highway approaching a railway crossing to use ordinary care in selecting a place to look and to listen for an approaching train. Such a traveler should when necessary. It is not enough to simply stop for a whistle, or sniff for smoke. He must use all of his faculties."

While traveling from Colton to Riverside on November 24, 1911, in automobile, O. G. Griffen of Los Angeles was struck at a crossing by Salt Lake train. He and his wife, Grace, were injured and their two children were killed.

Griffen had stopped and sniffed for smoke, but the spot he chose did not give him a view of the track, nor did he hear any whistle. The court was of opinion that he had not used sufficient prudence and re versed two judgments for damages, the first of $7500, the second of previously awarded in his favor. Griffen's contributory negli gence was held to have absolved the railroad from responsibility.

FARM INCOMES IN TAX RETURNS.

REVENUE COMMISSIONER MAKES NEW RULING.

No Deduction on Account of Shrinkage in Weight will be Allowed for Products Held for Favorable Markets, Declares Department at Washington.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Income from farm products and crop-share rentals must be included in tax returns of income for the year in which they are sold for money or a money equivalent, according to a decision made public today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn.

When farm products are held for favorable markets, the decision says, no deduction on account of shrinkage in weight or physical value or losses by deterioration will be allowed. Cost of stock purchased for re-sale is an allowable deduction, but that of stock for breeding purposes is regarded as capital invested and not as an allowable deduction, except when such stock dies of disease or is destroyed without reparation by order of State or Federal authorities. Cost of tools may be deducted, but not that of farm machinery.

A "reasonable allowance for depreciation" will be allowed on farm buildings, other than the owner's dwelling, on farm machinery and other physical property.

"A person cultivating or operating a farm for recreation or pleasure on a basis other than the recognized principles of commercial farming, the result of which is a continual loss from year to year," the decision adds, "is not regarded as a farmer. In such cases, if the expenses incurred in connection with the farm are in excess of receipts therefrom, the entire receipts from sale of products may be ignored in rendering a return of income; and the expenses incurred being regarded as personal expenses will not constitute allowable deductions in the return of income derived from other sources."

HOUSE PASSES SHIPPING BILL.

Republicans Gain One Vote on Wilson Gag Rule.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The government ship purchase bill, as an amendment to the Weeks naval auxiliary bill, was passed by the House at 1:20 o'clock this morning, by a vote of 215 to 121.

The passage of the bill followed a fourteen-hour parliamentary struggle, which, until long after midnight, threatened to extend interminably, because of a determined filibuster by Minority Leader Mann, who yielded only after administration leaders decided to apply a second special rule to bring the fight to an end.

When Minority Leader Mann saw that the Democratic leaders were determined to stop the filibuster, several conferences were held and it was agreed not to keep up the dilatory fight and a few minutes after 1 o'clock a vote began on the final passage of the bill.

The bill will go to the Senate at noon today.

All of the Republicans present voted against the bill, and five "Progressives" joined with the Democratic majority for it, as follows: Bryan, Kelly of Pennsylvania, McDonald, Lafferty and Murdock.

Both floor and galleries were crowded as the debate neared a close. Representative Mann made the concluding arguments against the bill, declaring he opposed it because it was unnecessary and liable to involve the United States in international complications.

MANN'S VIEW.

"I believe the President is sincere in his desire to maintain absolute neutrality," said Mr. Mann. "In that respect I stand behind him. I want to keep this country out of war. If we reach the point where we have to fight for our rights we will all fight with equal enthusiasm, but we ought to take no steps that lead to trouble, and this bill may involve foreign difficulties and perhaps war."

Representative Alexander of Missouri closed the debate for the bill with a vigorous defense of President Wilson.

"Let us take it for granted that this bill originated at the White House," he said. "Can you find a better source? There is no man of higher ideals, of more profound learning, of higher statesmanship, than the man in the White House today. It is not becoming; it is undignified; it is contemptible for you Republicans to try to slur him.

"If the Republican leader is right in his statement that he believes the President is sincere in his desire for neutrality, what becomes of all these predictions that this bill will lead to war? Certainly, the President will see to it that no ships are purchased which might involve this country in difficulties."

Cheers came from the Democratic side as Mr. Alexander concluded and called for a vote. The Republicans indicated their intention of demanding roll calls on all amendments, and the first was taken on a change in phraseology. The amendment was carried, 301 to 31.

The tactics of the Republicans threatening to drag out the roll calling indefinitely, the Democratic leaders at midnight brought in a second special rule to limit the number of "yea" and "nay" votes to five.

THE SENATE DEBATE.

Proposals to limit debate in the Senate, either by general or special cloture rules, reversing the customs of more than a century, took the whole time of the Senate debate.

Senator Norris (Republican) thinks he can command enough Democratic votes to pass his resolution limiting any Senator to three hours' talk on any one subject. Senator Cummins spoke for his proposal to deny the right to vote on any measure considered under a cloture rule to any Senator bound by a caucus.

Majority leaders spoke confidently today of the prospect of victory, and President Wilson, after a conference with Senator Kern, told callers the bill would be passed.

On both sides of the Capitol belief was current that if present plans for prompt action in the Senate fell through the ship bill would be abandoned and all efforts centered upon disposing of appropriation bills, to make unnecessary an extra session.

There were evidences of unusual activity on the part of committees in charge of appropriation bills.

The ship bill as it will go to the Senate from the House includes the ship-purchase measure as agreed upon in Senate caucus, and a provision that two years after the close of the European war ships acquired by the United States shall be turned over to the Secretary of the Navy to be operated or leased for commercial purposes under the terms of the Weeks bill, already passed by the Senate.

SMOOT'S NOTICE.

Senator Smoot has given notice that the debate will be continued by the opposition until March 4, unless the Democrats withdraw the measure or some unusual tactics are resorted to by administration forces.

Charges of improper influences exerted with relation to the bill ordered investigated by the Senate yesterday were taken under consideration today by the special Senate committee, and the formal inquiry will begin tomorrow morning.

With Senator Norris, the only Republican voting with them, and Senator La Follette lining up with the Republicans for the first time during the shipping-bill fight, Democrats lost a round in the cloture struggle when the Senate reused 47 to 45 to lay on the table the Cummins amendment to the Norris general cloture rule.

SCOPE OF AMENDMENT.

The amendment would prohibit any Senator bound by caucus agreement from voting on a measure for the passage of which the cloture rule might be invoked. It seems probable tonight that the parliamentary tangle over the various proposals never would be cleared up, and that the whole cloture struggle would be abandoned as soon as the House shipping bill was received.

Today's debate was marked by a sharp interchange between Senators Cummins and Reed. Senator Cummins assailed Democratic caucus action in supporting his amendment, while Senator Reed charged that the agreement between Republicans and insurgent Democrats had all the effect of a caucus.

EXONERATES DIX.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Dist.-Atty. Perkins announced today that he investigated and established as unfounded certain charges made against John A. Dix, former Governor of New York, and others, in connection with the pardon granted by Mr. Dix, when Governor, to Albert T. Patrick, the slayer of William Marsh Rice.

In the charges made last November by George Goodrich it was alleged that the pardon was granted because of a certain mining concession which Mr. Dix was to have obtained.

President of Chicago Supply House Says He was Frequently Charged with Selling to Non-members.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Feb. 16.—C. V. Kellogg, president of a plumbing supply house in Chicago, spent nearly an hour as a witness in the trial of thirty-six master plumbers on charges of violating the Sherman law, in Federal Court here today, detailing the various occasions upon which he had been summoned to "appear" before the Illinois branch of the National Association of Master Plumbers.

He said he had been frequently accused of having sold goods to non-members. Numerous so-called "complaint slips" had been mailed to association members.

W. S. Vercoe, salesman for a Chicago supply house, said he had refused to sell to non-members in towns where local associations existed.

Vercoe declared that his company had once paid an association initiation fee for a plumber in Decorah, Iowa, so they could sell to him.

RHEUMATISM A MYSTERY

Every attack of rheumatism invites another. Worse than that it reduces the body's power so that each attack is worse than the one before.

If any disease needs curing early it is rheumatism, but there is almost no disease which physicians find more difficult to treat successfully. When a medicine does help rheumatism nobody knows how or why it does it.

All authorities agree that the blood becomes thin with alarming rapidity as rheumatism develops. Maintaining the quality of the blood therefore is a reasonable way of preventing and combating rheumatism. That it works out in fact is shown by the beneficial results in the treatment of rheumatism, acute, muscular and articular, with the blood tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

That hundreds who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their rheumatism get well is a fact beyond dispute. That the rheumatism does not return as long as the blood is kept rich and red is equally true.

Stimulus to Mining.

price ranged around $35 a flask of seventy-five pounds, while today it seems to fluctuate between $47.50 and $50. The use of quicksilver in the form of fulminate, containing 75 per cent., and as corrosive sublimate, containing 73.8 per cent., must be extensive, and a further market advance may be expected. With such an advance some revival in quicksilver may be looked for, particularly in California, where many abandoned properties exist."

The speaker demonstrated that although the ore in California was not especially rich, with a large tonnage and close management a successful business could be conducted.

POPULARITY OF BRIQUETTES.

Charles T. Malcolmson of Chicago told of the growing popularity of the briquette, which is made of small coal and coal dust, which formerly was considered waste. In Europe briquetting has been successfully conducted, but in the United States, after many failures, the industry has at last been placed on a good economic basis, and has become a stable adjunct of the coal industry. Briquettes are made in various grades of coal and are held together with a binder of asphalt.

Mr. Malcolmson said that especial success had attended the efforts of the Pacific Coast companies in the use of briquettes.

"They are," he said, sold in competition with the best grades of bituminous coals sold in the Pacific Coast States and Canada. The fact that they are sold in Victoria and other British Columbia cities in competition with high grade bituminous coals produced in Vancouver Island is the best evidence of the superiority of briquettes over coal in the raw state."

OFFICERS ELECTED.

At the business session of the institute the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, William L. Saunders; vice-presidents, Sidney J. Jennings and Phillip N. Moore; directors, S. A. Taylor, Robert W. Hunt, Hennen Jennings, George C. Stone and W. H. Aldridge. The secretary and the treasurer are chosen by the board of directors.

THE POTASH SITUATION.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The prospect of a great scarcity of potash in the United States because of the embargo recently placed upon its exportation by Germany, the source of virtually the entire American supply, was the principal subject of discussion here at the one hundred and tenth annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

Charles H. McDowell, president of the Armour Fertilizer Company of Chicago, said Germany had been supplying this country with about 250,000 tons of potash yearly, costing $10,000,000. Fertilizer and chemical manufacturers have enough on hand to last through the spring on a restricted basis, he said, but should the war continue through next summer, the situation would become acute.

Referring to other possible sources of supply, he said the most promising source was Searles Lake, Cal., where about five tons of potassium chloride a day is being procured from a large dry lake. Potash could be obtained also, he said, as a by-product from sugar beets and raw wool, if the manufacturers handling them would conserve the potash contained in them.

Dr. William D. Phillips, director of the bureau of economic geology and technology of the University of Texas, sent a paper in which he expressed the belief that potash could be obtained in paying quantities at Spur, Tex., and that other western sections of the State showed possibilities.

Arthur Williams, vice-president of the Committee on Safety and Sanitation, said that serious accidents in mines had been reduced 70 per cent. in the last two or three years, due to a wave of safety work which had swept the country.

SLEEK SCHEME IS REVEALED.

Under Guise of Saving Money Progressives Spend It.

Have Their Maws Out for Three Million Dollars.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—The Kilkenny cats are loose again in the Sacramento garage of the State machine. This time it is the Progressives in the Legislature against the State Controller, and the State Board of Control. Like all really little Progressive fights, it is based on an inordinate love of money, with an interesting side attraction over the selection of an "administration goat."

Chairman Neylan of the Board of Control is posing as the Moses leading the State out of the wilderness of financial extravagance. The scrap started last Friday, when, in an official statement, he assigned to the Legislature the role of "wilderness." The State Controller is going to be the financial lightning, and he is using the Legislature as the dark sky of his background.

The 1913 Legislature sacrificed itself by playing these roles, in order to make for the administration a Roman holiday. But 1915 was ushered in with his hand on the hilt of his saber, and the Legislature is catching the spirit.

Last Friday the State Controller issued a statement to the effect that the Legislature had asked the State for $63,000,000, that the estimated revenue for the next two years is but $32,000,000 and that the Controller and Board of Control are preparing to wrest from the Legislature that extra $30,000,000 it has asked for and restore it to the people.

Each Progressive paper received a column of this statement by mail, and even the Associated Press received a half-column of it. Now, it so happens that a number of those Progressive papers are owned by members of the Legislature.

Saturday afternoon the Controller and the head of the Board of Control received an invitation to attend a conference of Progressive legislators during the present week, accompanied by the suggestion that each bring that statement along for his lunch.

This play was staged two years ago by the administration. The Legislature stood for it and only one-tenth of its members were re-elected. Then the administration drowned all murmurs about increased appropriation bills actually passed by firing salvos over cutting $40,000,000 from the bills introduced in the Legislature. The people were so dazzled by that $40,000,000 stage money that they wholly overlooked an increase of $4,000,000 in real money that was noiselessly slipped through.

A rise of $3,000,000 above the high water mark of 1913 is contemplated this year and that $30,000,000 of stage money has been printed to divert the eyes of the populace until the actual flood subsides. But to do this the Progressive leaders in both Houses must be sacrificed. Some are proving most unwilling victims.

Juggling with figures and issuing a misleading report are among the milder charges made. A counter statement has been prepared by Progressives themselves which places the appropriations asked for at $25,000,000 a year exclusive of duplicates in place of $63,000,000 for two years, and there is a codicil to the effect that more than $20,000,000 of this is in the form of bills prepared by the State Board of Control, handed to the Progressive leaders by Neyland in person and introduced because, "the Governor says this is O.K."

One of the Progressive bosses came here Saturday evening from San Francisco—not a legislator, but one of the men who collects the money to make the campaigns at which "Progressive" legislators are "chosen by the will of the people." He wanted to know something about that $63,000,000 statement.

"Neylan and McCabe can draw as many red herrings as they want across their trail," he asserted Sunday morning in the Sacramento Hotel lobby, "so long as they don't use my boys for the herring. But this thing isn't a square deal. They will fix that thing up before the next session, or the San Francisco and Oakland delegations will wash some 'Progressive' soiled linen right out on the Capitol front lawn."

"There has to be some honor—even among politicians. Our boys all followed orders and sat tight on appropriation bills. What Neylan and McCabe asked for themselves was enough, God knows! Look at that public school business. One bill makes the rate per child $13 a year. Neylan and McCabe lump that and say the Legislature is asking for $56 per pupil a year.

"One bill asks for $200,000. Another for $300,000, and one for $400,000 for the same flood control district. They lump that and say the Legislature wants $900,000. That sort of thing is attempted sometimes by opposition papers, but when it comes in a statement printed and sent out broadcast by the State Controller and Board of Control, it's unrighteous!"

And that term "unrighteous," when used by a machine boss, expresses the most profound depths of infamy. To him, stealing and grafting—at times manslaughter—are attributes of political acumen.

"There will be some paring and copping," he added, "when the boys get back, all right; and, if this thing isn't fixed up it will be a few of Neylan's and McCabe's pets in the State institutions who will feel the ax."

Of course the trouble is over getting some one to play the role of villain, to pose as the awful example. Plays and romances have been written without a hero, but never one yet without a villain. A careful examination of the bills shows that the appropriations actually sought are about $25,000,000 a year and that $20,000,000 of this comes direct from the Governor's office.

There has been so much scandal during the last two years over the waste of State funds that the new Legislators all held back on appropriation bills. It is a very palpable attempt of the administration to get away with $3,000,000 by hallooing about saving $30,000,000.

Fruitvale Citizens are Aroused Over the Murder of Jacob Vogel and His Wife.

OAKLAND, Feb. 16.—A call for a mass meeting to formulate plans for a vigilance committee in Fruitvale, a suburb, where Jacob Vogel and his wife were murdered February 11, was the sole development in the search for the slayers today.

An attempt was made early today to murder Thomas Combs, a Fruitvale grocer, by similar methods to those employed in the Vogel case.

BOSTON, Feb. 16.—The proposed woman suffrage amendment to the State Constitution was passed by the House today by a vote of 196 to 33. It will be acted on by the voters at the election next November, having already passed the Senate. As soon as the result in the House was announced a shower of jonquils thrown by women in the galleries fell among the legislators.

STATE PRISONS ARE CROWDE

Probation to First Offend Suggested as Remedy.

Segregation from Harde Criminals Impossible.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.— in California courts are being by members of the State Board Prison Directors to extend prob to first offenders in every case there appears to be a chance of mation. Crowded conditions in State prisoners which make it cult to house the steady stream coming criminals and make it sible to handle the less hardened in such a way that there is a for them to retain their self- have made this action necess At least three members of the on board, C. E. McLaughlin ramento, Charles L. Neu Stockton and Charles Sonntag Francisco have agreed that the uation can best be met by judges to grant first offenders chance, whenever deemed Judges already have been in the matter.

"I consider the probation the greatest forward step in the ministration of criminal law past twenty years," said Prison rector C. F. Miller today. "I is any good in a man who has the restrictions imposed by the who places him in probation withholds commitment to a will bring it out.

"Some sections of the State be accused of over-liberality in ing probation. Sacramento these. ## Retaliation in Order.

Germans are said to have suffered severe losses, and that the British artillery has shown marked superiority over that of the Germans.

There was no further news today of the new German offensive in Alsace, which is designed to stop the French advance toward Muelhausen or of the French offensive in the vicinity of St. Mihiel, which it is said threatens the communications between that town and Metz.

The relations between Greece and Turkey apparently are becoming more strained. Although Turkey has offered reparation for the insult to the Greek military attache at Constantinople, it is reported that the Greek minister has left the Legation in charge of a secretary, being dissatisfied with Turkey's attitude. The Turkish Minister also has left Athens. This is believed in some quarters to be the first step in the rupture of diplomatic relations between Greece and Turkey, which are said also to have been affected by the Albanian invasion of Serbia.

The British Parliament will debate tomorrow the motion of the Labor party, calling on the government to fix maximum prices for food.

DRY MEASURE TOO SEVERE.

PROHIBITION BILL KILLED IN ARIZONA HOUSE.

Proposed Enactment Extending the Right of Search and Classing Beverage with One-half of One Per Cent. as Liquor is Regarded as Unnecessary.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 16.—The House of the Arizona Legislature today defeated the Powers bill for the drastic enforcement of the new prohibition measure, by a vote of 18 to 16. A similar measure in the Senate has not yet come to a vote.

The severity of some provisions of the Powers bill was deemed by its sponsors to be responsible for its defeat. It provided that all beverages containing one-half of 1 per cent. of alcohol should be considered liquor, and included all liquids which would produce intoxication. It put a ban on clubs and extended the right of search.

The prohibition law, however, has already been interpreted by the Supreme Court in a test case, so that its enforcement is not dependent upon legislative construction of its terms.

"WET" SPEAKER WINS IN ILLINOIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Feb. 16.—David E. Shanahan, for many years a member of the Illinois Legislature, was elected speaker of the lower house here today after a deadlock lasting six weeks

Shanahan, in accepting the honor, said he did so partly because he was told on all sides that the deadlock would become a scandal if it lasted any longer.

As to the conflict between the "wet" and "dry" forces, to which the deadlock was in part attributed, he expressed desire to see the issue fought out on the floor of the Assembly. Shanahan is an avowed "wet" and represents a Chicago district including the Union Stockyards.

F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League, issued a statement criticising the combination of Democrats and Republicans which elected Shanahan, who is a Republican.

Shanahan was elected on the sixty-eighth ballot.

He received eighty votes, three more than necessary to elect. In a speech upon the floor of the House last week he declared that 90 per cent. of the vote in his district (the Chicago stockyards district) was wet and that he was forced to vote with the wets.

OREGON ENACTS PROHIBITION LAW.

BILL GOES THROUGH THE HOUSE AND SENATE BY LARGE MAJORITIES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SALEM (Or.) Feb. 16.—The prohibition bill passed the Senate today by a vote of 29 to 1, being adopted substantially as it came from the House. A disputed clause limiting to a fixed amount the alcoholic beverages that may be purchased outside Oregon by a family, regardless of the number of adult members in the family, was retained.

The bill, which regulates the use of alcohol and alcoholic drinks, was passed in conformity with the constitutional amendment adopted at the last general election. It prohibits the sale or manufacture of intoxicants within the State, although limited quantities of alcoholic beverages may be shipped in. The sale of pure alcohol is regulated.

Immediately after the Senate passed the bill the House concurred in the Senate's amendments, with only one negative vote.

JITNEY BUSSES KILL AND MAIM.

SAN FRANCISCO APPALLED AT GROWING EVIL.

Increase of 450 in One Week will Bring Number of Pests up to the Two-thousand Mark One Week After Opening of the Exposition. Seattle Also in It.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Figures given out today by the police bureau of licenses and permits show that there are now in operation in San Francisco 1525 5-cent fare automobiles, an increase of 450 in one week.

Reckoning from the weekly increases as shown by the bureau reports, the number of these machines bids fair to over-reach the 2000 mark one week after the opening of the exposition.

The rapid increase in congestion of street traffic since the advent of 5-cent motor busses shows almost daily in the growing list of accidents. Two persons died today from injuries received last night when they were run down by trolley cars. Four persons are suffering from hurts inflicted by motor busses.

Mrs. Margaret Strand and Robert Bragg are dead.

Glenn Rogers has four broken ribs and internal injuries.

Percy Roulon had two ribs and his left knee broken.

Both are in a critical condition.

PROBLEM IN SEATTLE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 16.—The Puget Sound Traction, Light and Power Company, operating street cars in Seattle, estimates from January business that it will carry 20,736,000 fewer passengers in 1915 than it hauled in 1914, the falling off being due to the competition of 5-cent motor busses. The company is considering placing stub cars on the outer portion of the suburban lines, running cars at infrequent intervals and transferring the passengers to downtown cars. The motor cars do not compete for the long haul. The City Council License Committee will conduct a public hearing on motor bus regulations next Friday night. The committee favors a small license fee, uniformity of route, lights in the tonneau, and no loud soliciting of passengers.

CONFIDENCE IN HIS MEN.

WESTERN RAILROAD MANAGER KNOWS HIS EMPLOYEES.

General Manager Trenholm Declares Extra Pay for Overtime Would be no Temptation to Slow up on Their Work—Favors Standardization of Hours and Pay.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Not a man on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad would slow down on his work if the railroads allowed time and a half pay for overtime, A. W. Trenholm, general manager of the road, testified today in the wage arbitration between western railroads and their enginemen.

"I know the men on my road," Trenholm said. "I've brought up most of them through thirty-five years." On some roads, he said, he thought the extra pay for overtime might be a temptation.

Mr. Trenholm is chairman of the Committee of General Managers which has been working on the wage question for more than a year, and is the chief of witnesses for the employers. As he proposes to discuss in detail each of the sixteen demands made by the men, he will be on the stand a week or more.

The first demand concerns a day's work. In passenger service the demand names five hours or 100 miles; in freight ten hours or 100 miles. Overtime to be paid for pro-rata.

The witness said that standardization of hours and pay were ideals to be desired, but that the task was one of monumental proportions.

Under the demands made by the men, he said that an engineer who started out on a freight run and had gone perhaps ten miles when called upon to leave that train and haul in a disabled passenger train, would have to be paid a full day as a freight engineer and another full day as a passenger engineer.

Ardmore Heights is Los Angeles' finest "view-property." Overlooking the rapidly developing Normal School district. Ardmore Heights is on high ground—but is not "hill property." All street work is paid for and dedicated to the city.

10 Magnificent Homesites to be Auctioned!

Saturday, Feb. 20th, at 2 P. M.

The syndicate which owns beautiful Ardmore Heights, the finest "view-property" in the City of Los Angeles, must raise money at once to meet certain obligations. Ten representative lots on this magnificent eminence must go under the auctioneer's hammer for what they'll bring. It is perhaps the first time in the history of this city that residential property of this unusual type has been offered at auction sale.

Ardmore Heights is "close-in" property—22 minutes' ride via yellow car lines from 7th and Grand—12 to 15 minutes' ride by automobile. The property is within the official four-mile circle from the city's center of population. Real Estate authorities agree that the view of the city, mountains and ocean from Ardmore Heights surpasses that of any other eminence within the city limits. The artist's sketch in this announcement gives only a slight suggestion of the all-encompassing panorama visible from Ardmore Heights. This is the type of property controlled and occupied by the wealthier people of Southern California. If 10 lots in some low-lying, far-out, unimproved section, with low restrictions, were being offered at auction, small interest might be manifested by investors and homeseekers. Residential property in Ardmore Heights is among the very best Los Angeles affords.

The lots offered at auction are not in a group, but are representative lots in various parts of the subdivision. All improvements and street work are in and paid for and have been dedicated to the city. The adjoining subdivisions are highly developed. The view from Ardmore Heights would inspire the most pessimistic individual alive. The regular prices of the 10 lots that will be offered at auction range from $1325 to $2500—but Saturday you can buy them at your own price—terms one-fifth cash, balance in 6, 12, 18 and 24 months. We urge you to visit this property prior to the auction. We will be glad to take you but via auto without any obligation on your part even to attend the sale. No matter where you may have intended to locate or invest—no matter what you may think of this method of securing money to cover immediate obligations—don't fail to attend this auction sale. It will be the first opportunity you've had in Los Angeles to buy property of this exclusive type,at your own price.

Erdmann of the German cruiser Bluecher, who was among those rescued during the battle between British and German squadrons in the North Sea, January 25, died here tonight from pneumonia. His illness was due to exposure suffered when the Bluecher was sunk.

AMERICANS SAVE THE MOST LIVES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The American ambulance hospital in Paris has obtained a record for saving the lives of more than 92 per cent. of patients received, a record that "has probably never been equaled in a surgical military hospital," according to a report today to the American committee on the institution. The report was made by Lawrence V. Benet, a member of the Executive Committee of the hospital, who has just arrived here from the French capital.

The hospital receives only the most difficult cases, said Mr. Benet.

STUBBORN BATTLE NEAR AUGUSTOWO.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 16.—The following official statement from the General Staff of the Russian commander-in-chief was made public tonight:

"In the region of Augustowo (Northern Poland) our troops on February 15 stubbornly fought numerically superior German forces who were attempting to envelope both our wings.

"Between the Vistula and Wkra River the enemy has reached the front of Plock-Pacionz.

"On the Bzura we have repulsed attacks of little spirit by the Germans near the Zylin farm. On the other positions on the left bank of the Vistula there has been only cannonading.

"In the Carpathians the situation is virtually unchanged. Our troops have made progress on the left bank of the Upper San. We captured several officers and 600 soldiers. We also repulsed successfully stubborn German attacks near Yosiuwka and Wyszkow.

"In Bukowina the enemy has captured Nadworna, across the Sereth River."

BANDIT TO PLEAD GUILTY.

Harry Brewer, Held for Bingham (Utah) Crime, Says He Has Made Study of Safe Robbing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Feb. 16.—Harry Brewer, who has been returned to Salt Lake City after having been arrested at Memphis, Tenn., a few days ago for the murder of Eugene Allen at Bingham, Utah, last April, has admitted his guilt to Sheriff Corless and others, and says he will plead guilty in court. Brewer says he shot Allen to escape after robbing a store at Bingham.

The evidence at the time of the crime indicated that Allen lost his life defending the money in the store safe. Brewer, who is now about 23 years old, says he has made a study of safe robbing since he was 16. He says he committed many robberies after he escaped from Utah.

SUGGESTION TO THE LADIES

Pass a Good Thing Along; All Classes Need It.

In this age of progress there is always something better being produced every day. The old-style patterns were very good until an improved process for transferring them was invented, consequently the woman of means needs it, because she enjoys the experience of creating something bautiful or useful with her own hands, and because nothing can take the place of dainty hand-embroidered fabrics.

The woman of lesser means prizes it because it is the means of supplying better things for herself and children to wear at a trifling expense. The woman of moderate income can, by the use of the Imperial Pattern Outfit, wear just as pretty things as her more fortunate sister.

The widespread popularity of the distribution of the Imperial Pattern Outfit by The Times is noteworthy, as no offer ever made by this paper has attracted the attention of so many of our best women readers. Our offer to supply 160 of the very best-approved and latest embroidery patterns, which can easily and clearly be transferred from three to five times, a booklet of instructions and an all-metal hoop for one coupon and 68 cents (or if to be mailed 7 cents extra,) has met with an unprecedented response from both city and country readers. The fact that one single embroidery pattern costs 10 cents has made the bargain feature apparent to all.

There being only a few days left for the distribution of this wonderful outfit, we urge our women readers who have not taken advantage of our offer to lose no time in clipping the necessary coupon, with the lace border, printed elsewhere in The Times daily, and getting it to this office, as this liberal offer will positively be withdrawn Saturday, February 27.

Modern Wonderland.

thousands of visitors who will gain their first glimpse of the interior of this wonderland on next Saturday.

GIGANTIC TASK.

It has not been a light task, this of systematizing the installation of these tens of thousands of exhibits. Under the system that has been evolved a crate of ware from Tokio, for instance, is labeled under a uniform shipping tag supplied all exhibitors. This tag, in addition to the city of destination, has on it the name of the particular exhibit palace at the exposition for which it is intended. Freight steamers dock directly at the exposition grounds. The transcontinental railroads send their cars on floats to the exposition docks and from there they are hauled directly to and into the exhibit palace for which the particular freight is consigned. In the Machinery Palace the detail of placement is carried to the finest extreme. There are three portable cranes operating the length of the three longitudinal naves of this palace. The heaviest article of machinery—and there are some mammoth exhibits in this palace—is lifted from the flat car that brought it across the continent and deposited on the foundation on which it will rest during the exposition's period.

ALL PROBLEMS SOLVED.

The traffic department has not been without its problems. From the safe custody and transference of three grains of radium, swathed in protecting coverings and guarded as jealously as the issue of a king, to the handling of the 1500-ton exhibit of the United States Steel Corporation, the details have run the scale of the multifarious articles of art, industry, commerce and general human activity. Eucalyptus trees 100 feet in height and a foot thick at the base, palms from Cuba and South America with a twenty-four-foot spread and a four-foot base, orchids from the Philippines, from Australia and The Netherlands, works of fine art by world masters, ceramics from Italy and porcelains from Austria and Satsuma and faience from Japan, perishable and imperishable, breakable and unbreakable, live beavers from Idaho and stuffed elk from Canada, big and little articles of dress and fabrications beyond price, all have had their day with the elaborate organization in charge of traffic.

They all came jumbling and tumbling through the great arteries of transportation that led to the exposition grounds, but they went their separate ways through the finer capillaries until the minutest corpuscle was distributed to the smallest cell waiting for it.

The total weight in exhibits handled by the traffic department is 80,000 tons. This hardly conveys an adequite idea of the immensity of the exhibit scope, although speaking roughly, it would approximate a ton for each exhibitor. The gross of tonnage measurement is 500,000 tons. The number of individual packages, bales, crates and boxes handled runs so far over 1,000,000 that additional figures would lend little emphasis.

PLUGGING UP HOLES.

With four days yet to go, these four regiments of men at work day and night will plug up what holes still may gap on the floor areas. Exclusive of the exhibits in the State and national pavilions, there are 3,000,000 square feet of exhibit area in the eleven main exhibit palaces. Outside of the five acres of floor space in the Palace of Horticulture, there are nine acres of gardens for competitive display purposes.

The exposition guards have already been established here to keep careful watch over growing rose bushes that have been entered by famous growers of the world in competition for the $1000 prize for the best rose, hitherto unnamed and never before exhibited, which can be produced. This rose, when the award is made, will be given a name that will pertain to the exposition, thus perpetuating the name and the glory of the exposition through the medium of a lovely bloom.

Of the 4000 workingmen about 1000 are putting the final touches on the edifices of the amusement zone. There are 100 concessions represented along both sides of the 3000-foot avenue that traverses the center of the zone. Selected from over 7000 applicants for space here, the concessionaires who were fortunate enough to secure permits to operate were compelled to make a financial showing, as well as a showing that they were able to provide something distinctly new in the way of amusement or instruction. Consequently there has been no lagging behind the rest of the exposition for lack of funds and the same high pressure of activity is in evidence here that characterizes the main exhibit palaces, the livestock section and the area devoted to the pavilions of States and nations.

France is establishing a record with her pavilion, which is a replica of the Palace of the Legion of Honor. The plans were drawn in three days, establishing a record for the exposition's drafting bureau, and work has been rushed on the building with three shifts so that it may present its completed facade with the other pavilions along the Avenue of the Nations when the gates open on next Saturday.

THE STATE BUILDINGS.

Forty-three States of the United States are participating at the exposition, all of them with extensive displays of industries and resources, the majority of them by the construction of handsome State buildings for entertainment purposes and to serve as headquarters for the people from "home."

Today these buildings are completed and awaiting the opening of the exposition gates on February 20. The exhibits of the States are in place, distributed among the eleven great exhibit palaces, and in the outdoor exhibit spaces of the horticultural gardens, where roses from Indiana and New Jersey will be entered for the $1000 competition for the best new variety of rose. All of the multiform activities and industries of the States of the nation will be shown, from cigars of Key West to shingles from Washington, oranges from Southern California and granite from Maine.

About $7,000,000 has been appropriated by the participating States, California leading off with approximately $2,000,000, and New York second with $1,000,000, for the State and city. To California belongs the credit for the largest building aside from the main exhibit palaces, and New York is second in size among the States. Within the California building are exhibits from the fifty-eight counties of California arranged individually and by groups. The California building, in old mission style of architecture, will be the "host building" of the exposition. It covers seven acres, including courts.

WASHINGTON'S HOME.

The New York building is four stories in height, with a frontage of 250 feet and 100-foot depth. On the ground floor is a magnificent ballroom, writing and reception rooms. A suite of rooms for the Governor of New York and for members of the State Commission will be on the second floor, while the third floor will be devoted to guest rooms. A dining-room is a feature of the building, a complete cuisine being maintained. The ceiling of this dining-room cost $15,000.

Pennsylvania, Illinois and the Philippines are represented by edifices in keeping with the $300,000 appropriations made by each. Massachusetts appropriated $250,000, New Jersey, $200,000,; Washington, $175,000, and there were numerous other appropriations maintaining an average of from $50,000 to $150,000.

Among the State buildings are reproduced many edifices of large importance in American history. First among these comes the Virginia building, an exact replica of George Washington's home at Mt. Vernon. Included are the spinning room, the detached kitchen, the servants' quarters and the stable. The rooms of the building are ornamented by Washington's own furniture, loaned from the collection of Miss Nannie Randolph Heath of Virginia. Miss Heath is to be Virginia's official hostess at the building during the exposition.

INDEPENDENCE HALL.

A fitting companion to Virginia's State Building is Independence Hall, the State pavilion of Pennsylvania. The "birthplace of American liberty" is in the same degree of verisimilitude as is the reproduction of Mt. Vernon. Here, it is expected, will hang the famous Liberty bell.

Another structure of revolutionary associations will be Trenton Barracks, which, for a time, were Gen. Washington's headquarters. This is the model which New Jersey has taken for her exposition home. President Wilson will make this building his home at the exposition and history will thus repeat itself by making the structure for the second time the shelter of the directing head of the republic. The Trenton Barracks, reproduced here, are said by architects to represent one of the best examples extant of true pre-Revolutionary architecture.

The home of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence will serve as the model for Maryland's pavilion. This is the home of Charles G. Carroll of Carrollton. The bricks for the original were brought to this country from England.

Massachusetts and Ohio have built likenesses of their respective State houses at Boston and Columbus. The Massachusetts building is famous architecturally, as well as historically, its facade being known as the "Bullfinch front," from the architect who originally designed it.

PARTHENON IN WOOD.

A departure from the American historic has been made by Oregon. Utilizing the native woods of that State, Oregon has rebuilt the Parthenon, great logs being used for the marble columns of the original. So far as possible the pillars are each of different wood, one for each State in the Union. The Washington and Indiana buildings have also been constructed of native woods.

Elaborate ceremonies have marked the various stages of the work in the State section. Governors of States have journeyed with their retinues to San Francisco, commissioners have established headquarters there, and there have been banquets and festal occasions without number, all serving to increase the bonds of interstate fellowship.

A feature of Idaho's building will be moving pictures showing the scenery and resources of that commonwealth.

Hawaii and the Philippines have made elaborate exhibits. The Hawaiian Building is in the form of a cross. Passing through a tropical garden the visitor comes to the rotunda, in the center of which is a faithful and realistic reproduction of one of the lakes of the burning crater of Kilauea. An aquarium will be an interesting feature, showing the rainbow-colored fishes of the warm waters of the Hawaiian Islands. The Philippines exhibit will be equally vivid and engrossing, one detail being a garden with 400 different varieties of orchids in bloom.

The following are the States and territories participating: Arizona, Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Delaware, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Idaho, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Philippines, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Texas, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Washington and Wyoming.

TO CUT FREIGHT RATES.

Reductions of One-Half Asked by Railroads on Account of Competition of the Panama Canal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Reductions cutting in half the through rates between San Francisco and New York via New Orleans, thence by water, on beans and canned goods, were asked today by the Southern Pacific Railroad of the Interstate Commerce Commission in a hearing before Henry Thurtell, an examiner of the commission. Attorneys for the railroad also asked that the rates between the same points on asphaltum and barley be cut nearly in half.

Competition by sea through the Panama Canal is the plea put forward by the representatives of the Southern Pacific, which asks for permission to put in a flat rate of 40 cents per hundred pounds in car lots on the commodities named.

The present rate on beans and canned goods is 85 cents per hundred pounds; on asphaltum and barley, 60 and 70 cents, respectively. Sacramento and Fresno interests intervened in the argument against the proposed decrease on the grounds that the rate between those points and New York over the same route would be higher than between San Francisco and New York.

TRADE OPPORTUNITY.

James A. Farrell Declares American Industry Should Grasp What War Has Given Us.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The European war has opened opportunities to American industry which it should not fail to grasp, declared James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, in an address at the annual dinner of the Newark Board of Trade tonight.

"One week of the European war," said the speaker, "did more than ten years of academic discussion to convince this country that the foreign trade is an element in our domestic prosperity. It is only since the war began that a truly national sentiment for a comprehensive and effective foreign trade policy has been discovered.

"The future of our foreign trade largely depends on the participation of an increasing number of industries. The war congested our trade, but this has been partially restored by steps that have been taken to register ships; the government war risk insurance; the co-operation of government banks and business interests; the establishment of the rediscount market, and the establishment of American branch banks in South America."

DISPUTE OVER WAR ZO COMES TO STANDS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Officials of the United States government made no further move today in the diplomatic controversy with Great Britain and Germany over the use of neutral flags, the submarine campaign on merchantmen, and the shipment of foodstuffs to Germany. They awaited formal replies from Great Britain and Germany to the recent American notes on the subject.

In such dispatches as Ambassador Page at London and Ambassador Gerard sent to the State Department telling of their informal conferences with the high officials of Great Britain and Germany, respectively, there was no indication that the former intended to alter its policy on shipments of conditional contraband to civilians or that the latter would recede from its announced intention of waging a submarine war on enemy merchant ships.

CORTEZ (Colo.) Feb. 16.—A posse under command of United States Marshal Aquila Nebeker of Salt Lake City will start tomorrow for Bluff, Utah, in an effort to arrest a Piute Indian outlaw named Hatch, charged with the murder of Juan Chacon, a Mexican, on the Ute reservation last March.

Reports reaching here were that Hatch had gathered a band of fifty Indians and was armed and prepared to resist arrest. The posse will be heavily armed and ready for a battle with the outlaws.

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 16.—The Rev. L. J. King of Toledo, O., was driven from the platform at a meeting he had called here tonight when he attempted to make an anti-Catholic address. A bombardment of eggs, which caused him to leave the platform, was continued in the street as policemen escorted him away from the meeting place. George Holley, one of his assistants, was arrested when he attempted to continue the meeting contrary to police orders.

INFECTED CATTLE SOLD.

Gov. Glynn's Commission Says Diseased Meat is Disposed of to People of New York.

ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 16.—A large number of diseased cattle are slaughtered and their meat is sold in New York State, it was alleged today in the report of a commission appointed by former Gov. Glynn to investigate bovine tuberculosis. This condition, the report says, is due to the fact that there is no State inspection of meat.

The commission declared it believed "that a certain amount of cattle affected with tuberculosis is annually slaughtered and made up into sausage or sausage meat which may be eaten raw and thus certain to be a cause of tuberculosis in man."

Commissioner of Agriculture Huson said today "it is possible that large numbers of cattle that have generalized tuberculosis have been killed and their meat sold. A rigid meat inspection would prevent such food reaching the people."

FLOOD CONTROL PROJECT.

Suit to Condemn Six Hundred Acres in the Sacramento Valley Has Been Commenced.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Suit to condemn 600 acres of land in the Sacramento Valley, adjoining Rio Vista, Solano county, was begun here today in the United States District Court. The government and the State are cooperating in a project looking to the control of floods, toward which each appropriated $400,000. Lands owned by the Dozier-Pressley Company are essential to working out the surveys, and the government alleges that the owners are asking an exorbitant price.

PURCHASERS OF AND PROSPECTS FOR PACKARD, Chalmers and Grant cars constantly pass through our appraisement department a tremendous number of used cars. Due to the large volume of our business a constant stream of good, bad and indifferent cars are constantly imported by us.

We are therefore enabled to pick from the great mass offered a few carefully selected, almost new, used cars, some of which we have bought outright and some of which we have traded in at prices almost incredible. We therefore are in a position to offer you a few choice cars, all refinished and guaranteed. Our selections, for QUALITY and PRICE, cannot be equaled in the city.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION—

THE ART OF SINGING—
Singing is a natural impulse in mankind, and has become an adjunct of all that is best in modern life.

Voice culture is an asset which cannot be valued in dollars and cents. From a health standpoint alone it is a necessity. The deep breathing that singing demands makes red blood, quiets the nerves, and gives correct poise to the body. It will compel you to sing more beautifully, therefore enable you to take your place as a vocal artist.

We recommend our singers to good positions when they are qualified. We also give sight singing, ear training, public school music and piano.

Call any afternoon and let us see what may be done for you.

An interview will cost you nothing, and it may mean much to you.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3d day of February, 1915.

[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies in its issue. Neither does it misbrand or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper.

TAKING A REST.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, Feb. 16.—H. U. Mudge, president of the Rock Island system, with Mrs. Mudge and family, are in Colton on their annual visit with Mrs. Mudge's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Morris. They will remain here for a couple of weeks, their visit having been timed so as to aid Capt. Morris in celebrating his ninety-second birthday on February 22, the venerable gentleman all his life having been extremely proud of the fact that he was born on Washington's natal day.

Hang?

LOMAX DEFENSE IS SOMEWHAT SHATTERED.

Witnesses All Saw Weapon in Hands of Jeweler Who Shot ex-Employee, but that is All—Widow of Slain Man Tells Her Tragic Story in Few Words.

The defense in the trial of R. E. Lomax in Judge Craig's court on a charge of murdering A. B. Shaw, was hit several hard blows by the prosecution yesterday. A number of witnesses testified they saw a smoking revolver in Lomax's hand after he had shot Mr. Shaw in the back, but not one of them saw the alleged "second gun" which the defense is pinning so much faith on.

Mrs. Shaw, widow and mother of four babes, was called as the first witness by the people. Her story follows:

"My name is Wekthie A. Shaw. I last saw him alive at 7:30 o'clock on the morning of July 15, 1914. He went to Mr. Lomax's store. When next I saw him he was dead."

On cross-examination, attorneys for the defense asked Mrs. Shaw if she had been intimidated by any one connected with the defense. Deputy District Attorney Shannon objected, and Judge Craig held that no questions could be asked Mrs. Shaw about the alleged intimidation. Mrs. Shaw declared yesterday that strange men had been seen and heard prowling about her home at No. 3450 Dayton avenue since the killing. Detectives are investigating.

Charles Tarbell testified that he is an optician and was employed in Lomax's store on the day of the killing. He heard a shot, he said, and rushing into the outer office he saw Lomax calmly put a gun in his hip pocket, walk behind the counter, put his hat on and announce in a clear voice: "I will be back in a minute." He has been lodged in the County Jail since, and if the prosecution has its way he will either hang or pass the remainder of his days in the State penitentiary.

Several other witnesses gave testimony along this line.

Latest Method.

BIG CLEAN-UP IS "DOCTOR'S."

HE LOOTS A HOME OF JEWELS AND MONEY.

Well-dressed Man with Auto Who Poses as Physician Works Clever Ruse in Glendale and Secures Two Thousand Dollars in Gems—Overlooks Much Wealth.

A young man who said that he was a physician called at a house on Everett street in Glendale last Friday afternoon and inquired the way to the home of Mrs. Henry Johnston. He was directed to No. 335 Everett street and it was noted by the neighbors that he did not ring the front-door bell; instead he went to the rear of the house.

A short time later the young man was seen leaving the front door. He stopped for a moment on the porch, lifted his hat and said good-by, then went to the curb, where a black two-passenger automobile stood with the engine running, and drove toward Los Angeles.

All this is remembered with startling distinctness at this time by the neighbors, and a good description of the young man is in the hands of the police, who are trying to trace about $2000 in jewels and $400 in cash that was taken from the Johnston home by the well-dressed youth who entered the house while the Johnston family was away by the simple method of removing a pane of glass from a rear window and unlocking the kitchen door.

Once in the house the burglar went to the room occupied by Mrs. Johnston, whose husband is a retired optical dealer of Rockford, Ill., and proceeded to ransack the room. Here he found a valuable collection of jewels, which included a number of unset diamonds and a string of gold nuggets, two diamond rings, a cameo brooch, a collection of gold coins gathered during the European travels of Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, and several rings owned by Arthur W. Johnston, a nephew.

The burglar next went into Mr. Johnston's room and secured a number of loose nuggets and more gold coins. All of these were placed in the small black bag carried by the young man.

The burglary was not discovered until yesterday, when Mr. and Mrs. Johnston returned from a visit to friends. Then an inventory was taken, which revealed that the burglar had overlooked $4000 worth of unset diamonds which were concealed in the drawer of a sewing machine, as well as $400 in cash which reposed in the dressing case used by Mr. Johnston.

A Hint for Coming Maternity

In a little book designed for expectant mothers more complete instruction is given in the use of "Mother's Friend." This is an external embrocation applied to the abdominal muscles for the purpose of reducing the strain on ligaments, cords and tendons.
It serves to ease the mind, indirectly has a most beneficial effect upon the nervous system and thousands of women have delightedly told how they were free of nausea, had no morning sickness and went through the ordeal with most remarkable success. "Mother's Friend" has been growing in popular favor for more than forty years. In almost every community are grandmothers who used it themselves, their daughters have used it and they certainly must know what a blessing it is when they recommend it so warmly. It is used very successfully to prevent caking of breasts.
"Mother's Friend" has been prepared in the laboratory of Bradfield Regulator Co., 304 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for more than two generations and can be had of almost any druggist from coast to coast.
Write to-day for the little book.

MISS THEIR GUESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HEBER, Feb. 16.—The most ambitious safe-cracking job in the history of the valley was discovered here yesterday morning by employees of Varney Bros. store. Cracksmen had soaped the cracks of the larger of two safes, poured the "soup" and blown the doors open. The noise was deadened by wet blankets and a mattress. No money was obtained. They would have been rewarded had they selected the smaller safe, which contained the firm's money on hand. Sheriff Meadows says the work is that of accomplished professionals.

It's about time they were given to understand that this does not have any weight when the question of justice comes in. He said he wouldn't retract anything he had said about the veterans and the alleged "influence" at the former meeting.

Chairman Pridham then said a few words, when Norton butted in, taking exception to the chairman's reference to the "shameful action."

LITTLE TILT.

"Please give me a chance to be heard, Mr. Norton," said Mr. Pridham. Mr. Norton interrupted him a moment later.

"You behave yourself, Norton," said the chairman, as he locked glances with the Mt. Lassen of the board.

"Oh, take a dose of your own medicine," replied Mr. Norton.

"You act like a man with a stomach ache," said Mr. Pridham. "Why, if it wasn't for the Soldiers' Home there wouldn't be any Sawtelle on the map."

Mr. Norton blurted something about a "spread eagle speech," but subsided when Mr. Pridham stepped a foot nearer in his direction.

Supervisor Hamilton said he felt that the elections would be more satisfactory "if the old soldiers were barred from voting." He also talked in vague terms about some "hideous influence."

Supervisor Hinshaw, who was the only member to cast a vote for the old soldiers at the original hearing on the petition, declared yesterday that the placing of the veterans in the Van Nuys district was "an outrage" and he sincerely hoped that the three Supervisors responsible for the disfranchisement of the soldiers "would see the light and vote to keep the veterans in the Sawtelle district, where they rightfully belong."

HOLIDAY TRIO OVER STATE.

Next Saturday, Sunday and Monday will be legal holidays in California. Saturday has been proclaimed a legal holiday by the Governor on account of the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco, and Monday is Washington's Birthday. The Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association decided yesterday to close the banks on Saturday as well as Monday. The courts and city and county offices will be closed.

FOR SMUGGLING OPIUM.

Juan Torres, a Mexican, was sentenced to six months in the County Jail on a plea of guilty of the charge of smuggling smoking opium into the country, before Judge Bledsoe yesterday. Torres was found at San Bernardino with a valise containing seven five-tael cans of the stuff, and it is claimed by the officers that he belongs to a gang that have been making Riverside and San Bernardino headquarters for some time.

NOW RETAILER GETS BLAMED.

Fruit Jobbers Shift Onus of Living's High Cost.

Railroad's Alibi Presented by President Sproule.

Congress for Study of Price Making Projected.

The retailer, in his turn, was arraigned yesterday before the bar of the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association of America on the charge of being the person really and primarily responsible for the ascending cost of living. Previously, President Sproule of the Southern Pacific had entered a specific and elucidatory denial of some of the accusations made against the railroads at the opening session of the convention.

General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Association precipitated the assault on the retailers when he asserted that 33 1-3 per cent. of the $1 the consumer pays for citrus fruit is retained by the man behind the counter. Though Mr. Powells' assertion was merely part of a chart talk on the general subject of citrus production and marketing, with no accusations made or implied, it awoke the assembly of jobbers to a general denunciation of the retailer as the real, simon-pure "middleman" of predatory proclivities.

"When I return to Oklahoma I am going to ask for an audience with the retailers and point out the necessity of their reducing prices," said Thomas Dudley Turner, first vice-president of the association. "We are anxious to distribute more fruit and the only way we can do so is to see that the retailers reduce their profits."

"We are here to find the culprits and I think we have," shouted a man from the floor, who described himself as a representative of Hood River apple interests.

TO STUDY PRICES.

In the general discussion, the proposal was made by R. G. Phillips, secretary of the International Apple Shippers' Association, that the big jobbing interests of the country unite for a study of price-making and see if means could not be found to reduce the margin between what the jobber gets and the consumer pays.

Contrariwise, Mr. Powell in his talk asserted that "one of the reasons for high prices in this country is the waste" and also the tendency to postpone payment until after we have eaten. He further stated that he could not see how prices could down much except by cutting into the jobbers' and retailers' profits. Concluding, Mr. Powell urged the association to join other organizations in a comprehensive study of the food distributing system of the country, with an eye to betterment.

The serving of court summons, day before yesterday, on President Wagner and other association members in the case of Imperial Valley Melon Growers vs. The Western Canteloupe Exchange, added peculiar significance to the discussion of the responsibility for price-fixing and the discrepancies between what the consumer pays and Principals in sensational robbery.

INDOOR HIGHWAYMAN CAUGHT BY VICTIMS.

Alleged Leader of Bandits Who Robbed Harlow, Raymond and Miller in Former's Home Arrested and Identified — Has Long Prison Record and a Lot of Plunder — Taken at Theater with Wife.

CHARLES E. SLIGH, identified as the leader of the trio of bandits who, on the night of November 4 last, held up and robbed of $3000 diamonds and money Fred Harlow, cafe owner, Harry Raymond and Thomas N. Miller, detectives, as they entered Mr. Harlow's home at No. 4905 Cimarron street, was captured early last night as he stepped from Pantage's Theater with his wife.

Spotted as he entered the theater, Sligh, who has been the object of a nation-wide search for three months, was recognized at the theater entrance by Mr. Miller, who happened to be passing. Calling by telephone Detectives King and Oaks from Central Police Station and also Mr. Raymond, the officers stood guard at every exit. At just 9 o'clock Sligh, with his wife on his arm, came out of the main doors. He was seized by Detectives King and Miller.

Questioned at the Central Police Station after he had been identified by his three victims as the bandit, Sligh at first refused even to admit his identity. Later, hearing his wife sobbing in the next room, the prisoner admitted that he had served five terms in different prisons of the United States and that he is out on parole. The detectives say he has a record in seven penitentiaries.

Mrs. Mildred Sligh, who was locked up on suspicion of having been implicated in the robbery, declared to the police that she knew nothing of her husband's past, but had been told by him that he was a gambler. She declared she had never learned of the robbery at the Harlow home and did not know Sligh at the time of the hold-up.

Declared by the police detectives to be one of the best-known crooks in the United States, Sligh is said to come from a good family in Florence, Ariz. His father, they say, is a physician in that city.

From the different admissions gained from Sligh and his wife, the detectives were able to piece together the man's movements since the night of the robbery. After they held up Mr. Harlow and his two friends, the three bandits, according to the police, scattered. Sligh went to Oakland, where he met Mildred McDonald, and after a short courtship the two were married, November 12, in the Hotel Gibson, Oakland. They then went to Florence, Ariz., from there to Phoenix, back to San Francisco and then, nine days ago, came to Los Angeles.

DARING ROBBERY.

The hold-up in the Harlow home, which Sligh refused last night to discuss or admit, was one of the most daring crimes ever committed in Los Angeles. Early in the evening of November 4, Sligh, with his two pals, went to Mr. Harlow's residence in an automobile and demanded that the door be opened. Mrs. Robb, the maid, was at home alone with the Harlow baby. She refused to open the door. Pulling back their coats, the three

MAN OF I.W.W. TYPE WOULD ATTACK JUDGE.

RAVING that he wanted justice and at the same time railing at the law and the courts, John J. Cahill, a burly carpenter with I.W.W. tendencies, was handcuffed by Deputy Sheriff A. C. Webb yesterday afternoon after he had threatened to "get" Judge Monroe. The scene created by Cahill is unique in the history of the divorce court, where so many exciting incidents occur.

Cahill was a defendant in the divorce action of Mrs. Sylvia A. Cahill. She charged with him inhuman treatment. In her complaint she said he had threatened to kill her, and she admitted she was afraid of him.

"I want to ask that woman a question," shouted Cahill.

"You can't do that unless you pay the $3 appearance fee," explained Judge Monroe.

"I won't do that," excitedly exclaimed Cahill. "I want justice. I don't recognize any law or this court

BURDEN BEARER LAYS IT DOWN.

Thomas Henry Oxnam Dies in Vigor of Manhood.

Sunny Presence a Household Benediction.

Stricken in the very prime of a vigorous manhood, T. H. Oxnam, mining engineer by profession, and one of God's noblemen in character and practice, yesterday passed down into the shadow of death at his home, No. 2211 Cambridge street. Though he has gone, his great, joyous, sunny face will beam still upon the household in which he was idolized. The tribute of the absent son to the character of this ideal father, written but a few days since, is this:

"When I preach I will preach the gospel of cheerfulness, and of my father as the Christ-like man."

You may take his measure by his own last words: "I am so big and strong and there is so much for me to do, that it seems I ought to get well, but if it is God's will, I am ready to go."

He said this near the close of five months of almost total incapacity from an affection of the heart, being in every other way vigorous in both body and mind, and it was hard for him and his loving family to realize that the end was near.

Thomas Henry Oxnam was born in Pool, Eng., September 17, 1854, and was of the third generation of mining engineers, and his early education, backed by the family bent, fortified him for a successful career early in life.

LARGE CAREER.

At the age of 19 years he went to Scotland to make a way for himself, and the temper of the young man may be gauged by the fact that in 1874, when just 20, he took a contract for constructing a railroad tunnel in South Africa. This occupied three years, and in 1877 he returned to England for a brief visit, and the same year came to America, and entered the employ of the famous Comstock mine at Virginia City, Nev., where he remained for three years.

He next became the underground expert for a London corporation, and followed the general business of a consulting engineer, being intimately associated with Capt. Delamar of New

ENOUGH SIGN FOR ELECTION.

San Fernando Valley-City Annexation to be Voted on March 20—Peculiar Situation.

Prompt action has been taken by city officials on the proposed San Fernando Valley annexation to the city. On Monday the petition asking that an election be called in the territory proposed to be annexed was filed. Yesterday the Council instructed the City Clerk to check the petition. This was completed yesterday afternoon and the number of names found sufficient. This report will go to the Council this morning.

It is probable that March 20 will be set as the date for the election in the San Fernando Valley district. There will be five polling places, with election boards of three officers at each.

The peculiar situation will arise, should the vote be in favor of annexation, and should Los Angeles later vote favorably on the subject, that the towns of San Fernando and Owensmouth will be surrounded by territory belonging to the city of Los Angeles, but will maintain their separate existences.

Encouraging results so far have attended the efforts of the valley to float the $2,600,000 bond issue appropriated to finance the water distribution throughout the valley. When the Supervisors refused to appropriate the expenses for a representative to go to New York to investigate the prospects for a flotation of the bonds, the organizations in the valley assumed the burden, and dispatched Thomas E. Gibbons to New York City to consult with Dillon & Hubbard, bond experts, asking them to pass upon the bonds.

In a letter received from Mr. Gibbons by F. A. Powell, he reported that Dillon & Hubbard had agreed to investigate the bonds without the preliminary fee generally demanded in advance. This concession is a matter of jubilation to those most interested.

A committee was appointed Monday to finance the necessary expenses for submitting the bonds to the State Board of Engineers and the banking department of the Attorney-General's office in Sacramento. If a favorable report is received from these two State offices, the people of the San Fernando Valley feel that the flotation of the bonds is practically assured.

NEUTRALITY CASES.

What is known as the Aviles neutrality case, involving Gen. Baltazar Aviles, Charles Guzman, Walter K. Bowker, Geronimo Sandoval, Francisco Hyon, Ventura Palacio, Ignazio Diaz de Leone and Gen. Ben J. Viljoen, is being investigated by the Federal grand jury, and it is understood that the body will make a report to Judge Bledsoe in the United States District Court Friday. Eight witnesses in all, three Americans and five Mexicans, were before the inquisitorial body yesterday, and the hearing in the cases of the last named was slow and tedious, as it was necessary to use an interpreter.

Fifth National Orange Show at San Bernardino.

Everything in Readiness for the Greatest Ever.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 16.—Two thousand workmen were busy today putting the finishing touches on the many feature exhibits and the installation of the mammoth displays of citrus fruits for the formal opening of the fifth National Orange Show tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, and officials stated that everything will be ready for the first inviting glow of the hundreds of thousands of incandescents which will light the spectacle.

Preliminary to the opening of the doors the city will be illuminated by strings of lights across the streets of the business section. The formal opening ceremonies, which, however, will be decidedly informal, will take place in the main tent at 8 o'clock, when officials of the orange show and prominent Californians will speak. There will be representatives of both the San Francisco and the San Diego expositions, and from almost every citrus district represented in the displays of fruit and the feature exhibits.

GOVERNOR THERE?

Gov. Johnson has been asked to officially open the exposition, but his declination or acceptance has not been received by orange show officials today. It is hoped to have the State Executive open the show either in person or by wire, or through his representative.

Fruit continued to arrive today in a voluminous stream of gold and was at once placed in the fruit racks. Six million oranges and lemons will be in competitive display for the prizes which will be awarded in the different classes by a committee of judges picked for their experience in fruit culture and their knowledge of citrus products.

The orange show this year is laid in a bower of beauty never before attempted by the management. The decorative scheme is executed to elicit more attention than ever before. Orange trees bearing actual fruit have been transplanted from the groves to the big tent, and these surround the featnure exhibits and add a touch of reality to the scene, until the viewer believes that he is in the midst of a gorgeous orange orchard in which nature and man have conspired to produce a panoramic effect that is entrancing.

DOZEN BANDS.

A dozen bands, including some of the best-known musical organizations in the Southland, will furnish the music. The officials have arranged for almost a surfeit of amusement features, and as a result, besides viewing the most wonderful exploitation of citrus fruits, oranges, lemons, grapefruit, ever prepared for the eye, there will be entertainment on a lavish scale, including everything from vaudeville features and the latest dances in the amusement tent, to a splendid list of attractions on the "Midway." A large door has been constructed in the amusement tent, and here visitors will be privileged to dance.

INFORMAL DINNER.

Prior to the show opening, at 5:30 o'clock, the Executive Committee and officers of the show, together with the invited guests who will later take part in the opening, will sit down to an informal dinner at the Elks' Clubhouse. While the list of the guests is not wholly made up, it will include the following, orange show officials announce:

John S. McGroarty, Los Angeles; C. C. Chapman, Fullerton; E. D. Roberts, A. B. Miller, Fontana; Dr. H. J. Webber of Riverside; A. S. Bradford, Placentia; Mayor J. W. Catick, Judge H. T. Dewhirst of Redlands; J. C. Boyd, Rialto; C. D. Hubbard, Santa Barbara; Lyman M. King, Redlands; President G. A. Davidson of the San Diego exposition; B. A. Woodford, Claremont; W. L. Moulton, Riverside; T. E. Andrews, Lindsay, and President Paul Shoup of the Pacific Electric.

JOIN ISSUES.

Another Chapter in Tejunga Water and Power Company's Long-standing Feud.

Another chapter was added yesterday to the long-standing feud between the Tejunga Water and Power Company and its consumers, when residents of Sunland and adjacent territory served by the company crowded the State Railroad Commission's chambers in the Bullard building to protest against the concern's proposed increase in water rates.

The rates proposed, according to the protestants, who numbered over fifty persons, would imperial their investments. On the other hand, officials of the company asserted that the rates do not return a profit on the investment. The hearing will probably be concluded today.

Alleging that the Union Home Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Long Beach Consolidated Gas Company refuse to furnish them with copies of bonding and rate-raising applications made the commission, legal representatives of the city of Long Beach yesterday asked the commission for a continuance of the hearing of these cases from today to a later date. The request was granted, though no date for the hearings was set.

CREDIT MEN BANQUET.

They Have Enjoyable Affair at Jonathan Club and Do Business at the Same Time.

The Associated Retail Credit Men of Los Angeles held a meeting and banquet last night at the Jonathan Club, with G. Burket Logan, one of the directors, in the chair.

An interesting address on "What efficiency really is and its special application to the credit man," was delivered by Dr. Charles Hall. Fred B. McComas spoke on "Credits," and placed special stress on the advisability of always patronizing home industry when possible.

YEAR AND A DAY.

Judge Bledsoe yesterday, in the United States District Court, sentenced Chester R. Pinains to one year and a day at McNeil's Island, following a plea of guilty of sending twenty-eight obscene letters through the mails to Miss Denise Cathalinat of No. 719 Johnson street, this city. It appeared that the girl was but 15 years of age when the letters began to be delivered to her by a neighbor, to whom they were sent. When sentence was pronounced, the mother of Pinains fainted in the courtroom.

PYTHIANS BOOST FOR MISS APPEL.

NATIVE SONS AND DAUGHTERS AIDING THEM.

Many Affairs Under Way to Secure Votes for Girl Who Would be Fiesta Queen—Shriners Open Office Down Town and Start Active Campaign.

Eleven thousand Knights of Pythias, the Southern California membership, have been enlisted in the campaign to elect Florence Dominguez Appel fiesta queen of the Southland for 1915.

In behalf of Miss Appel, who has been entered in the great beauty contest as the nominee of the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West, the Pythians have organized a strong campaign committee, whose membership represents practically sixty-five lodges.

Following her indorsement by the Pythian Congress of Los Angeles county, plans at once were made by the lodgemen to co-operate in every way with the Native Sons and Daughters to win for Miss Appel the fiesta crown extended by the 1915 General Committee.

These plans include a series of entertainments for raising funds, to be given every night in the week except Saturday and Sunday. In so far as possible, one such entertainment will be given under the auspices of each of the southern lodges. Tonight, the lodges at Venice and Santa Monica will entertain at K. of P. Hall, Santa Monica. Featuring the programme tonight will be a concert by the D.O.K.K. band of twenty-five pieces. The proceeds each night will be used to purchase votes in the queen contest.

The Pythian Sisterhood, as well as the Knights and Ladies of Security, also are championing Miss Appel, and she has been indorsed by the Pioneers' Society of Los Angeles county.

The general campaign committee of the Knights of Pythias is composed of Charles V. Stansbury, F. J. Ruddy, H. W. Broughton, Stanley M. Wilson and J. E. Kolf.

The committee from the Los Angeles lodges is as follows: C. Selkg (Helmet;) R. A. Atlee (Marathon;) H. W. Broughton (Gauntlet;) W. E. Sibertson (Sampson;) G. W. Prather (Golden Spear;) J. W. Culliton (Miramonte;) E. T. Elred (Moneta;) Robert T. Linney (Irving;) L. L. McCleary (Silver Star;) Col. C. C. Walton, Third Regiment, Uniformed Rank; Maj. C. E. Kirk, First Batallion; Capt. Homer Lapp, D.O.K.K.; Mrs. Mabel Midgley, Grand Chief Pythian Sister.

Al Malaikah Temple of the Shrine yesterday seriously began the campaign to elect Mrs. Joan H. Woodbury queen by opening offices in the Central building.

Already, the members of Al Malaikah have outlined a programme of stunts which will be pulled off at the rate of three-a-week, between now and March 27, when the contest closes.

Highwayman Caught.

men displayed some kind of stars and declared that they were officers. Mrs. Robb then let them into the house. As soon as they were in the house the bandits seized Mrs. Robb and bound her to a chair and at once made their way to the second floor. There they waited for Mr. and Mrs. Harlow to return from the cafe.

Mr. Harlow was sick and had in the meantime invited Mr. Miller and Mr. Raymond, who were dining at the cafe, to go home with him. The three men entered Mr. Harlow's house and were at once held up with revolvers and robbed. They were then bound to chairs. The three bandits escaped in an automobile driven by Sligh. None of them was heard from again until Sligh was recognized last night.

Efforts were made by every police department in the United States to locate Sligh and his pals, and many reports were turned in to the Los Angeles police department. All clews were run down and all proved false. Hope for Sligh's arrest had been given up by the local police.

MUTUAL RECOGNITION.

According to Detective Miller, he first saw Sligh and his wife walking south on Broadway near the theater. At the same moment Sligh caught sight of Mr. Miller and quickly ducked into the theater.

"You will have to prove it," was all that Detectives Oaks and King could get their prisoner to say about the hold-up in Mr. Harlow's home. Asked about his past, Sligh admitted having been in many prisons, but refused to say what for. The police records show that he was paroled from the Dennamora State Prison, New York, May 19, 1914. He at once came to this coast.

PLUNDER AND NAMES.

Late last night Mrs. Sligh told the police that she lived with her husband at No. 220 North Grand avenue. The rooms were searched at once, and the police discovered two crucibles simmering over gas jets. Each contained chopped-up jewelry. Three revolvers were discovered hidden, and also a number of jimmy bars; also seven watches, all good.

The detectives are convinced the prisoner is the man who has for some time been burglarising houses in the Wilshire district, and that he and his wife must have been in town more than nine days.

With the loot the detectives found lists containing names of almost every wealthy family of the city. After each name was written the hours of the day when the houses were vacant, and many were marked "family out of town." The list, according to the police, was Sligh's working list, and all the houses were marked for burglary.

The jewelry recovered last night is valued at $2000. Most of it, the police say, will be returned to different persons in the city.

Here is a copy of Sligh's working list:

"E. M. Botsford; same."

"Mrs. I. Stockwell; away after 2-20-15; 332 South Norton."

"Dr. Mrs. Peter Janss; away for one month. N.W. corner. O.K."

Thomas H. Oxnam,

York, which led him into Arizona and throughout the mining regions of the great Southwest. Twenty years ago he removed his family to Los Angeles.

In 1901 he was sent to Mexico by a London syndicate to take charge of the Palmirejo Mining and Coal Fields, Ltd., and four years later voluntarily left the service of the corporation and returned to his home in this city, where he has since remained, his son, T. H. Oxnam, Jr., being associated with him as a consulting engineer.

BEYOND PRICE.

It is known that at one period in his career he was offered a bonus of $25,000 for inside information concerning one of the great properties he had investigated, but he indignantly turned his back on the offer. At another time he was receiving a salary of $10,000 a year from a mining company, and upon refusal to render a false report as to the value of the mine, he was discharged, only to be employed a few months later by another company at a much larger salary. His integrity was of the strictly non-purchasable type.

His career in Los Angeles has been that of a notably religious man. In connection with the First Methodist Church, where he was familiarly known in connection with every good work, and beloved by everybody who knew him. As superintendent of the home department of the great Sunday-school, he had enrolled a membership of about 1200. In mining camps he was famous for the sterling character he bore among the men, and if there was no church at the camp he established one. He was a director of the Y.M.C.A. of this city and a trustee of the University of Southern California. He was also a thirty-second degree Mason, a Knight Templar and an Odd Fellow.

Besides his widow he leaves three sons and one daughter, all of this city. They are T. H. Oxnam, Jr., G. Bromley Oxnam, Miss Lois Oxnam and William B. Oxnam. Bromley Oxnam is now in Boston completing his theological studies, preparatory to entering the ministry. A sister, Mrs. E. A. Lampshire of Arizona, was here at the time of his death, and he leaves another sister in Lincoln, Eng., Mrs. Louisa Brown.

The funeral will be held at the First Methodist Church tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Dr. Charles Edward Locke, followed by interment at Inglewood Cemetery. At the request of the deceased the funeral services will be simple and unostentatious.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

This evening at 8 o'clock George H. Dunlop will address the new Citizens' Civic Club at Los Angeles High School on "Our City Government and Proposed Improvements." The public is invited.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.

In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Retailer Blamed.

the grower gets. In this case, Mr. Wagner and various others are charged with being members of a combine in restraint of trade.

INTERESTING PROGRAMME.

Representatives of every selling, marketing and contributing interest, except the retailer, participated in the discussion yesterday. It was a discussion of many interests, with set speeches by many, including a talk on "Water Transportation" by District Freight Agent Parris of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company; on "Legislative Problems," by Secretary Phillips of the International Apple Shippers' Association, and on the "Relation of the Perishable Fruit Industry to the Railroads," by President Sproule of the Southern Pacific.

Tabulated from 5500 reports covering shipments of nearly two-thirds of the citrus growers of the State, General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange presented chart evidence of what becomes of the consumers' $1 in payment for this State's best-known product. Growers' net on tree, he asserted, accounted for 26.7 cents; picking and hauling, 2.4 cents; packing, 7.4 cents; freight and refrigeration, 20.5 cents, and selling cost through the Exchange, 1.5 cents, making the price to the jobber 58.5 cents. An addition of 8.2 cents was then made by the jobber for marketing and the retailer absorbed the remainder of 33.3 cents, as his share of the consumers' $1.

Regarding increased citrus shipments from this State—there was an increase of 48 per cent. in the four years from 1910 to 1914—Mr. Powell said: "If we Americans appreciated fruit as an Italian does our consumption would double and treble."

"LONG CRY."

"It is a long cry," said President Sproule of the Southern Pacific, "from 1886, with its trainload of 150 tons of California fruit as the year's output, to 1914, when the shipments of fruit from this State to points beyond its border reached a total of nearly 900,000 tons."

Mr. Sproule then pointed out that the "relation of the perishable fruit industry to the railroads" "is that of two industries dependent on each other. The service given by the railroads to fresh fruit," he said, "is, in many particulars, superior even to that given the passenger on our passenger trains."

Discussing the charge that the railroads are "boosting" charges for service, Mr. Sproule came back with the accusation that the shippers of fruit avail themselves, with the utmost whimsicality, of the prerogative to divert cars whenever they saw fit. He then said: "It is but human that the railroads should charge you for the privilege of changing your minds."

"In these days," Mr. Sproule continued, "when it seems to be the policy of State and Federal governments to put all kinds of business in swaddling clothes and sometimes in straight-jackets, it is of interest that in the great business which engages your attention development has been under conditions which cause you to exercise initiative and ingenuity."

That a corresponding initiative and ingenuity on the part of the railroads has been throttled by overmuch regulation was a further assertion by Mr. Sproule. This is proved, he asserted, by the fact that the railroad mileage of the country increased only 17 per cent. in ten years, whereas the tonnage moved increased 78 per cent."

DEBATABLE.

Concluding, Mr. Sproule said: "The era of regulation has definitely arrived. The principle of regulation is accepted. The question of what is good in regulation and what is bad remains debatable."

That no wholesale movement of fruit by water may be expected this year, but that it will come, was asserted by District Freight Agent Parris of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company.

While the convention was in session yesterday afternoon, the visiting women attended the "Mission Play." In the evening, the visitors were entertained at a theater party, followed by a buffet supper, reception and dance at the Alexandria. The concluding session today will be taken up with reports of special committees, consideration of amendments to the constitution, election of officers, and selection of a meeting place for next year. The annual banquet will be held tonight at the Alexandria.

POLAR BEARS BATTLE.

Veterans Take Much Delight in War Play of Big Animals—They Visit Show as Guests.

Despite the unpromising weather conditions of yesterday afternoon, and the long jaunt from their institution, upward of 300 veterans braved rain and forecasts of more rain to take advantage of the invitation of the Bostock Jungle management.

A special programme was arranged, including the military scene by the Polar bears, in which a realistic attack and capture of a fort is successfully achieved by these ungainly animals. This especially appealed to the war taste of the old soldiers.

Though deprived of their elephant rides and other pleasures of the exhibition by weather circumstances, the veterans were palpably delighted with their visit and the arrangements provided for them, and returned home to apprise the disappointed hundreds that the invitation still stands good for a later date when weather conditions are better.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) An engagement of more gold from the Bank of England was announced, following another sharp decline in exchange rates. The trend of speculation was toward industrials, which were up and down, with a good volume of business. Profit-taking was noticeable in many railroad and metal stocks. A considerable part of the inactive time-loan money in the East has been invested in the Russian loan of $25,000,000.

(Abroad:) Germany sold American securities freely for future delivery. England has announced the issue of new treasury notes for $20,000,000.

MAKING MONEY.

Last week a man sold a lot in this city for $240,000. He bought the same property a little under four years ago for half what he sold it for. That is a good example of the manner in which Los Angeles advances. Everybody cannot make money that fast, but if they have money to go in with they can always do well here.

EQUALLY DRY.

That professor in Chicago who ate fifteen dishes of sawdust in one day is the man we have been looking for. If he will come to Los Angeles we will be glad to turn over to him some of the books that are sent to our literary editor for review. We will even send him to a few of the plays our dramatic editor suffers.

PIE FOR THE GERMANS.

Russia has decided to take the defensive instead of the offensive in the war. In other words, she will stay at home and wait for trouble to come to her gates. This looks pretty easy for the Germans. It almost eliminates Russia as a menace for the present. We imagine that France and England will not approve of this policy.

A GOOD DOG.

It is funny what a good dog your own dog always is. He simply has no faults. Somebody may tell you something about your child or even your wife and, although it may be a little unpleasant, you will admit that it is true, but when it comes to your dog, he is above criticism. Anybody who knows anything about human nature would be too wise to try such a thing.

AN ADEQUATE INK-WELL.

It is rather odd that so many things that are used by everybody should never be improved. Take ink-wells, for instance; we doubt if there ever was a good one. Yet nearly everybody in the world needs ink-wells. The other day we saw one that looked fit for service. It was simply a little pot and enough ink in it to do some good. The pot sat in a dish and the ink could drip in that instead of spinning over the table. It was a welcome idea.

A REGULAR PLACE.

Villa announces his capture of Guadalajara. For once he has taken a city that is a man's size. Guadalajara is a regular place and some day it is going to be one of the great cities of the world. It has an ideal location in so far as the republic of Mexico is concerned, and if the war would let it alone it would soon amount to something. By the way, why don't these Mexican generals make themselves dukes, take up a few comfortable provinces and settle down on their estates?

REDEEMING THE WICKED.

Those bachelors who are so brazen in their misfortune that they have a society to celebrate their social unworth gave another big dance this week. They would get away with their bluff better if it were not for the fact that almost every year there is a brand new set of them to make a noise. The bachelors of yesteryear are always too old to dance any more, or else they have been too lucky to have to stick around clubs of this kind. A bachelor is not a life-termer. He nearly always gets saved before it is forever and eternally too late.

KEEPING FRIENDS.

We refuse to believe that Germany will misunderstand that note from the United States or take offense at it. While this country is neutral, there has been no possible way of preventing much feeling on the subject of the war, and America contains so many Germans, of such an excellent class, that there can be no doubt that the Kaiser has received moral support of inestimable value from this country. He has enough war on his hands as it is, and he surely would not invite the ill will of a nation containing so many of his best friends.

REVOLVING LOAN FUND.

An Oregon banker, named Mills, asserts that the whole Pacific Coast is over-urbanized; too many people in the cities and too few in the country.

The newcomer should be aided to obtain reasonably-priced land and urged to settle upon it and produce food on it. He should be helped, if necessary, to the extent of seeing to it that he has proper equipment for his work. "This," says Mr. Mills, "could be done by a loan from a revolving fund to be repaid and again advanced for the encouragement of experienced farmers who will build up the country and so prosper the towns."

It has not yet been determined whether or not the Japanese cruiser Asama sunk. Banzai!

ISSUES OF THE COMING CAMPAIGN.

The political issues for the contest of 1916 are beginning to take form. Everywhere, except in California, the Progressive party is as dead as a salt mackerel, and even here it is merely walking around to save its funeral expenses.

The Democrats will stand upon the doings and the Republicans upon the misdoings of President Wilson, and there will be more material for Republicans to criticise than there will be for Democrats to praise.

First in order, if not in importance, will be the Underwood tariff. It will be attacked from many angles. It has done more than all else combined to bring about an era of business depression. Free sugar from Cuba has bankrupted the Louisiana cane growers and closed many of the Northwestern and Pacific Coast beet-sugar factories. Free wool has played havoc with the sheepmen. Reduced duties on citrus fruit, olives and nuts has driven the Democracy out of California orchardists. Free lumber has closed the sawmills and sent the lumberjacks up into British Columbia; and reduced duties on cotton and woolen fabrics have silenced the hum of New England spindles.

Trust-busting activities have caused business men to halt, not knowing what to expect next in the way of regulatory experiment, and the result has been such a slowing down of industry as the country has not known since the Democratic victory of 1893 caused bankruptcy to perch like a bird of night on the ledgers of the merchants and extinguished the furnace fires and produced hunger in the homes and hell on the highways all the way from the Hudson to the Missouri.

The Democrats will not deny, for they cannot deny, the business depression; but they will charge it all to the European war and the abnormal conditions that have resulted from it.

They will claim that it was the war that necessitated a special stamp tax and that in other ways made such a heavy drain upon the Federal treasury as to bring about a large deficit.

It is an undeniable fact that most, if not all, of the policies of the Wilson administration have been, in the language of the lawyers, demurrers "irrelevant, incompetent and immaterial." They have been weak, vacillating, uncertain and apparently directed by individuals either ignorant or incompetent to deal with the great problems that have been presenting themselves. Watchful waiting in Mexico and the ship-purchasing bill with resultant entanglements will be two of the numerous specifications in the general indictment of Democracy, and the people of the Pacific States will not overlook the repeal of the Panama Canal free tolls bill, which repeal will add millions of dollars yearly to the cost of their importations and lessen by millions the sums received for their exportations.

SHOULD KEEP OUT OF THE FIGHT.

Has the Kaiser gone daft? Has the insane streak in the blood of the Hohenzollerns developed into absolute lunacy that he menaces the United States because it protests against his paper blockade of a war zone on the high seas around the coast of Great Britain?

Has England forgotten 1812 that she requires us to submit to her interpolation into the law of nations of the new doctrine that food destined for civilian use in an enemy country is contraband of war?

Our duty to ourselves under these untoward and unusual circumstances is clear. We should refuse to be drawn into an armed controversy with either Germany or England. We would have everything to lose and nothing to gain by a contest with any European power. Germany would have everything to gain and nothing to lose by such a contest, for she could—through an alliance with Mexico—land large bodies of troops and capture and pillage our border cities from Matamoras to Ensenada before we could organize an adequate force to resist her.

There is one course which we can take without dishonor that will prevent us from being drawn into the European war. If Germany insists upon her "war zone" blockade of the open ocean, so as to prevent food-laden or otherwise-laden ships from reaching England, let her torpedo and blockade such a zone, if she can, against the power and watchfulness of the British navy. If England is determined to prevent American food-laden ships from reaching German ports let her do so. Really, both combatants will be doing us a favor by establishing conditions that will make it advisable for us for the next six months to keep our diminished grain and meat supplies at home to feed our own people, and we can find ample employment for our ships in trading with the countries of this Western Hemisphere.

Indeed, if the warring nations should draw a line from headland to headland, from the North Sea to Gibraltar, and keep their hell broth boiling within that line until they exterminated each other, we would, for humanity's sake, regret the awful calamity, but, industrially and commercially and socially, we would lose little or nothing. There is nothing made in the factories and furnaces and forges of Europe that cannot be produced and that is not produced in the United States. There is nothing grown on the soil of Europe from the Baltic to the Adriatic, from the Thames to the Danube, that is not grown or that cannot be grown in America. Art in all its forms; literature in all its phases; invention in all its contrivances abides and flourishes in our great, free, progressive country. We shall be less than wise if we suffer any European power to drive or entangle us into an alliance with any of the combatants.

SEATTLE'S COSTLY MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The Seattle Times gives some figures on the cost of municipal ownership which show that it proved a costly experiment. While the population increased fourfold in eleven years the debt of the city has grown twelvefold (three times as fast) in the same time. Bonds for light and power supply and for street railways aggregate $4,794,000 and the light and power plant owes the general and other funds of the city $530,000 and the street railway has a deficit of $111,200.

This and worse may be confidently expected here if Los Angeles goes into the business of retailing light and power.

How Small the World!

FILIBUSTERING AMENITIES.

During the filibustering on the ship-purchasing bill the President and the Democratic Senators who obeyed his commands did not escape sharp criticism.

Senator Root resented attacks upon the obstructive tactics of the Republicans. "Members of the minority are engaged in preserving fundamental principles of representative government," he declared. "A Senator recently said to me that I could not afford to engage in a filibuster. Mr. President, I cannot flinch from duties placed upon me by my oath and my conscience in regard to the question which lies before me. The majority proposes to take a flying leap from the principles of Democracy to state socialism. What shall we say of those who refuse to learn by their own experience?"

Reviewing the growth of the Interstate Commerce Commission at the expense of State commissions, the establishment of parcel post and the Federal Trade Commission Senator Root declared that the State was becoming naught.

"The bill is a complete reversal of the principles you advocated when the people put you into power," he continued. "You have no right to make this reversal—to change the policy of our government in this vital matter in the dark of the night. You ought to come out into the open where all of the people of the country, who are vitally affected by the question of whether our government is to be a government of national Socialism, can express their opinion."

Senator Root asserted that a majority of the Senate never had favored the original bill and, if the amended measure finally was passed, it would be for the "narrow fleeting satisfaction of winning." That should not be accomplished, he asserted, except over the protest of the minority side of the chamber.

Senator O'Gorman of New York, one of the seven Democrats who co-operated with the Republicans in the filibustering, said: "The proceedings of this Senate in the last week have been a burlesque on constitutional government. The command came from without the walls of the Capitol to pass this ship-purchase bill before the appropriation bills. The situation in which the Democratic party now finds itself may well excite the anxiety of those who love the party. The likelihood of New York State remaining in the Democratic column is doubtful. If you would remove the last lingering hope of New York remaining Democratic let it be known that in a caucus of Senators thirty-two or thirty-five Democrats can bind the representative from New York State hand and foot."

Concluding, Senator O'Gorman declared there would be as much warrant for the President sending for the Chief Justice of the United States to come to the White House to discuss a pending case as to send for a Senator to take his orders.

NEARLY FIVE BILLIONS SAVINGS.

Savings bank deposits in the United States aggregate $4,727,403,950. We are accustomed to consider the American people as less thrifty than the foreigners, but this sum is greater than the aggregate savings not only of any other one nation, but larger than the combined deposits of the French, British, Austrians, Italians and Japanese in their communal, private, postal, corporate and trustee savings banks. There are several savings banks in New York City that each have deposits of approximately $100,000,000. The total number of the savings banks in this country is 1978, the average account is $439.07, and the depositors make up an army of 10,766,936 persons.

SCIENCE PROGRESS.

An Electric Sterilizer.

[Boston Transcript:] A new system of treatment which will greatly shorten and simplify the cure of shrapnel and rifle bullet wounds is shortly to be introduced at one of the large base hospitals at Rouen, says a London paper. Briefly, the treatment consists of forcing a metallic salt (usually zinc chloride) in the path traversed by the ball by means of an electric current. The zinc chloride is deposited as a film along the whole area open to infection, thus protecting the surrounding uninjured tissues and acting as a most effective antiseptic. Hitherto the usual treatment was to soak the region of the wound for twenty-four hours or even days at a time in baths of hot antiseptic. In the ionization treatment the wounded arm or leg is placed in a bath of warm zinc chloride solution, 1 per cent., and one electrode or end-piece connected with the battery is placed in the water as well. The second electrode is placed against the patient's chest and the battery (a direct current) is turned on. The electricity forces the antiseptic metallic salt in solution along the track of the bullet, since the resistance here is much less than that of the unbroken skin. In ten minutes by this ionization method a degree of sterilization of the wound may be obtained greater than that obtainable by continuous days of soaking in ordinary antiseptic baths. Ionization of infected wounds has been in use in several of the great London hospitals for some months, particularly in the treatment of intractable ulcers and chronic sinuses.

Lard from Corn Oil.

[New York World:] After determining that corn oil is an economic substitute for olive oil, Dean L. E. Sayre of the Kansas University School of Pharmacy is experimenting to determine whether it is a satisfactory substitute for lard. Some of the liquid oil, which is heavy and brown, has been hydrogenated. In this condition it appears white and has about the consistency of cocoa butter, and melts at the temperature of beeswax.

Dean Sayre has been experimenting with corn oil for more than a year. He found that it makes a very good substitute for olive oil in salad dressings, and believes that the hydrogenated oil can be used in place of lard. The patented frying mediums are hydrogenated cottonseed oil.

Corn oil is extracted from the soft white center of the corn, where the life spark dwells. It is a by-product of the manufacture of starch, glucose and the better grades of cornmeal.

New Fuel Problem.

[Pittsburgh Gazette-Times:] Huge deposits of low-grade copper ore have been discovered in the Andes Mountains at an elevation of 9000 feet and a distance of eighty-seven miles from the coast. The surrounding mountains are practically a desert, the ridges being almost bare of vegetation, and there is no supply of cheap fuel available, coal deposits also being lacking. In order that the mines may be worked profitably the ore must be extracted in large quantities and reduced upon the spot to some more portable form.

The means by which the heat to accomplish this work is to be obtained is a most unique feat in electrical engineering. Electrical energy is to be generated by burning oil at the coast under the boilers of steam generators and transmitting the electricity over an immense cable to the mines. The line crosses the famous nitrate district of the Andes, which is an absolute desert, swept by high winds. The cable must therefore be laid over galvanized iron towers, which are set eight to the mile and are able to withstand a gale of eighty-seven miles an hour.

The company which is installing this remarkable plant expects to mine and reduce 10,000 tons of ore daily and to operate twenty-four hours a day.

ANONYMOUS ARCHITECTURE.

[*CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

BY ARNOLD W. BRUNNER,

Past President American Institute of Architects.

Arnold W. Brunner.

IT WOULD be interesting to know how many of the busy crowd in Wall street are familiar with the name of the architect of old Trinity that stands guard at its head, or how many of the admiring throng that are impressed by the majesty and beauty of the Capitol at Washington ever ask who designed it. A work of architecture is tacitly accepted by the public and often by the press as if it were the result of some process of nature and not the creation of an active brain.

There seems no reason why an architect's name should not appear on his building, just as a painter signs his picture and the sculptor signs his statue. Adequate and full recognition is his due. Like other artists he should be honored when his work rises to a high level, and he should accept the responsibility for his failures. Like other artists he needs encouragement and applause to produce his best efforts. Real encouragement is absolutely necessary to him, especially in this age when helpful and constructive criticism is rare.

"Architecture is an art that is half a science," to quote Macaulay, but today new elements crowd in and materially diminish the proportion of art in the mixture. Mechanical and constructive demands are constantly growing, and commercial considerations become more insistent, so that the finished building is often merely a series of compromises, and not at all the realization of the designer's conception.

In the preparation of drawings and during the construction of a building numerous technical consultants are necessary. The peculiarities of the site, the intricacies of foundations, the complexity of modern engineering in many of its branches, the effort to harmonize antagonistic elements, even the taste, or sometimes the lack of it, of the client, must all be met and blended in one composite whole. These difficulties are to remain forever unexplained, for the architect has not the privileges of an author, who may ask for indulgence and take the public into his confidence in a preface.

So it is clear that the architect today does many things besides making a design. But he does design; he is an artist; and if he is content with his work and conscious that it has merit who shall deny him the right of signing it?

Ordinarily a memorial tablet of marble or bronze finds an appropriate place in the interior of public or important structures, and here, with other information, the architect's name properly belongs. His signature on the facade of his building is largely a matter of taste and there seems to be no valid reason for forbidding it. There may be some fear that the custom will degenerate into mere advertising and thereby add to the flood of signs that decorate our streets. But we are considering works of architecture, works of art, and we should be able to trust the designer to keep within the bounds of discretion and not disfigure his own work.

A modest signature carved in a spot corresponding somewhat to that generally selected by painters for their names on their pictures can do no harm. As a matter of fact painters and sculptors are generally too unassuming and their names lurk in corners, shrinking, and often illegible. How often have we hunted for the artist's name among the folds of painted drapery or in the foliage of a painted forest. How often the sculptor's habit of signing his name in minute letters in inaccessible places has prevented us from discovering his identity. On the whole it seems as if there was small danger of an artist's signature assuming undue proportions.

A sure way to dignify art is to encourage and respect those who practice it worthily. Europe erects monuments not only to its statesmen and generals, but to poets, painters, sculptors and architects. Streets are named after them and their names are familiar and recognized by all. The American public shows little interest and often scant reverence to those who model, paint, carve and build.

Of course, no one asks and no one cares who designed Rheims Cathedral. We are too completely absorbed by our fear that unskilled hands may attempt its restoration.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE GRIP.

I don't feel flip; I have the grip; and all my person's aching; all day I sneeze; one hour I freeze, the next hour I am baking. I have the grip, and nurses skip around me with their potions; the doctor shoos the words I use, expressing my emotions. Vile tasting pills, and salts and squills, my inside works I rake with; my bulging brow once helped, but now it's only fit to ache with. "Cheer up, cheer up, Old Buttercup," my neighbors all keep crying; "no man should whine, nor yet repine, until he's sure he's dying; and then by jing, he ought to sing until he splits a rafter, and steer his bark into the dark with optimistic laughter!" They make me hot—they haven't got this curse of all diseases, so they can chaff and dance and laugh, and spring their sunshine wheezes. I wish they'd cease to speak their piece, and toddle to their homes off; they do not ache and freeze and bake, and sneeze their doggone domes off! They do not drink a potion pink, of wormwood, from a dipper; first class they feel, so they can spiel of being blithe and chipper!

Living on Potatoes.

[Washington Star:] Experiments carried out by a Danish medical man seem to show that potato flour, which is now largely used for breadmaking in Germany, has strong nutritious properties. In order to prove that albumen is not essential to the maintenance of the human system Dr. Hindhede has since 1895 lived for months at a stretch on potatoes for his staple diet, flavored only very occasionally with butter and milk. He further induced his gardener, Frederick Madsen, to live on potatoes for 300 days at a stretch, his average consumption being nine pounds a day. During the experimental period Madsen was so closely watched that his master can vouch that he tasted no other food, yet the diet left him stronger than he had ever been.

DRUG CLERKS FORM A UNION.

STATE APPOINTEE ORGANIZES LOCAL IN LOS ANGELES.

Member of Pharmacy Board, Who is President of "Association," Starts Work for People by Installing New Body to "Protect Interests."

Having been appointed a member of the State Board of Pharmacy, Joseph S. Callaghan of San Francisco, president of the Drug Clerks' Union of California, has just completed the organization of a "local" in Los Angeles.

This was probably the first "official" act of Mr. Callaghan, who was recently appointed by Gov. Johnson. His appointment, by the way, insures a control by labor-union interests of the State Board of Pharmacy.

Coming to Los Angeles ostensibly on State business, and for which trip the taxpayers will no doubt be called upon to pay, Callaghan called a meeting of drug clerks at the Hollenbeck Hotel last Thursday night. He made a glittering speech; his oration thrilled the drug clerks as a shot in the arm would thrill a drug fiend. He spoke of the advantages of organization, how the drug clerk could "help himself" by massing his strength.

Callaghan is president of the California Drug Clerks' Association, which has 2000 members, with locals in San Francisco, San Diego, Fresno and Sacramento—and now in Los Angeles. He is from San Francisco, and has been steeped in the union-labor atmosphere of the local there.

In the dual capacity of president of the union and member of the State Board of Pharmacy, he was regarded by the Los Angeles drug clerks as a man of power when he strutted through the lobby of the Hollenbeck, assembled his "followers," and called the meeting to order.

The result of his visit was the appointment of the following Executive Committee of the Los Angeles local:

Chairman, I. A. C. Moffat, Vance Drug Company; Prof. Maas, U.S.C.; C. B. Chase, Owl Drug Company; H. Park, Sun Drug Company; F. L. Atterbury.

Secretary Ting said yesterday that there are 106 members of the Los Angeles local.

G. H. C. Moffat, editor of the Drug Clerks' Journal, who assisted in the organization of the local, and who is employed at the Italian drug store on North Main street, said yesterday that the purpose of the organization is to "look after the welfare of its members."

"We are erroneously called a labor union," he said. "We are simply banded together to protect our interests and to stand behind legislation beneficial to the drug clerks. We have a representative at Sacramento in Senator J. J. Crowley, who was formerly secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy. We are different from a regular union in that we have only a State association and have no financial backing from a national organization, as most unions have.

"Of course, we will not affiliate with the proprietors of drug stores, our employers. We have nothing in common with them."

A campaign is being made among the drug clerks to join the union, and Secretary Ting hopes to get several hundred members in Los Angeles.

None of the officers of the association has any criticism to offer of Callaghan posing as a State official and organizing unions on State time. It is understood that he is visiting other cities in the State with a view to organizing locals of his "association."

PRISON SENTENCE AND NOT A FINE.

JUDGE SEVERELY SCORES MAN CONVICTED ON A WHITE SLAVE CHARGE.

The efforts on the part of friends of George Grand, charged with violation of the Mann White Slave Act in bringing Miss Vivian Olcott, who claims to have been a cloak-model in New York, from Kingman, Ariz., to this city, to have Judge Bledsoe assess a fine, following a plea of guilty, failed in the Federal Court, yesterday.

Not only that, but the court remarked that he could not see why a defendant with money that he or his friends were willing to pay in the shape of a fine, should escape a penitentiary sentence if the facts warranted it, any more than a prisoner without a dollar to keep him from behind the prison walls. He refused to assess a fine and sentenced Grand to one year and a day at McNeil's Island.

Later on, an effort was made to increase the bond from $2000 to $5000, and allow Grand five days freedom to close up his business, and the court refused that, saying that Grand could transact his business in the County Jail and further remarking that in his opinion $5000 might not be enough to hold him.

Efforts were made to have Miss Olcott marry Grand, but the girl refused to do so, and would not even go to the court room and appear in his behalf. Grand begged her to marry him, but she refused.

Judge Bledsoe said in passing sentence that it was evident the woman was trying to blackmail the friends of Grand out of money, for what purpose he did not know, but the crime to which Grand has pleaded guilty—not only bringing the woman into California for an immoral purpose, but also on another charge found no excuse. He could not understand how a man in his proper sense could do the thing which Grand admitted he had been guilty of.

Pretty Wedding.

There is an old saying that those whom fate decree shall mate will find each other though all the byways and highways of the world many throng to block the way. As a proof of this, there was a pretty wedding in St. Cecilia's Church, Forty-second street and Normandie avenue, yesterday at high noon, when Alice Josephine Hart and George Conrad Troller were united by Rev. Father Paul Dillon, St. Cecilia's pastor.

Miss Hart came to Los Angeles with her parents about two years ago from Pennsylvania, her father, Thomas W. Hart, coming to the Coast to join the legal staff of one of the large title insurance companies. Young Troller, the groom of yesterday, toured California from his home in Milwaukee last summer, and met his future bride at a social function. It was the old story of "love at first sight."

The wedding was attended by only the families of the contracting parties. After a honeymoon trip up the Coast and through the Rocky Mountain States, the young couple will settle down in a palatial home in Milwaukee, where Mr. Troller is engaged with his father in a large mercantile business.

TO HELP THE BLIND.

Wife of Man Who Carried Message to Garcia Seeks the Creation of a State Commission.

Mrs. A. F. Rowan, wife of the man who carried the message to Garcia during the Spanish-American War, and the foremost figure in the work of improving the lot of the blind in the West, returned to San Francisco yesterday after addressing the important women's clubs here. She was advocating the passage of a bill in the Legislature providing for the establishment of a State commission to look after the interests of the blind.

With her distinguished husband Maj. Rowan, who is now retired from active service in the United States Army, Mrs. Rowan lives in San Francisco and spends her time and money doing what she can to aid the blind. The results of her work so far have been the establishment of a library for the blind in San Francisco, the founding of an association to look after the welfare of the blind there, of which she is honorary president, the founding of a library for the blind in Salt Lake City, and the passage through the Utah Legislature of a bill creating a State commission to minister to the interests of the blind there.

It is her purpose to create a similar commission in California, and she explained the necessity for such a concentrated authority in the affairs of the blind in her talks before the Friday Morning Club, the City Club and the Ebell Club.

While here she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse A. Wigmore, No. 2695 Orchard avenue.

BODY IDENTIFIED.

The body of the man who committed suicide by shooting himself in the head at a bootblack stand at Sixth and Olive streets, late Friday night, was identified yesterday as Chauncy B. Coykendall, 50 years old, formerly a prosperous grape grower of Fresno. The identification was made by his wife, who said her husband had been depressed because of financial reverses.

Selling California oranges to eastern fruit jobbers,

Appreciative.

ORANGES LIKE HOT CAKES TO EAGER FRUIT JOBBERS.

SETTING a new record for sales, the California Fruit Auction Company sold thirteen cars of oranges and one car of lemons yesterday for a total of approximately $7000 at a sale especially staged for delegates to the eleventh annual meeting of the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association of America. Their response was shown by the purchase of twelve of the fourteen cars offered.

With nearly 500 men packed into the auction-room in the basement of the Hollingsworth building, and some of the Southland's choicest packs on display, the sales under the gavel brought good prices and some spirited bidding. Another auction for the visitors will be staged at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, with from fifteen to twenty-five carloads of fruit on sale.

Though citrus auctions have long been featured in the East, and that held at regular intervals on the Erie pier at New York is the largest in the country, the opportunity presented yesterday for the buyers to meet the growers of citrus fruit was eagerly seized.

In fact, when Manager F. H. Speich of the California Fruit Auction Company, mounted the "rostrum" to open the sale, he faced a throng made up of visitors from all parts of the country, for the "Western" prefix to "Fruit Jobbers' Association" does not necessarily or actually mean that Los Angeles is entertaining fellow-westerners alone. The fact is, that Illinois is one of the best-represented States. This was shown yesterday when jobbers from that State made large inroads on the citrus fruit offered for sale by the auction company.

Besides the bidders at the sale, the railroads were to the forefront with many representatives, all anxious to get the "line haul" on the "boughten" cars.

Prices yesterday ranged from $1.02½ to $1.50 a box. The latter price was commanded by 124 boxes of "Perfections" offered by the Mutual Orange Distributors, and 337 boxes of "Carnations," sold for F. H. Speich & Co.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.

Facts, Features and Fancies.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

THE GOOD HOUSEKEEPER'S HINT: The Good Housekeeper cleans her carpet sweeper by using a common, inexpensive wire brush with which she "brushes its hair." By this method the hands need not touch the refuse which has accumulated in the bristles of the sweeper.

Those new Russian boots! Who will have the nerve to be the first to wear them down Broadway? The nerve and the feet! The feet must be perfect to stand that test, for every eye will be upon them. The ankles, too, must be all that ankles should, and beyond that—well, the wrinkles may cover a multitude of sins—the boot-top wrinkles, I mean.

There will be no concealing feet during the coming season, for the skirts continue to grow shorter every hour. No skirt prophet is brave enough to prognosticate the height to which they may go, before the summer is over. As a matter of fact, the fact that the waist line has been raised to the empire height looks menacing. This, you see, leaves room for the skirt hem to aspire to the height of the normal waist line. But—shhh!—of course this will not happen, be not afraid. And even if it should, we could elongate the Russian boot tops to cover the frontier. We're bound to be military, somehow, if it is only by donning belligerent boots and laying on a few dollars' worth of gold braid. This is Dame Fashion's way of singing "Tipperary" to the warriors.

Dress Mathematics.

As fashions come and go we are given many lessons in mathematics. At one time we may make two frocks from the fullness of one. At another we must manage to add one and one together to obtain one. This is the season of the latter. The economical girl may combine her last year's brown serge frock with the brown satin afternoon gown, and behold, a new one-piece dress! Or she may even add a green gown to the old brown ingredients, or a blue one; for brown will be fashionably conjoined to several other colors, to be smart. Two materials and two colors may aptly wed and produce smartness, for the coming mode.

In shapes, too, the short jacket and skirt may become the extremely short-waisted gown, all in one piece, and insets of a contrasting fabric may be made to eke out wherever eking is necessary. So, perhaps, despite the radical changes in the mode, we may be enabled to cut down the high cost of living, by mathematical ingenuity in the putting together of our wardrobes.

• •

New Bed Draping.

A new fad in furnishing is placing the tent canopy against the wall with the single or single-twin bed standing lengthwise before it. This is a more sanitary way of decorating the sleeping couch than the old-time one of which it is a revival. The antique draping of the four-poster gives a shut-in, smothering effect, while the more modern way is quite as decorative and lacks this fault.

• •

Less Spooning.

Welcome to the soul of that person who has never been able to guess exactly "what next," comes the announcement that but a single set of flat silver is to be placed beside the plate of the fashionable diner. With each course the silver is placed, instead of being spread out in vulgar array as heretofore, apparently for the express purpose of bewildering the innocent village guest. Simplicity in table service as well as viands, is gaining in favor, constantly. The "simple life" may at last be attained via the favor of Dame Fashion. Preaching could never bring it about.

• •

Au Natural.

A sale of yard-wide linen in the natural color, at a price ridiculously small, affords an opportunity for those who are early planning their summer clothes. This shade, natural linen, is one of the most popular for summer wear and linen will be one of the materials which shares favor with cotton in extreme popularity.

For that Digging Feeling.

Every one who loves the out-of-doors is certain to be possessed of that digging feeling as the first warm days of spring arrive and it is well to prepare to allay it by the purchase of new gardening tools. A well-known Broadway house has anticipated this "spring fever" by offering gardening implements in a special sale which will save the price of all the garden seeds, and possibly more than that.

•

"By George!"

The fashion in hatchets and in cherries set by the Father of Our Country—all unconsciously perhaps!—has developed a wondrously ingenious array of table and party favors for the celebration of that great man's birthday. It is but recently that the custom has come in vogue of identifying each national holiday by means of appropriate souvenirs. Red and white, with a touch of blue are the colors shown in most of these favors. Red for the cherry, white for the lie which was not told, and blue for truth—"true blue." In the souvenir department of a popular mid-Broadway house I saw an especially interesting array of such favors, which would inspire almost anyone hospitably inclined to give a Washington's birthday party.

•

Making Girdles.

For convenience of the home dressmaker there are girdle forms all ready to cover. They are of material heavy and strong and are boned to fit the form. This greatly simplifies the making of the uniformly used waist drapery.

• •
•

Belts are "In."

Belts are "in" again and the very newest ones are of taffeta in various shades, including sand, emerald and the tones of gray which will be popular this spring. The buckles are novel and are of metal.

The vogue of the separate skirt, so long in abeyance, has brought belts into use. Of course, these newest ones are to be seen on our own Broadway. We are always up-to-the-minute in modes.

• •
•

Good Enough to Eat.

Some of the new spring hats look good enough to eat, with their trimmings of realistic fruits. A window devoted to the display of these trimmings—yes, the one at the corner—truly makes one's mouth water. The ripe cherries are especially tempting.

• •
•

New Basketry.

The newest of the oriental baskets are not quite so deep a brown as were the first importations. The effect is lovely, both for holding fruits and flowers, or for growing plants.

• •

Really Lovable!

There is always something positively adorable about Dresden ware and when displayed as it is in that jewelry window on lower Broadway, offset with those charmingly quaint old-timey flowers which so well correspond in color with the posies on the ware, one cannot but stop and look.

• •

New Decorations.

And in some of that ware there are decorations seldom seen. For instance, there is one in which nasturtiums are prominent. The dainty shades of yellow are excellent when introduced into the Dresden scheme of decoration.

WHITE SOX ON WAY TO COAST.

Special Train Carries Twenty-five Players.

Eddie Collins Causes a Small Stampede.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—With the cheers of royal rooters ringing in their ears, the White Sox, overweight but bulging with the old determination, steamed out of the La Salle-street depot at 10 o'clock tonight for the annual spring training greens at Paso Robles.

TWENTY-FIVE PLAYERS.

Twenty-five players, most of them seasoned veterans, were in on the getaway with Manager Clarence Rowland. Forty other pilgrims, including relatives of the South Siders, camp-followers and Coast Leaguers, were aboard the special de luxe which is due to reach San Francisco next Saturday morning, where all hands will glimpse the opening of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

The following morning will find the squad at Paso Robles, unpacking and making ready for a two-weeks' conditioning grind incidental to hitting the trail for a series of eighty-two exhibition combats, equally divided between the first and second teams.

ROWLAND SHAKES HANDS.

As was the case last spring, the Sox got under way without President Comiskey, who, with Mrs. Comiskey, departed for the Coast a week ago.

Rowland will do the honors as chaperon, however, resigning the post upon reaching the Pacific Slope, where the tourists will be met by the boss.

This was a day for hand-shaking for the players. Barring a few cases, none had previously met Rowland, who will give the orders during the coming season. Red Faber, Ray Schalk, Larry Chappell and Hi Jasper, who served their apprenticeships under the former Dubuque skipper, were on the ground floor early, renewing old acquaintances. But it was up to Shano Collins, Eddie Collins, Reb Russell, Lena Blackburne, Ray Demmitt, Hap Felch and other members of the crew to get on speaking terms with "Pants," as the new boss is known around the minor circuits.

COLLINS STAMPEDE.

The arrival of Eddie Collins, who will be accompanied on the tour by his wife, was the signal for some regular rejoicing around the Sox camp. The bugs who swarmed to the train tonight stampeded in a wild desire to lamp the former Mackman, who is expected to play a leading role in the pennant fight of the South Siders. Eddie met Rowland early in the day and swore fealty to the pale stockings.

"FATTY" PACKY TO TRAIN DOWN.

M'FARLAND THINKS HE CAN MAKE 142 FOR GIBBONS IF TITLE IS UP.

Packy McFarland, once the fastest lightweight, now the fattest, and far from the fastest middleweight mentioned in the discussions of clearing up the championship muddle in this division, is sincere in his belief he can take off enough avoirdupois to make 142 pounds for a battle with Mike Gibbons, who ranks in his class as McFarland did a few years ago among the lightweights.

Since his battle with Jack Britton in Milwaukee, December 8, 1913, after which Packy gave up the ring "for good," the stockyards king has taken on at least twenty-five pounds over the weight he demanded for his big fights—135 pounds. He has grown thick over the kidneys, his back has broadened and thickened, his paunch has grown and he is literally "beef to the heels." But he is going about his training to prepare for a Gibbons match with an earnestness that makes those who know him believe in his ability to come down to 142 pounds, if necessary.

But, granting he can make the required weight, the question of importance still remains unanswered. For the cleverness he once possessed may not return inversely proportional to the decrease in weight. And fight critics will withhold their opinion until he meets this St. Paul shadow, to whom he once gave boxing lessons.

LOANS $50 AND GETS THOUSANDS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Renewed agitation against gambling at ball parks and on the results of games today brought out a story by a West Side fan, who quotes Frank Shulte as his authority. He says a young semi-professional player named Jake, who hung around the Boston Braves' clubhouse, borrowed $50 from Joe Connolly very soon after July 4 when the Braves made their wonderful spurt.

As soon as he got the loan, Jake started betting on every game in which James and Rudolph pitched. He speedily ran the $50 into a fat sum. When the Braves landed the National League flag, Jake had a good stake, but said nothing about his winnings.

It was something like a 100 to 1 shot that the Braves would not take four straight from the Athletics. Jake grabbed all the big alluring bets that were offered. He stood to lose every cent he had accumulated, but luck was with him all the way, and when the series ended he had $25,000 to his credit at the bank.

He felt deep gratitude to Connolly for making his fortune possible, and finally gave him a check for $10,000. Connolly did not know what to make of it, and consulted Stallings, who told him it was all right. He called up the bank to see if the check was a joke, and was informed that Jake's check for $25,000 would be honored.

COAST LEAGUE MANAGERS MERCILESSLY ANALYZED.

McCredie Wins Pennants Because He is a Business Man — Hap Hogan is a Clever Strategist on the Field but Can't Control His Men Outside — Dillon, an Iceberg — Harry Wolverton.

BY A VICTIM.

WHEN the old show begins again, at the end of this week, it will be with the same cast of characters.

I have played with all the Coast League managers and under most of them. I ought to be able to size them up pretty well and tell you why some of them don't win pennants—and some do.

McCredie will keep on grabbing off most of the pennants as long as he is in the Coast League. This is not so much on account of his baseball qualities: it's mainly because he is a business man. Walter wins pennants because he provides for the deterioration of his baseball machinery—like any other factory owner. He is the only baseball manager who figures ahead.

McCredie not only knows who will be on his 1915 team, but I am willing to wager he has a pretty definite idea who will compose his 1917 team. Mac has players staked out so far ahead that half of his future stars are still feeding from the bottle.

At a conservative estimate, McCredie can be the most disagreeable baseball manager alive. Mean, sarcastic, abusive. He can make you feel like a dog in more kinds of language than any other man I ever met.

JUST SITS AND LOOKS.

I would rather be kicked all around the lot than come to the bench after making a bone-head play. Sometimes, Mac doesn't say anything much, but just sits and looks at you with pitying scorn—which is worse than anything tongue could say. Kind of a "How-long-Oh-Lord—how long will you continue to allow this thing to inflict the earth;" that's what he looks like.

In a way, McCredie's men hate him like hell; but in other ways they like him. Men can stand a great deal from a winner, and McCredie has the winning habit. Also, the players like to work for Mac because it brings them to the attention of the big leagues. The Portland club is the stepping-stone to big league fame. This is partly because Mac's business sagacity leads him to make advantageous alliances with the majors and partly because the big leaguers trust in Mac's judgment of a ball player.

This latter fact has much to do with McCredie's hold over his players. Of all the Coast League managers, he is the best judge of a player and it is recognized as a sort of guarantee of professional standing to be chosen for his line-up.

HAP TOO GENIAL.

Hap Hogan will, in my opinion, never win a pennant. On the field, he is a clever, smart, tricky baseball tactician; but he doesn't have enough control of the men off the field. This is the explanation of many of the strange reversals on the Venice team. The story of Venice's repeated failures might be marked by the bumps under the water wagon. Hap actually fails by reason of being too good a fellow. He is far too easy with the men on his team.

Hap's good-fellowship, it must be confessed, however, works two ways. It causes many fatal slumps in discipline, but it brings life back to some old veterans who are pretty far gone. A big league star takes his fall to the minors pretty hard, as a rule. Hap has a way of grabbing the discouraged, disheartened, soured major leaguer and making him play his head off on the Venice team, just by "bull."

In a wild way, Hap is a great diplomat. By sheer tact, he has been able, time and again, to build up a team out of cast-offs from the rubbish heap of the other Coast League teams. He can get work out of a player so old and so soured that he creaks at the joints when he moves.

The trouble with Hap as a baseball manager, the nearer he gets to the pennant, the further he gets from it. He kids his team along until it is playing like a house on fire and is pulling out in front like a stake horse pulling away from a selling plater; then bang! Up in the air! The reason of this is that when Hap's men get going their best way out in front their elation results in their breaking all the training rules. The team falls from the wagon and begins to go down hill again.

Hap will not change his ways this year. He couldn't change. If he changed he wouldn't be Hap. If he began to watch the men when off the field and to ride them, his work would suffer in other ways. Hap is just Hap and we must take him as we find him.

DILLON, A CHILLY GUY.

Dillon—although a human icicle—is the most abused man in the Pacific Coast League. As a man—and is some ways as a baseball manager—I admire him above all other baseball men I have known. The trouble with "Cap" is that he is not a minor leaguer. He can plan the race of a derby winner, but he is not so successful as a coaxer of half-baked boys. A minor league manager has to depend upon two classes of player—worn out and usually cranky major leaguers and immature, scared-to-death boys from the sand lots and colleges. Cap is not the one best adapted to handle either of these two classes.

Cap works too much from a chilled-steel intellect to be thoroughly successful as a handler of men. The best bosses are those who also work from their emotions and their intuitions. Cap is all cold logic and judgment. Of all the baseball men on this Coast, however, I regard him as being the most able and smartest in point of brains. If only it didn't come out in the form of sarcasm! Men will stand a lot of abuse, but the sarcasm hurts real leadership. The average baseball man hasn't the education nor the brains to "come back" when Cap, without looking even in his direction, lifts off a slice of his hide, by a cold, icy, sarcastic remark that stings and keeps on stinging. The player, who wouldn't have so much minded being sworn at, resents Cap's sarcasm; he feels that it is like shooting at an unarmed man. He feels like the unarmed man. I would like to see Cap Dillon, some day, in command of an organization of major league players who knew the game and were all trying their best and only needed a directing brain. Believe me, he has that directing brain.

WOLVERTON PRAISED.

Harry Wolverton, of all the minor league managers, is the best liked—both by the crowds and his players. His is the kind of a discipline that is never heard or seen but is always felt. You work to beat the band, and behave yourself for Wolverton because he makes you plainly understand that is the way to please him. He assumes that you want to win just as much as he does and are just as sorry for your mistakes as he is. He keeps so busy crabbing at the other team that there isn't much time for crabbing on his bench. He never talks baseball off the field to the men; he is just the sympathetic pal and friend. Harry has suffered, as a baseball magnate, by the misdeeds of others. It has been his fate to take some old lemon of a baseball team, build it up for some one else to take over and win pennants with.

Hopes Crushed.

COAST LEAGUE NOT TO BE MAJOR, SAYS BAN JOHNSON

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—President Ban Johnson, and Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, together with their wives, arrived tonight in San Francisco, having made the trip by way of the North, Seattle and Portland. The party will leave at an early hour this morning for Paso Robles.

There the wives of the two baseball leaders will be located and the magnates themselves will return not later than Saturday morning to greet the White Sox Special, due the same day. After a short visit in San Francisco, the party will go to Los Angeles to spend some time.

"I do not imagine that the project of raising the class AA leagues to the standard of the majors will be brought up, at least again this year," said Johnson. "When it was suggested by the American Association, the American League replied that if they desired it and the necessity could be proved, we would vote favorably. Of course, this was with the understanding that the National League take similar action. The American League left the matter up to me. As far as I am informed, the National League took no action whatever. Personally, I cannot see where any particular good would come of such action. Of course, had that step been taken, the Pacific Coast and the International Leagues, as well as the American Association, would have been elevated."

Mr. Johnson said that he thought the Federal League would not last a year. "There was no demand for a third league, as the receipts of the Federals show. All they have accomplished is a general raise in salaries."

HOME-RUN BAKER WILL RETIRE FROM BASEBALL.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—"Homerun" Baker is out of baseball and the Athletics have lost the greatest circuit clouter the game ever produced. This was announced by Connie Mack, of the Athletics, at the annual dinner of the Philadelphia sporting writers in the Hotel Majestic here tonight.

"I can't say I've had as good a time this year as I had in years gone by at this banquet for I've bad news on my mind," Mack said. "Frank Baker wrote me tonight that he would not play with the Athletics the coming year. I got the letter just as I sat down to this banquet table.

"Frank has decided to quit the game for good. No he's not going with the Feds nor with any other team. He's just plumb sick of travelling and he wants to settle down for good on his Maryland farm. I've had to go down to that farm and plead with him. The last time I went down I said 'Frank, I can't keep on coming down here; sign up for three years' and he did. That was last year and he has two more seasons contracted for but he wants to quit. I shall wish him luck and say O.K."

CENTRAL A.A.U. TO HOLD TRYOUTS.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Chicago will be the scene of try-outs for athletes from the territory of the Central A.A.U. who want to compete in the national events which are to be held during the summer at San Francisco in connection with the sport features of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. This was announced today by President Charles Dean of the Central A.A.U.

Swimming try-outs will wind up probably with an outdoor tournament in June, the dates for the aquatic events at San Francisco beginning July 19-24. Fencing preliminaries are to take place in April, with the finals on the Coast May 24-29. The gymnastic finals are scheduled for March 26-27, and the try-outs probably will take place March 1. Track and field events will be held here in July, with the finals at the fair August 5-12.

National try-outs for four of the eight wrestling classes—the 125, 135, 145 and 158-pound—will be held here, and the others—108, 115, 175 pounds and heavyweight—in New York.

The dates probably will come in March, as the finals are carded for San Francisco April 16-17.

FEDS TO OPEN SEASON EARLY.

PLAN TO OPEN SEASON AHEAD OF THE OLDER ORGANIZATIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Before leaving here tonight for Pinehurst, N. C., to join President R. B. Ward of the Brooklyn Federals, President Gilmore of the Federal League announced that his league would try to get an early advantage over the National and American leagues this year by opening the Federal League season several days before the other major-league openings.

It was declared on authority today that the Federal League has abandoned any intention of coming into New York City this season, and that there would be no transfer of franchises other than that of Kansas City to Newark.

CHOP SUEY WINS GAME FOR CUBS.

LAVENDER GETS EXCITED AND LOSES CONTROL; TINKER STEADIES HIM.

The right thing to say at the right time helps a whole lot on the ball field. Once Joe Tinker, then acting as captain of the old Cub team, pulled a funny one on Jimmy Lavender, star of that old West Side crowd, and it is regarded as a master stroke, trifling as the incident looked at the time.

Jimmy started the game, and almost from the jump began to wobble. He couldn't get 'em over, and the farther he went the worse he became. He was completely unnerved, and it looked as if Chance, sitting on the bench, would yank him any second. But Frank didn't show any signs of taking him out, and finally, after he had passed another man, Capt. Tinker walked over to the pitcher's slab, took the ball out of Jimmy's hand and said to him in a quiet tone:

"Jim, did you ever eat any chop suey?"

"Huh, what's that?" asked Lavender in the biggest kind of surprise.

"Say, I had some last night and it was great," Joe continued, tossing the ball up playfully. "After the game I'm going to tell you where you can get it."

Lavender stared at Tinker as if he thought he was losing his mind.

"What the ——" started Lavender, but Tinker shut him off.

"Now go on and pitch," he said "What are you afraid of, anyway?"

A dash of ice water couldn't have had better effect on Lavender. The little conversation brought him to earth again, and he pitched so well from then that the visitors couldn't beat him that afternoon.

It just goes to show how effective are little things in this funny baseball game.

GUNBOAT TAKES JOHNSON'S PLACE.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 16.—Jim Buckley, manager of Gunboat Smith, said tonight that he had received a telegram from Jack Curley, promoter of the Jack Johnson-Jess Willard fight at Juarez, Mex., to take Gunboat to the battle ground at once. Buckley said he answered that if Curley would wire railroad tickets and expense money he would start at once.

Buckley was also authority for the statement that Jack Johnson was in Havana, where he would remain, and intimated that Gunboat Smith wanted to take Johnson's place at Juarez on March 6. Color is lent to this statement by the fact that one week ago it was announced that Johnson was in Havana.

PLAY POLO IN THE RAIN.

Ladies Nomination Game at Coronado.

Mr. Beadleston's Horse Fell; no One Hurt.

Sensational Game Played by Carleton Burke.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 16.—The final game of the ladies' nomination round robin polo match was played today by the team selected by Miss Ruth Richards and that chosen by Mrs. E. Q. McVitty, giving the honors to Miss Richards's team.

Although a drizzling rain came down throughout the game, the players did not seem to mind, and played a splendid game. The Green team, championed by Miss Richards, won by a score of 11⅓ to 8¼. Owing to the slipperiness of the wet turf, Mr. Beadleston's pony fell and threw him, but he finished the game, being uninjured. The most sensational play of the game was a beautiful goal made by Carleton Burke, in the sixth period, when he sent the ball nearly the length of the field to goal.

The prize winners of the round robin were the players of the team making the greatest number of goals in the match and cups were given to all four players of the winning team and a silver vase to the lady who chose the team. The summary of the round robin as to goals was Miss Richards's team, 18; Mrs. Thomas Le Boutillier's team, 13¼; Mrs. E. Q. McVitty's team, 10. The summary of the game today was:

Mrs. McVitty's team—No. 1, E. Q. McVitty; No. 2, Harry Weiss; No. 3, C. P. Beadleston; back, Carleton Burke.

STREICHER TO BOX ROSS AT VENICE.

TWO AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP CONTENDERS TO MIX FOR GILMORE.

Two amateur championship contenders will be the principals in the main event of the weekly programme of amateur boxing matches at Venice tonight. In this match Harry Gilmore will present Louis Streicher, winner of the amateur bantamweight competition at the Los Angeles Athletic tournament a year ago. His opponent will be Jack Ross, who is virtually of championship caliber by reason of his defeat of Al McManus, who was returned the winner in the bantam division this year.

Streicher holds a winning verdict which he gained from Ross several months ago, but the latter has since developed considerably and the result in their meeting tonight should be a very determined and interesting struggle.

A good list of preliminaries has been scheduled in which Red Sullivan will face Roy Rogers at 130 pounds. George Savage and Lightning Henry, the colored lightweights, who a few weeks ago furnished one of the best events of the night, will mix it again and settle their draw decision. "Chuck" de Long goes against Eddie Toy at 122 pounds, and Homer Lawson will meet George Gonzales at 133 pounds.

BIG TROTTING STAKE SWITCHED.

TEN THOUSAND PURSE IS TO BE FOR 2:08 INSTEAD OF 2:14 CLASS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Feb. 16.—The Detroit Driving Club announced today an important innovation for the annual blue-ribbon Grand Circuit race meeting here July 27 to 31 next. The Merchants' and Manufacturers' $10,000 stake, considered the classic of the trotting turf, is changed from the 2:14 to the 2:08 trotting class. These changes are made to provide for the fast-record horses and create a home market for them, now that the foreign market is closed.

Racing at this year's meeting will be under the point system. Detroit will be the first of the big tracks to adopt the plan, which is regarded as most likely to produce spirited contests.

M'NEILL WANTS TO BOX IN A.A.U.

Allan McNeil, at one time one of the greatest amateur boxers on the Coast, and winner of the Northwest championship and Pacific Coast title, is anxious to get in on the A.A.U. tournament. He claims to be a regular amateur, not one of the made-over amateurs like Battling Chico, Kid Dalton and Jem Percy.

BIG THREE MAY PLAY IN NORTH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Football teams representing Yale, Harvard and Princeton universities may come here next fall to compete for honors, at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

This announcement was made here today to the Exposition Athletic Committee by Samuel F. B. Morse, chairman of the Subcommittee on Football, who asked that the first four days of September be set aside for American football so the college men would be able to return to the East in time to train for their contests in November.

Polo Handicap Rating Changed.

MORE GOALS TO FAMOUS STARS.

ONE INTERNATIONAL PLAYER IS SET BACK ONE—TEAMS ARE ANNOUNCED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 16.—Change in handicap polo rating announced by the American Polo Association will go into effect at the beginning of the tenth annual tournament of the Coronado Country Club Sunday, and include the raising of Watson Webb of the Longneck team from 5 to 6; the raising of Malcom Stevenson from 7 to 8, who now rates with L. E. Stoddard, an international player who has been reduced from 8 to 7. Thomas Le Boutillier has been raised from 2 to 3.

About thirty more ponies have arrived at the Coronado stables for the tournament, belonging to Watson Webb, Dr. Malaby of Pasadena and some additional ponies of the Cooperstown team. There are now 208 polo ponies at the Coronado stables, including some of the most famous in the country.

Frank von Tesmar, secretary of the Coronado club, has announced the teams for the Coast junior championship cup, which begins Sunday, as follows:

Cooperstown Junior—J. L. Stack, Thomas Le Boutillier, C. P. Beadleston, Frank Hudson.

Midwick Junior—E. Q. McVitty, Harry Weiss, C. C. Rumsey, Carlton Burke.

Riverside—H. Pattee, Hilyard Lett, Hugh Drury, Eric Pedley.

The party of poloists expected to arrive tonight in C. C. Rumsey's private car will arrive tomorrow and will probably play in Thursday's game.

MISS MELLUS WINS HER MATCH.

WOMEN GOLFERS PLAY IN SPITE OF BACHELORS' BALL AND RAINY WEATHER.

The women golfers braved the elements at the Annandale Country Club yesterday and completed their first-round matches in the tournament. And that after half of them had spent the night at the bachelors' ball, where they had breakfast at 6 a.m.

In the first flight Miss Katherine Mellus won her match from Mrs. Parrott by 10 up and 8. Mrs. Parrott was the personification of that "line of least resistance," for she did not seem able to summon an ounce of fight. Yet she is no mean golfer when the day is propitious.

Mrs. Robert Farquhar beat Miss Joan McCall by 5 up and 4, notwithstanding pretty Joan's stylish waistcoat sweater, which leaves the arms free for noble drives and follow-throughs.

Mrs. Carpenter defeated Miss Elizabeth Sherk by 7 up and 5. Mrs. Guy Cochrane defeated Mrs. H. G. Requa 4 up and 2—and this when Dr. Requa has just brought home the midwinter tournament cup from the Los Angeles Country Club.

Mrs. Dudley Fulton beat Miss Moore 4 and 3. Mrs. Fred Griffith beat Mrs. Mather 4 and 3. Mrs. Frank Griffith beat Mrs. Byles 3 and 1 and Miss Landreth won from Miss Champlin by default.

Second-round matches will be played today in the first flight, but the second flighters have still to settle the first-round match between Mrs. Berg and Miss Hart before they can proceed. Miss Marjory Maddock defeated Mrs. Perley by 1 up in their second-round match, both having drawn byes.

If the weather should be amiable this morning the eighteen-hole match play against bogey scheduled for Thursday will be held. The mixed foursomes have been changed from Friday to Thursday, so as not to conflict with the first day of the Virginia invitation, which opens Friday morning.

The seniors at Annandale decided that discretion was the better part of valor and, when they saw the rain, postponed it to next Tuesday, February 23.

Class to Exposition Tourney.

EXPOSITION GOLF DATES ANNOUNCED.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT TO BE PLAYED FROM APRIL 19 TO 25.

One of the biggest events of the exposition from the golfers' point of view will be the Panama-Pacific international championship tournament, which begins on April 19 and closes April 25.

It will be followed by every other sort of golf contest clear through to the end of May, but that first men's amateur championship will be the bright particular item on the programme. It will be held on the Ingleside links, San Francisco.

The Exhibition Golf Committee, of which C. Templeton Crocker is chairman, and Henry Roberts secretary, has just published the complete golf programme, and it is safe to say that no golfer who can get there on any sort of an excuse will stay away.

The events are open to golfers from all parts of the world, and to win any of them establishes one's fame in golfing annals forever.

The men's amateur championship, April 19-25, opens with a thirty-six-hole qualifying round (sixty-four to qualify) and proceeds via thirty-six-hole match play rounds through to the finals. These take place on the Sabbath, and are thereby assured of a sumptuous gallery.

Monday, the 26th, is dedicated to the team championship, also at Ingleside. Match play over thirty-six holes, number of men comprising a team to be decided later.

Tuesday, the 27th, sees the scene changed to the Sequoyah links at Oakland for the open events. The first is four-ball foursomes, an amateur and a professional on each side. Trophy and purse for best ball score.

Wednesday, the 28th, is exclusively for professionals.

Thursday, the 29th, is back to Ingleside for four-ball foursomes, amateurs vs. professionals, eight teams of each, thirty-six-hole match play.

Friday, the 30th, sees the amateur foursomes on the Presidio links, San Francisco, thirty-six holes.

Saturday, May 1, is the date set for the open championship on the Sequoyah links. If a pro wins it is worth $1000. Otherwise the amateur gets an equivalent trophy. Six other valuable purses and trophies pour encourager les autres.

May the 3rd is ladies' day. The women's championship opens on the Ingleside links, eighteen-hole medal qualifying round. The finals are over thirty-six holes, Saturday, May 8.

On May 3 also will be held a handicap tournament for the men on the Claremont links—eighteen holes, ten flights of sixteen to qualify. Finals are May 7, thirty-six holes.

Another handicap tournament is on the Presidio links May 9, eighteen holes, five flights of thirty-two to qualify, with thirty-six-hole finals, May 13.

A consolation event for men will be played on the Presidio links Friday, May 14, anyone who turned in scores for other events and met discouragement being eligible. Trophies galore.

A women's handicap is Monday, May 10, on the Burlingame links—eighteen-hole, first flight to play on scratch, rest on handicap. Finals are thirty-six holes for all flights; Thursday, May 13.

The women's consolation event is also at Burlingame, May 14.

And finally, comes the mixed foursomes on the Burlingame links on Saturday, May 15—eighteen-hole medal play with handicap.

HAP AFTER NEW FIRST BASEMAN FOR VENICE.

Doc White will Probably Remain with the Pitchers After All—Cap Dillon Succeeds in Persuading Clarence Brooks to Behave—Roy Mitchell Wants to Play with the Tigers this Season.

CAP DILLON returned from Laguna Beach yesterday afternoon, and announced that he and Clarence Brooks had finally agreed on the terms to be stated in the backstop's 1915 contract. To date Brooks has not signed, but is expected to any time, now that he has accepted the terms tendered him.

Long Tom Hughes returned to Los Angeles just after Dillon had departed for Laguna, consequently the Angel manager and pitcher did not clash per schedule. Thomas went out to the ball park yesterday morning, but nothing startling took place during his presence there. He still remains a holdout, but, like Ellis and Wolter, is expected to sign before the training season pops open for public inspection.

* * *

Roy Mitchell, a St. Louis American hurler, yesterday informed Hap Hogan that he is desirous of getting on with the Tigers. At present Mitchell is in the East, and in a wire to Hap asked the Tiger chieftain to state his terms. This Hap did at once, but heard nothing since from the Brown pitcher.

Mitchell probably would make a good man for the Tigers this season, he having a fairly good season with the Browns last year. According to Hogan, every attempt will be made to secure Roy, as the Tiger hurling staff does not loom up quite as strong as it could be made to do with a little more added material.

* * *

Hogan also stated that he had heard nothing definite from Baltimore regarding his chances of securing First Baseman Jack Gleishmann from that club.

Hap is trying to land this bird to play first for the Tigers, having finally decided to keep White in the pitchers' section of the diamond instead of placing him around first base, as was planned a while back.

* * *

Bert Graham, who was a very prominent citizen in the Imperial Valley League this winter, is of the candid opinion that he would feel perfectly natural dolled up in an Oakland uniform.

At present Graham composes a large section in the collection of ball players wintering here, and is now negotiating with the Oakland management for an outfield berth.

The Davenport club, which is one-eighth of the I.I.I. organization, consider Bert as their property, but the big fellow expects to have no trouble in breaking connections with that club providing he will secure an Oak berth.

John Barnes, Aberdeen manager, is in town and has announced that he will purchase Graham from Davenport unless the Oaks decide to take proper care of him.

* * *

Irish Muesil and Cap Dillon indulged in a long and private conversation out under the Washington Park building yesterday, and at the conclusion of all that took place it appears as though the big outfielder will once again be registering around the Coast League hotels as an Angel.

Cap wants Irish and Irish wants to be a Cap. That much of the deal has been definitely completed, but Irish has yet to secure the consent from Washington to purchase chicken feed in the Coast League territory during the 1915 season. Muesil was once an Angel, and was taken up to Washington by Clark Griffith, later farmed out to the New York State League and still later railroaded to Minneapolis. Here Muesil absolutely refuses to report, consequently is endeavoring to get back with the Angels.

* * *

That Gleishmann would make a swell man for Hap, notwithstanding the fact that he possesses a very peculiar name, is plainly indicated by the dope book. Here's his record in the International League for last season. Give it the double "O:"

Batting—

|---|---|---|---|---|---|

Fielding—

| G. | P.O. | A. | E. | P.c. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 127 | 1215 | 97 | 18 | .986 |

This plainly shows that Gleishmann would make a grand hitter for the Venice club. Anyone who can tickle the orbicular for an average of .288 should encounter no trouble in getting away good in the Coast circuit.

HARRY WOLVERTON RELEASES O'LEARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Charley O'Leary, San Francisco infielder, and one of the highest salaried Coast League players, was unconditionally released today by Harry Wolverton, manager of the Seals.

O'Leary, who officiated for the Seals at third base last year, held out for more money than Wolverton could pay, although he had signed his contract. Rather than have a disgruntled player in the team, the Seal manager sacrificed him.

DICK DONALD OFF TO WASHINGTON.

Dick Donald, erstwhile manager of Bud Anderson, the bloomer lightweight, has announced that he is soon off to the State of Washington. The new boxing bill of Washington permits ten-round no-decision fights under the supervision of the State Boxing Commission, and the fight headquarters of the Pacific Coast are to be removed to the northern country soon.

An attempt was made to get the same sort of a bill passed in Oregon, only for six-round battles; but the proposed bill never even got into the Legislature.

FIGHTER REMOVES MARKS OF RING.

COLLEGE MAN WHO TURNED FIGHTER HAS EARS AND NOSE FIXED.

Since the pugilistic profession has been ruled off the boards in California it's up to the old-time fighters to get rid of the marks if they can.

There is a handsome young man who gives demonstrations with exercisers down at the B. H. Dyas shop who was at one time a regular fighter and a battle-scarred veteran of the ring. In his college days his name was H. A. Sheldon. As a fighter he took on the label of Eddie Dennis.

At St. Mary's College, Oakland, Sheldon played Rugby, baseball and spent a great deal of his time in the gymnasium. After graduation, he was graduate coach for a season, then turned up as the feather and lightweight amateur boxing champion of the Pacific Coast.

That was about enough. He soon went into the professional ring, fighting under the name of Eddie Dennis. He fought Mandot, Frankie Hayes, Abie Label and many others in the four-round game. He fought Jack White a twenty-round set at St. Joseph, Mo., and fought Willie Ritchie his third fight at the Mare Island navy yard in 1909.

When he landed a booking on Orpheum time, Sheldon, or Dennis as he was then rated, gave up the fight game for good. He had his nose straightened and his ears ironed out again. It cost him the sum of $350, but he says it's worth it at that.

STUTZ MANAGERS COMING TO RACES.

The Vanderbilt and Grand Prize races in San Francisco are drawing a large delegation from the Stutz interests throughout the country. Harry C. Stutz, president of the company, is now in San Francisco with the racing team. Walter M. Brown, distributor for Southern California and Arizona, is to go north today, but has been busy during the past week acting as a guide.

Brown has had as guests, C. W. Parkinson, the New York agent for the Stutz line; A. L. Carter, the Dallas (Tex.) agent, and Robert Mapole, the Chicago distributor.

| Union League | 1 | 1 | .500 |
| Jonathan | 0 | 1 | .000 |
| University | 0 | 2 | .000 |

The L.A.A.C. cue specialists captured their game from the Union League billiard players in the L.A.A.C. parlors last night, repeating their work of the night previous by winning two of the three contests staged.

Harry Watson, as usual, walked off with the pocket-billiard game nestled up under his long arms, defeating "Tub" Moore 200 to 116. Moore played a nice stick last night, but the handicap he was compelled to shoot against was too large to overcome.

Charley Aumock displayed his skill in making the three orbiculars of ivory kiss each other with great regularity in the three-cushion game, winning from T. J. Reiner of the Union League 50 to 33. Just as Charley Chaplin had a night out, did Reiner have a night off, bumping into trouble of every make and description.

In the balk-line entertainment Howard succeeded in drubbing Windler of the Union League establishment 250 to 84. Howard also had a night off, and failed to attain his high average for high runs during the progress of the game.

Howard was breaking in a perfectly new pair of shoes, and probably his bunions and corns caused a little discomfort down around where his gravel protectors are operated.

Inability of Windler to control his cue ball caused his unmerciful walloping. He had a hop on his fast one, his curve was breaking smoothly, but he lost his control in the pinches, going even so far as to jump clear off the table. Outside of that, Windler shot a fairly good stick.

Tonight at the Jonathan Club billiard parlors the Sierra Madre and Jonathan teams are slated to cross cues. Considerable interest is being displayed between the various clubs in this tournament, and some pretty classy play is being exhibited.

SNODGRASS WILL PLAY IN SOUTH.

BIG LEAGUER TO PLAY WITH SANTA BARBARA IN SAN DIEGO.

Fred Snodgrass, the young man who made himself famous two years ago by dropping a fly ball in the world's series, is to play ball in San Diego next Saturday. Snodgrass when not playing baseball is a California rancher. After completing a few innings on his ranch, a few miles up the coast from here, the ball player is taking a rest, mixing with his friends about this city until the call to arms is sounded.

Next Saturday the Santa Barbara Elks are going to San Diego to try and win a little cup back from the southern Bills. A few seasons back the Santa Barbara Elks felt strong and put up a cup to play for. The San Diego boys took them on and won the goblet. Since then the Santa Barbara lodge has been planning revenge.

Next Saturday and Sunday are to be given over to the fair city of Santa Barbara by the San Diego exposition officials, and the ball game is to be one of the big features.

Santa Barbara has Snodgrass, Charley Hall, who used to be a big leaguer, but is not any longer; Arthur Caldwell, Whitey Hensling, Ed Hearne and Lee Wolf.

About the only celebrated personage registered on the San Diego score sheet is old Soldier Carson, the pitcher who was among Hap Hogan's favorites a season or so ago, but who has been a subdued resident of San Diego for many months.

G. KASSEN WINS DOG-SLED RACE.

MOOSE BURDEN HANDICAP FROM NOME TO SOLOMON MADE IN GOOD TIME.

NOME (Alaska) Feb. 16.—G. Kassen, with Miss Rowena Lewis riding on his dogsled, won the Moose Burden Handicap dog race from Nome to Solomon, a distance of thirty-two miles over the snow trail, today. His official time was two hours and forty-one minutes.

Under the rules of the race the dogs driven by each of the twenty-four contestants had to draw a burden consisting of sled, driver and a woman passenger. A total of 270 dogs participated in the race, the teams ranging from seven to sixteen animals. Kassen drove nine.

Harry Bloomfield was second in two hours and forty-four minutes, and W. H. Webb was third in two hours and forty-eight minutes.

Besides a loving cup given to the winner, twenty prizes were distributed among the other contestants.

NEW TEAMS TOP BOWLING LISTS.

TRIX GERMAN OF ST. PAUL HAS THE HIGHEST SCORE AT MINNEAPOLIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—Two new teams topped the list of leaders in the singles and doubles events as a result of today's bowling at the International Bowling Association's tournament.

Trix German of St. Paul was the individual high man tonight with a score of 640, and T. R. Tennyson and B. Newhouse of Minneapolis, with 1265 points, headed the two-man list.

Twenty-six teams, all but two from Minneapolis, rolled tonight in two five-men shifts.

MANUAL GIRLS TRY ARCHERY.

The girls of Manual Arts High School have taken up the archery sport with a great deal of enthusiasm, under the supervision of Miss Gephardt. The Polytechnic girls have entered upon an entirely different field, that of field hockey. It is more than likely that a team will represent the institution during the coming season.

PREPS START BALL PRACTICE.

NORWALK TO HAVE VETERAN NINE.

Coach Jennings of Venice has Three Old Men — Clendenen is Building up Team at Culver City. Y.M.C.A. has been Practicing for Some Time.

The Southern California high schools have jumped into baseball with a rush this season. Norwalk, South Pasadena, San Pedro, Santa Monica and Venice have all ordered new suits and promise to make a great season.

Norwalk has a long list of veterans back for the season. Herman Sheets, short; Archie Thornton, first; Delbert Baltz, outfielder; Jack Nuffer, second; Dave Jones, third; Jimmy Newton, catcher; Paul Bryant, outfielder; Ray Moffit, pitcher; Eddie Sackett, first, and George Washburn, outfielder, are some of the most promising men out.

Norwalk opens the season with Citrus Union High March 13.

Coach Jennings of Venice High has a likely squad out. Among the candidates are Goodwin, catcher; Nagley, Clendenen and Galloway, infielders.

Coach Caldwell of Santa Monica has a number of veterans on hand from which he will mold his club.

D. Clendenen is working up a fast team at Culver City. Harry Culver is personally working up the grounds and promises one of the best diamonds in the State when the work is completed.

The Y.M.C.A. also has started out with a fast ball club. The association men are to play Manual Arts High School their opening game a week from Saturday. Some of the men out for the team are McLeod, catcher; Archer, catcher; Upp, pitcher; Boswell, first; Flourney, second; Morrow, outfielder; Audit, outfielder, and Eggeston, shortstop.

YELLOWFIN AND SURF RUNNING.

Yellowfin and surf fish are beginning to run. A fisherman from Manhattan Beach happened into the Cline-Cline establishment yesterday, and after purchasing a supply of fishing ammunition, told the boys that the fishing was opening at all the beaches, with Manhattan in the lead.

Expect to Win.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, Feb. 16.—As the result of tryouts held yesterday afternoon, Coach Stanton has announced the names of the men who will compete for Pomona in the Occidental relay carnival, Saturday.

The team of quarter-milers will be picked from the five men whose names have been announced, George Green, Powelson, Given, Clary and Cogswell.

The two-mile team will be composed of Capt. La Follette, Walter Sturgis, "Det" Sturgis and Walden.

Several surprises occurred in the try-outs. Cogswell upset the dope when he defeated Clary in a dual race. Two years ago he was one of Pomona's best bets in the relay. Last year he was kept out of the running as the result of injuries sustained during football season. Next to George Green, Cogswell ran the fastest heat of the day, covering the 440 yards in 54s.

George Green won his heat with ease from Powelson, the time being slow. Powelson is slow in rounding into condition, and is never at his best until near the end of the season. Given put Charles Green out of the running, and finished his heat in less than 55s.

None of the time made in the try-outs was fast, but this may be accounted for by the fact that the recent rains have left the track in a slow condition.

The try-outs for the two-mile team took the form of a half-mile race between the men trying out for berths on the team. The first four to cross the tape were chosen to represent Pomona Saturday.

The half-milers are rounding into shape fast. La Follette and the Sturgis brothers are known quantities. Walden is a newcomer to intercollegiate competition, but has shown up in fine style in such races as have been run so far this year. Coach Stanton expects him to develop into a consistent point-winner for the Sagehens. He will fill the place in last year's team left vacant by the graduation of Davies.

The Huns are almost confident of repeating their success of last year in the two-mile event, as the team that wears the Blue and White will be capable of making even faster time Saturday than last year's team. It is in the mile relay that Pomona figures she will have the hardest competition. The men do not seem to be as far along in their training as in 1914, and will not be in the pink of condition Saturday. Then the loss of Gillette has left a big hole in the team. According to all dope, the Sage Hen team should be able to cover the mile in better than 3:32, and this may be fast enough to win a first place.

Vanderbilt Cup Race.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—That the Vanderbilt and Grand Prize automobile races scheduled for February 22 and 27, respectively, would be held on the original dates was the last word given out tonight by the exposition officials. A heavy rain last night and a heavier downpour today has placed the mile dirt track in poor condition, but Starter Fred J. Wagner has a force of workmen engaged in draining the lower parts of the course. The drivers have had absolutely no practice and the indications are that they will not have over two days' training. Race officials will meet tomorrow morning, at which time some definite action will be taken relative to a postponement.

At a conference this afternoon of the men in charge it was reported that notwithstanding the rainy weather of the last few weeks, there were no impossible obstacles in the way of the event taking place on schedule time.

For the last two days and nights the mile race course has been "cooked" with burning crude oil and gasoline. It is reported that as a result of this treatment the track has been whipped into fairly good form. Immediately after the conference orders went out to carry on the work on the track both day and night.

W. L. Hughson, chairman of the Race Committee, declared tonight that the question of the condition of the track had been thoroughly studied from all possible angles and that all doubt had been removed as to going ahead with the race. Alex Sloan of Chicago and Fred J. Wagner of New York, official starters, both experts in the matter of track conditions, spent the greater part of today at the track. They both declared that they have seen international automobile races held under more adverse conditions than those existing here.

"SNOWY" BAKER HAS REAL SYSTEM.

FIGHTERS BOX EARLY IN MORNING BEFORE THEY ARE TIRED OUT.

"In Australia," explains McGoorty, "they tell you to do your gym boxing in the morning when you get up and before you go on the road. Their idea is that a man should be at his best when he boxes. They don't think a man should pull on the gloves after his hard work and when his mind and muscles are all dulled. This reversal of the American idea is the best thing I ever experienced.

"I'm sure it has improved my speed," went on Eddie. "The Australians are coming fast and I look to see them supreme in the boxing world if they continue to improve. Snowy Baker is responsible for the change. He has put boxing on a higher plane than it has ever been before in Australia."

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR JUAREZ BOUT.

HECTOR M'KENZIE HAS 75 RESERVATIONS ALREADY FOR HEAVYWEIGHT GO.

A letter was received by Hector McKenzie of this city yesterday from Ed Curley at Juarez, assuring McKenzie and his friends that the Jess Willard-Jack Johnson battle is a sure go. Curley claims to be in communication with Johnson every day.

Curley and Tom Jones, Ad Wolgast's old manager, are on the job at Juarez and say that the date of the fight will be announced as soon as Johnson lands and is located in his training quarters.

McKenzie is planning on running a special train from Los Angeles to El Paso for the battle. The rates have been secured and seventy-five names have been secured calling for reservations, even before the match is dated.

SULLIVAN CAUGHT IN 1300 GAMES.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—William J. Sullivan, veteran catcher of the Chicago American League club, who was given his unconditional release yesterday, held many records during the twenty years he played professional baseball.

Statistics compiled here today show that Sullivan caught in 1300 games during his sixteen years' career as a major leaguer. In one season, while a member of the Dubuque (Iowa) club, he caught 124 consecutive games. He also won fame a few years ago by catching three balls dropped from the Washington Monument at Washington, D. C.

SOPHS WIN BEAR REGATTA.

Class of '17 Takes Row for Second Time and Proves that Paid Coaching System is Only One — Seniors and Juniors were Coached by Captains who Tried Out Pet Theories and "Bawled" Them Up.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 16.—The present sophomore class gained more glory by winning the interclass regatta. Last year, when these now mighty "sophs" were insignificant freshmen, they caused great consternation by winning this same race. It now begins to look as if the interclass regatta belongs permanently to the 1917 class.

It is not frequently that the interclass crew race goes to an underclass crew, and when it does juniors and seniors begin to think of ways in which to suppress the nuisance. However, the victory of the sophomore crew over those which have had much more experience is a great justification for the retention of a paid expert coach.

The junior and sophomore classes learned the rudiments of eight-oar work under the directions of senior captains. Each captain had ideas of his own, and usually proceeded to try them out on his charges. Consequently the stroke has been changed a little each year. The unlearning of old ways oftimes took as much effort as the acquiring of new ways. This lack of continuity in the coaching system is one reason why the underclass crews, which have been trained by one system only, have shown such progress over that made by the upperclass eights.

THE RACE.

Fine weather and a smooth estuary made the race ideal. Following a delay caused by the partial swamping of the senior boat, the four eights lined up for the mile and a half pull. At the guns the sophs gave a mighty heave, and old "ninety-eight" fairly jumped into the lead, not to be caught until the finish. The seniors, juniors and freshmen strung out in the order named, all pulling at an even thirty-two stroke. At about the middle of the course No. 9 of the "babe" shell lost control of his oar and in the effort to regain an even keel the freshman boat lost five full lengths. When the babes finally did right themselves they made up for the loss by opening up with a terrific thirty-eight stroke. They held this sprint pace until they had regained all but a length on the junior boat. The burst of speed told on the babes, and the best that they could do was to come nosing along in the wash of the junior craft.

FINISH.

Three lengths and a half separated the sophomores and seniors at the finish. Official time for the mile and a half was declared to be 8m. 4s. All of the boats finished within twenty-five seconds after the sophomore shell shot over the finish line, and the spectators were treated to an exciting finish for second place.

JACK RUSSELL TO TRY HIS NEW GUN.

H. W. Jack Russell is the owner of a new Ross bone-smasher, which was a birthday present. He has decided to try the gun out and has arranged a little goat-slaughtering party to Catalina Island next Saturday. Al Loomis, with his Winchester, and Pete Peterson with his .280 Ross, will complete the party. The hunters are going over in Loomis's motor boat, according to the present schedule.

JIMMY JAMES TO GO BACK TO AMES.

Jimmy James, the husky lad who played a star game for the U.S.C. varsity at the end of last season, has announced his retirement from the Southern California football field. James intends to go East next fall and register at Ames Agricultural College. He came to U.S.C. from Ames. He will lose a year when he returns to the eastern institution, establishing residence. That cuts his ball career down to a short period.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Big Combination.

Klaw & Erlanger have definitely entered the motion-picture field, according to advices received yesterday. They have effected a consolidation of the World Film Corporation, the Alliance Company and the General Film Company, and will produce and release their own pictures. This combination will make one of the strongest picture organizations in the country, competing with the present large producers.

Present stars of the Klaw & Erlanger companies, as well as other noted actors, will take part in the pictures, which will be great twelve and fourteen-reelers, to be shown in the Klaw & Erlanger houses throughout the country, and also in high-class motion-picture houses.

This announcement was made public yesterday by R. C. Hill, general manager of the Masterpiece Company, on information received from Frank Hill of the same company, who is still in New York, securing members for at least two new companies to work for the Masterpiece. The Masterpiece releases under the Alliance programme.

Expansive.

The Masterpiece Company is enlarging its studios at Hollywood and building large property rooms, dressing rooms and printing and developing departments. It promises to have one of the best-equipped studios in Southern California.

Hall Caine's "The Bondsman" and other scenarios are being written by J. S. Clawson.

New Bosworth Director.

Oscar Apfel has left the Lasky studio to accept a position with the Bosworth. The first picture he will direct will be "Wild Olive," a Morosco play.

Reform Note.

"The day of slap-stick and rough-house stuff is swiftly passing," said Mr. Sennett, "and the new film farces I am preparing are of a distinctly higher class of comedy. The new six-reel comedy which I am at present working on marks a new epoch in Keystone work."

Some Plays.

William de Mille's well-known play, "The Woman," will be filmed by the Lasky Company, with Mabel Van Buren in the leading role. The woman whose name the telephone girl would not disclose is to be made the principal part, rather than the role of the telephone girl, as in the play.

"The Captive," an original scenario by Cecil de Mille and Jean MacPherson, is also to be filmed shortly, with Blanche Sweet and House Peters leading. The piece is a Turkish story, and some sumptuous settings are being prepared.

Courage.

Carlyle Blackwell is busy staging the last scenes of "High Hand." He uses the City Hall today and the capitol at Sacramento next week. Carlyle wouldn't be afraid to ask for the pearly gates if he needed 'em.

Lines from Unspoken Drama.

Scene: Studio.

Enter actors, all gussied up.

Official affinity (very young:) Oh, may I see her?

Director: Not now. Run off, child.

Director (to disappearing official affinity:) Here, come back, come back! I'm so busy today, I didn't know what I was saying. Sure, take her for a spin out in the country. It will do her good.

Husband: What's that? Who?

Wife: Oh, dearie, I'm so glad you came back so soon!

Husband: Yes, but who's he? (Pointing to trembling youth.)

Wife (with wink at director:) Ah, can you not forgive—I am so lonely—without you. And he's such a little one!

Husband challenges O.A. to duel.

O.A.: But—but—I—

O.A.: I—I never fought a duel in my life, but come on!

Director, following O.A., demands: Why will you do such things? Disgracing my studio?

With His Own Fair Hand.

There is to be a Dustin Farnum souvenir matinee at the Burbank some day soon, date to be announced later. Signed photographs of Mr. Farnum will be given away. So great has been the demand for Mr. Farnum's photographs, that that gentleman has decided to make a day of it, and as soon as he has half a day off he's going to sign photographs as long as his arm holds out.

Departing Glory.

Jef the Second.

Joseph Jefferson, son of the noted actor of "Rip" fame, has joined the Reliance actors, with David Griffith, and will appear shortly in his first film drama, "The Tramp," by Russell E. Smith.

Called Back.

Called Down.

Temperament Stuff.

By the way, have you noticed the pitiful weeping of the little girl in the negro cabin scene of "The Clansman?" Know how those tears were won? Mr. Griffith tried all the known methods short of spanking to get the child to weep, threatening with the boggy man and telling her the bears would get her. All to no avail. Finally he cried out: "You're a rotten actress! You can't work in pictures! I'm going to send you home." And it was then the tears flowed freely.

Flicker Novelty.

A distinct innovation, and one promising to revolutionize to a certain extent the art of motion picture production, is that introduced by Thomas H. Ince in "The Sign of the Rose," George Beban's great Broadway success, and the film drama, in which he is now playing. The idea is none other than a combination of the spoken and film drama, Mr. Beban himself appearing at each performance.

Mr. Ince is establishing a record for quick work, the picture being nearly finished, though he has been working only about two months. The secret is his clever systematizing of his work, so that not an ounce of energy or a moment of time is wasted.

Gown Repertoire.

Anita King, leading woman in "Snobs," for the Lasky company, wears a flock of wonderful gowns, all designed for her by Mrs. Samuel Goldfish, who designs all dresses for the Lasky stage productions, and is entering the same field in pictures.

Mrs. Goldfish did not accompany her husband east, but remained for the purpose of helping in the staging and costumes of the Lasky film plays.

List Well.

"If you think you hear a call to write moving picture scenarios, be sure it ain't some other noise you hear!" is the comment of Frank Woods of the Reliance, who reads about a ton of them a week.

Some Mourners.

Some of the silver plate used in "The Warrens of Virginia," that is sold by the Warren family in the play, has a most interesting history attached. It belonged to the De Mille family, and once was nearly buried at a funeral!

It was during the Civil War, when the family was occupying the old homestead.

"The Yanks were reported to be near," said Mr. De Mille, "and we hit on the novel plan of holding a funeral over the precious family plate and burying it. So when that Yankee captain entered the room he beheld the casket and the weeping 'relatives.' But like most Yanks, he was a good guesser, and he said he'd like to behold the deceased. All the family protested, but it was no use. He was firm; said he never could enter into the spirit of a funeral without looking at the remains. So off came the lid! Of course, he confiscated most of the silver, but my grandmother managed to soften his heart to the point of giving her a few pieces, which have come down to my brother and me.

Dusty's Clothes.

Dustin Farnum is wearing the same yellow handkerchief and gray shirt that he has always worn in "The Virginian." These articles of wardrobe were bestowed on him by Owen Wister, author of the book.

Doesn't Hurt.

Good Ad.

Theodore to Shine.

HIGH SCHOOLS MAY BE KEPT OUT OF OXY RELAYS.

Southern California Against Allowing Preps to Enter College Meets—Occidental was not Given Notice. Agreement to Let this Meet be Last—Some Principals Keeping Men Out of It.

THE Occidental relay carnival, which is to be held Saturday, has stirred up all kinds of commotion. The trouble lies between the athletic heads of the high schools and the college.

When U.S.C. and Pomona made known their intention of holding athletic meets for high schools this year, the Southern California Council, which is a body composed of the principals of the high schools for the purpose of regulating interscholastic athletics, openly objected.

Committees were appointed to confer with the different colleges and persuade them not to do so. It was claimed that high school athletics were coming to the place where they would soon be controlled by the colleges. The council also was not in favor of the giving of medals to the men, as they felt it was detrimental to the proper spirit, inasmuch as it tended to influence the men to take up sports for the sake of trophies and not the benefits to be derived.

Pomona and U.S.C. were induced to call off their meets, but for some reason Occidental was not notified until a short time ago. Arrangements had already been made to hold the carnival and the college people felt that they should have been warned sooner.

This objection was made and finally the high school authorities consented to allow their men to enter, under the condition that it would be the last affair of the kind.

Tonight the entries are to close, and so far only four high schools have been heard from. It is claimed that the high school authorities have not held to their part of the agreement. The boys themselves are all anxious to compete and the coaches have no objections, but in several cases the schools have refused to indorse the entry lists.

The college people have made elaborate preparations for the coming event and have already procured the medals and cups to be given. At the last minute it looks as though a misunderstanding may spoil it.

The idea to have the high school athletics taken care of by the parties concerned arose from the fact that the meets held under the outside management were always the cause for a great deal of dissatisfaction and hard feeling. It was thought that a body such as the present council would better be able to handle affairs.

Stanford University has been holding interscholastic meets for years, as has the University of California. They were asked to discontinue them and it is claimed that Stanford refused.

The high school athletes themselves do not care who manages the meets, but they feel that the ban should be lifted on medals. At one time medals were given for the city meet, but that is changed and now the winners draw a ribbon. An effort is being made to return to the practice of donating substantial prizes for the meet this year.

"You can't do that unless you pay the fee," once more patiently explained the court.

"I will get you later, if I don't get you now," boasted the enraged man.

"You are fined for contempt," declared the court. "You will pay $250 at the rate of $2 a day imprisonment."

"I don't care if you fine me $1,000,000," frothed Cahill, "I'll never pay it."

This was the signal for Deputy Sheriff Webb to spring at Cahill, who was on his feet and edging toward the court on his bench. Cahill, a powerful man, fought desperately as Mr. Webb closed with him. Court Interpreter Patterson and Mrs. Cahill's counsel, J. H. Foley, went to the deputy's assistance, and the quartette swayed this way and that as Mr. Webb sought to snap on the handcuffs. The court spectators were wildly excited as the struggle went on. Finally Cahill was overpowered and forced into a seat at the long table. During the trial he sat manacled.

Judge Monroe paid the appearance fee out of his own pocket, and thus befriended, Cahill asked his wife and daughter many insulting questions. He went so far in his insane rage as to deny his marriage to the suffering wife, and he denied that Mrs. Hannah Butler was his own daughter. Both detailed his acts of cruelty; his violent temper and his improvidence.

Mrs. Butler stated later that her father was never able to hold down a job. He pursued them to this city and used insulting language in front of their home.

Because the marriage certificate had been destroyed by Cahill, Judge Monroe continued the case until a certified copy can be obtained from Chicago, where the couple were married September 11, 1882.

Cahill was taken, manacled, to the County Jail, where he will stay 125 days until he has worked out his time. On the way he maintained a sullen silence.

GREED OVERCOMES HIS DISCRETION.

MODERN FAGIN SEEKS PUPIL IN JAIL AND HE, TOO, IS CAUGHT.

The distrust of a modern Fagin of his prize pupil and his anxiety for quick action in the disposition of stolen jewels, yesterday caused the arrest of Leo Tritsch, ex-convict and instructor of youthful thieves. In an adjoining cell at the City Jail is Thomas Lloyd, pupil of Tritsch, who has confessed to his share of a number of thefts, which the police declare will aggregate $10,000.

Yesterday morning, the Lloyd boy started from the Tritsch rendezvous, which is yet to be located by the police, with a quantity of watches and jewels. At noon he arrived in Long Beach and was attempting to dispose of a gold watch when he was noticed by Chief of Police Cole.

The boy was questioned and admitted that the articles had been given him by Tritsch to be disposed of. In his possession was found two diamond rings, a bag of gold nuggets, two watches and a quantity of gold dust.

He was brought to the City Jail at about the time that Tritsch became anxious. Later in the afternoon, when the Fagin had not heard from his star pupil, he haunted the corridors of Central Police Station. Finally he summoned courage and applied to the detective bureau for a warrant for the arrest of Lloyd.

In an adjoining room the boy, who is only 15 years old, was being questioned by detectives and had told of his dealings with the instructor in crime.

Tritsch started down the hallway in an effort to escape. Detective Chapman gave chase and at the doorway overtook his man. When Tritsch was searched before being locked up on a charge of suspected burglary and of being a "fence," the detectives found diamond rings valued at about $2000 and $200 in cash.

All of the goods found in the possession of Tritsch were at once identified as having been stolen from a house in Florence last November.

It is believed by the police that there are several other students in the school of crime and that the boy, Lloyd, will be able to give information which will lead to their arrest.

DAY CROWDED WITH EVENTS.

Real Estate Man Peeved by Unusual Happenings.

Flexible Currency Adopted by Federal Reserve.

Physician's Wife Dead After Hospital Operation.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 17.—W. C. Hicks, a real estate man with offices at No. 52 South Fair Oaks avenue, had more peculiar experiences in six hours yesterday than usually fall to the lot of a man in six months or even six years.

When he arose in the morning he discovered that the two tabbies which he had taken from the street and starvation, had become mothers of large families during the night. Hicks was peeved, because fourteen cats are too many for anybody except a cat fancier. Something had to be done with them and that right away.

When he reached his office he was not in a pleasant frame of mind, and he had no sooner opened his desk than in walked a woman who tried to wish three boys on him. "Is this Mr. Hicks, who used to have an office in the Central building in Los Angeles?" she asked. Mr. Hicks admitted that he was. "Well, you are the man I'm looking for, then. I have your brother's three boys, and you will have to take them and provide for them. I can't do it any longer."

Mr. Hicks, when sufficiently recovered from the shock, told the woman that he had no brother. "Oh, yes, you have," she declared, "and you are the one I want to see." Finally, Hicks informed her that there was another Hicks in the Central building and she went away convinced.

By this time it was noon and when he returned from his lunch he found a long-distance telephone number on his desk. When he called up, a woman answered. He asked who it was, and she replied that it made no difference, but she was looking for a Mr. Hicks who used to live in Montreal. Fearful than another family was about to be wished upon him, Mr. Hicks said, "Well, I'm afraid I can't qualify." And the woman answered sweetly that she was sorry, for a vast estate awaited the Montreal man.

Before the day was over, a man came in to buy some real estate and, after selecting a whole block in the tract which Hicks is selling, he was asked when he could pay for it. "Oh," said the would-be purchaser, "I haven't any idea when I can pay. I have a rich old aunt in the East, though, who is going to leave me a lot of money, and she is in mighty poor health. I wouldn't be surprised to hear of her death any time."

The deal was not concluded, but Mr. Hicks went home wondering if something wasn't wrong with his head, for he couldn't conceive of so many experiences coming to one man in one day.

FLEXIBLE BANKING.

The Federal Reserve Board and its branch banks have created a new system, which is evidence of the ability of the American business community to find the solution for a very difficult problem, so stated William Molson MacPherson, president of Molson's Bank, at the Huntington last night. This bank, with headquarters at Montreal, has eighty-nine branches scattered throughout the Dominion.

"The new plan," added Mr. MacPherson, "provides a currency which is flexible and which can flow without obstruction to any part of this great country where most needed. It can supply the enlarged demands of a temporary nature without making it necessary for the banks to either curtail or call in loans of their regular customers. The Federal reserve system will help domestic business very materially, and its value will be very marked in the development of the over-seas trade."

Mr. MacPherson predicts that the wealth of his country will be added to materially next autumn, because the farmers are increasing the acreage of grain crops by fully 25 per cent. and are raising more stock than in the past.

MRS COATES DIES.

The cause of the death of Mrs. B. O. Coates, wife of Dr. B. O. Coates, a prominent physician of this city, at the Marengo Hospital early yesterday morning, is shrouded in mystery.

No information as to the cause of death could be had at the hospital and Dr. Coates, who was at his home, grief-stricken, referred all reporters and others seeking information to his attorneys, Ticknor and Carter, or to Dr. G. E. Campbell. When asked the cause of the sudden death and if it in any way could be connected with alleged injuries of last autumn, Mr. Ticknor said that he could not discuss the case at all just now.

Mrs. Coates was 35 years old and was born in England, where she leaves a mother, a sister and a brother. She also has a sister living in the East, who has been notified. The body is at the undertaking establishment of Burnham & Kemp. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

STRAUS ENTERTAINS.

T. J. O'Brien, former Ambassador to Italy, was the honored guest last night at an elaborately planned dinner party given by Oscar Straus, former Ambassador to Turkey, in the grillroom at the Huntington.

Golden daffodils and violets made up the centerpiece and American flags intertwined with Italian flags made up the other table decorations. American flags were used about the walls to give color to the grillroom. Included in the party in which the two diplomats played the most important part were Mrs. Oscar Straus, Mrs. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Straus and Judge and Mrs. S. W. Rosendale of New York.

JOURNEYMEN BUILDERS.

Some of the people got so much religion at the recent Brown-Curry union revival at Long Beach that they are anxious to come here and help build the tabernacle to be used for the revival in Pasadena, according to William Waterhouse, who is representing the evangelists.

Before a committee last night he said that, in Long Beach these workers willingly gave their services both to building and tearing down the tabernacle there.

Twenty-one churches have already united here for the revival, which is to be held some time in April.

POSSE AFTER MEXICAN.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 16.—A posse of officers headed by Sheriff J. L. McMinn, Undersheriff McLain and Deputy Sheriff G. V. Hopkins of Ludlow, is engaged in a man-hunt on the desert north of Ludlow. A Mexican who shot and killed another and seriously injured a third is being sought. Following a battle at Bolo, some miles out from Ludlow, the Mexican escaped in the hills. One prisoner is now in jail on the desert. Officers hail the hunt as a second Willie Boy chase, and a battle between the posse and the Mexican is expected.

PRIMARY LAW GIVEN A JOLT.

Santa Ana Officials Defy Attorney-General.

Adjourns Trustees to Avoid Calling Election.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 16.—Though two deputies of the Attorney-General's office have given opinions to the effect that partisan primary elections are mandatory in cities of the fifth class, Mayor Frank Ey declares that Santa Ana is not going to hold a primary election.

"A primary election is unnecessary and ill-advised," said he. "I do not believe one is mandatory. Santa Ana is not going to have one. In taking that view I am backed up by one of the best authorities on municipal matters in the State. I have a letter from William J. Locke, editor of Pacific Municipalities, in which he says that a partisan primary is not necessary, and that no penalty will lie against trustees if primaries are not held. Such an election would cost Santa Ana $1000, and we would not get one bit of good from it. None of the candidates that I know of want it. They prefer to run independently."

City Clerk C. D. Lester called attention to the primary law, and insisted that Santa Ana would have to have primaries on March 16, preparatory to the city election on April 12. Lester's attitude brought out a good deal of comment. He stated that the Attorney-General's office had advised Ventura, Chico and Woodland that primaries would have to be held.

By not getting a quorum, the question of calling an election got by the regular meeting of the City Trustees. City Attorney Heathman says the election cannot be called at a special meeting, and the next regular meeting of the Trustees will not come until March 1, by which time it may be too late to call an election.

Mayor Ey and Trustee Greenleaf were the only Trustees present at the time for the meeting last night. Mayor Ey, who has constantly opposed the primary ideas put forward by City Clerk Lester, declared the meeting adjourned.

"I want to announce," said he, "that Santa Ana is not going to have any primary election. I want to say further that it ought not be the policy of any person in Santa Ana to stir up strife and cause the city unnecessary expense."

CALLS IT PERJURY.

"It is a plain case of perjury," said Superior Judge W. H. Thomas today as he dismissed the action of Clarence M. Rochester against the Anaheim Union Water Company. Rochester sued for $30,496. He alleged that on July 29, 1913, while working for the irrigation company at a pumping plant he fell down a pit, rotten rounds of a ladder having thrown him. He swore that he suffered from profound nervous shock, had his muscles strained, his spine permanently injured, three ribs broken, his stomach battered, his voice damaged by an injury to the larnyx, and one ankle badly twisted, and that for over five months thereafter he was unable to work.

R. J. McFadden, superintendent of the company, produced Rochester's daily reports to show that he never missed a day. If Rochester ever fell down the well he did not report it. McFadden said that a week after July 29, 1913, he saw Rochester, and at that time Rochester was vigorous. Tom Scott fell down a well and Rochester went down and held the unconscious man's head above water for an hour and helped pull him out with a block and tackle.

Rochester did not appear at the trial. It is said he is in New Mexico.

SELL HIGHWAY BONDS.

The Board of Supervisors today sold $100,000 State highway bonds to Perrin, Drake and Riley, on a bid of $96,414. Orange county bought $200,000 State highway bonds ten months ago so that the State would have money enough to build the State road through this county. Since the county has received nearly $4000 interest, the sale at $96,414 puts the county about even on the deal. It expected to have to dispose of the bonds at a loss of several thousand dollars.

ALLEGES BIGAMY.

Since Mrs. Annie Davis has found that Lewis C. Bonnon had a wife living and undivorced at the time he married Mrs. Davis's daughter, Margaret, in Santa Ana on March 14, 1914, she has brought an action to annul the marriage of March 14. Bonnon, aged 22, and Margaret Davis, 16, were married by Justice Fullerton, Mrs. Davis being present.

At that time Mrs. Davis gave her address as No. 3423 Sabina street, Los Angeles. Bonnon also gave his address as Los Angeles and his occupation as painter. In the complaint for annulment, Mrs. Davis declares that she has learned that Bonnon is a bigamist. She states that when she last heard of him he was living in Ontonagon, Mich.

JINX HOVERS NEAR.

HOLTVILLE, Feb. 16.—The ranch home "Tecolote" of Harold Bell Wright is under quarantine, his son Paul being stricken with scarlet fever. A. M. Pearson, secretary to the novelist, is recovering from an attack. A jinx is evidently descended over the household. Mr. Wright recently suffered the fracture of two ribs and Mrs. Wright received minor injuries when they were struck by an automobile while riding horseback. The author's mount, a favorite, was crippled.

San Diego to Los Angeles.

The Times has arranged a regular automobile service for the delivery of its papers to San Diego and en route. Persons desiring to make the trip by automobile from San Diego to Los Angeles may arrange for it at The Times agency in San Diego, No. 436 B street. The Times is distributed in San Diego by carrier, and is the only complete metropolitan morning newspaper delivered in San Diego early in the morning. Other outside newspapers offered in San Diego in the early morning are printed and dispatched the evening before publication dates.

DIES OF INJURIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 16.—Joseph Garnier, aged 27 years, who has resided with Mr. and Mrs. C. Pellet at the Garvey ranch, just south of the city, passed away this morning at the Alhambra Hospital as a result of the injuries received late last night, when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a wagon on the Ocean-to-Ocean highway.

Some Los Angeles friends had been the guests of the Pellets during the day, and, accompanied by young Garnier, Mr. Pellet was driving them home. When nearing the Ramona Winery the automobile crashed into a wagon driven toward Los Angeles by a Japanese gardener. Garnier was hurled through the windshield of the machine, landing a considerable distance away. He retained his consciousness and refused to believe he was seriously hurt.

It was not until after 1 o'clock this morning that Constables Parker and Pellet could get him to the hospital, much against his will. At the hospital he was found to have sustained an ugly wound in the head, and shortly after his arrival there he became unconscious, remaining so until his death at 9 a.m.

It is claimed by Pellet that there was no light on the rear of the wagon driven by the Japanese. The light was hanging from the side of the wagon and it was impossible for the persons in the automobile to get out of the way when their danger became apparent. The wagon was utterly demolished. An inquest will be held tomorrow afternoon.

WHISKY SAVES MAN FROM JAIL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 16.—His inability to hold much liquor and keep his feet, or because he drank more than his companions, may have saved Frank Palmer, said to be an ex-policeman of Long Beach, from prosecution. When Juvenile Court Judge W. H. Thomas issued warrants today for the arrest of Ralph Stocking, a Long Beach barber, Harvey Frice and John Wickersheim, both of Orange, Palmer's name was not included. Stocking, Price and Wickersheim are charged with contributing to the delinquency of Alice Henrick, aged 16; Fern Henrick, 14, and Opal Smith, 16, all of Anaheim.

According to the story told to Deputy District Attorney Koepsel, Palmer was with the three accused on the night of February 10, when in an automobile the three girls were given a joyride. The complaint alleges that Stocking, Frice and Wickersheim gave the girls intoxicating liquor to drink and that the party went to an occupied furnished house at Orange, said to belong to Stockton's father. The story as the authorities have it is that Palmer was so far gone with intoxication that he had to be put to bed as soon as the house was reached.

Frice was arrested today and was put in jail. Sheriff Jackson has been unable to locate Wickersheim, who is reported to have left the State.

MISSING MAIDEN NOW IS MATRON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 16.—The search for Miss Clara Jane Cowden, the 18-year-old telephone operator of this city, ended this afternoon, for the girl who was Clara Jane Cowden has been located at San Jose, a letter from that place having been received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Cowden. Her name is now Mrs. Ray Adams.

The letter has relieved the deep anxiety of the parents. The girl says that she became tired of working and decided to get married. Fearing that her parents would object to the young man whom she has known but a short time she decided to elope. She did not write sooner for fear that her parents would find her.

The parents say that the only objection they would have had to the marriage was that the young people knew each other only a short time.

DIES ON SALES TRIP.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 16.—Mrs. Lucy Voigt, wife of Robert F. Voigt, No. 1010½ West Twentieth street, Los Angeles, died at a local hospital this morning. She was accompanying her husband, a traveling salesman, on a trip over his district. Death was due to pneumonia. She was 49 years old and leaves husband and son.

Soldiers' Home.

HELLO GIRL OF SEVENTY VETERAN OF THE WA

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, Feb. 16.—Sergt. George H. Eldridge is the oldest telephone operator in the State in point of years, and the youngest in spirit, say members of the Old Soldiers' Home. For many years the sergeant has held forth at the switchboard at the Home as chief operator. He is now past 70 years of age and is as dextrous in manipulating the plugs that cover calls from forty telephones located in the Home as is the most expert hello girl who responds to the call for "Central." And the sergeant is nearly four times as old as the average telephone girl.

Besides having the distinction of being the oldest telephone operator in the Southwest, Sergt. Eldridge has a record as a soldier, for he is a "medal-of-honor man," having served with "conspicuous bravery in action" when Indians surrounded a small band of fifty cavalrymen near Fort Richardson, Tex. Sergt. Eldridge served for three years in Co. A, Twenty-fourth Michigan Infantry, during the Civil War. After the war he enlisted in Co. C, Sixth U. S. Cavalry, in which regiment the late Gen. Adna R. Chaffee was then a captain.

CONSTABLE NOT TO "MAKE CASE."

JUDGE DECIDES WHAT OFFICER'S BUSINESS IS AND WHAT IT IS NOT.

Laying down the principle that it is no business or duty of a Constable under the laws of California to prepare evidence upon which warrants of arrest may be issued, nor furnish evidence, in misdemeanor cases, except when committed in his presence, the District Court of Appeal yesterday allowed the peremptory writ sought by Samuel T. Ferguson prohibiting Superior Court Judge Howard A. Peairs of Kern county, from hearing the complaint against Ferguson, filed by J. C. Barrett. This means that the action instituted by Barrett to have Ferguson removed from office for alleged violation of duty, followed by the payment of a fine of $500, by Ferguson to Barrett, the complainant, as provided by the State law, is dismissed.

Ferguson was Constable in township sixteen, Kern county, and it was charged that he personally knew of breaches of the peace committed in what is described as Boust City, a place given over to drinking, gambling, prostitution, etc., it is alleged in the bill. Because he did not prosecute the persons engaged in the alleged violation of the law, which violations were not committed in his presence, did not prepare complaints and warrants and serve them, in his position as Constable, an effort was made to remove him, and J. C. Barret filed the charge.

When the case was called before Judge Peairs, a demurrer was interposed and overruled, and the trial began. The prohibition proceedings were then begun. The decision of the Court of Appeal is important in that it marks sharply how far a peace officer may go in the enforcement of the law against a misdemeanor committed outside the presence of such officer. It makes it no part of his duty to prepare a case of that description. Of course he must serve warrants based on complaints filed by other parties, but it is not necessary that he "make the case."

Germany is Reported as Selling Our Securities for Future Delivery—General Trend of Speculation is Favorable to the Manipulated Issues.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Foreign affairs again held Wall street's attention today, almost to the exclusion of the stock market itself. Another sharp decline in exchange on London was followed by an engagement of a small amount of gold by a local banking house, the metal coming from Ottawa. Receipt of a small shipment of gold coin from London for transfer to Cuba bore lightly upon the exchange situation. Later in the day the rate for remittances to London became more normal, recovering to a point well above the low quotations of the morning. Another aspect of the financial situation was the heavy trading in bonds for future delivery. Brokers were almost unanimous in the belief that this denoted further European liquidation of our securities, mainly for German account. Stocks rose and fell in halting manner, leading issues being comparatively neglected for the manipulated specialties, these moving in contrary fashion. Favorites, including United States Steel and the International list, were under frequent pressure, Union Pacific and Pennsylvania exhibiting especial heaviness in the final dealings. After the close New Haven's minimum was reduced from 49@47 and that of Southern Railway preferred from 50 to 48. The recent Russian credit of $25,000,000 has absorbed some of the inactive supply of time money. For the most part bonds were lower, the new Pennsylvania 4½ being the most conspicuous exception. Total sales, par value, amounted to $2,828,000. United States coupon 3's and registered 4's advanced ¼ per cent. on call.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Bonds, Industrials and Banks Show More Spirit, While Trading in Oil Stocks is Very Light.

Los Angeles Investment stock was a fair trader yesterday and the several hundred shares sold showed a rise of 1 cent each. With more settled conditions in affairs of the company, heavy trading is looked for in this security. There was more than usual interest in the industrials, bond and bank lists. The call for bonds was heavier than the offering. California Savings, Citizens' National and First National were the banks which had inquiries in the stock list. The oil market was very quiet. Rumors of a heavy dividend in Associated Oil in the near future caused no activity in that stock. Some Union Oil sold at $50.75. National Pacific was fractionally lower than on the day previous.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Trading was within very narrow limits and with no special feature. Southern spot markets reported unchanged to 1-16 cent up. The European situation is still the controlling factor, with traders marking time awaiting the outcome of same. Opinions are of little value at the moment, but we expect higher prices ultimately.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

The only startling market change yesterday morning was in the grain list, where barley, bran, shorts and wheat dropped 10 cents a hundred pounds. This came rather unexpectedly, despite the small declines reported in the East, which yesterday were largely recovered, according to early reports. The new price on wheat is $2.80, on rolled barley $1.80, on bran $1.85 and on shorts $2.15. The high price of these products has caused a decided decline in demand. Farmers and those using grain for feed have turned to cheap alfalfa and other hay where this can serve.

The egg market went to 25½ cents on case count, despite the fact that 727 cases were reported in. In the north there was no change, quotations standing still for a day. Butter receipts were 60,015 pounds. The market remained very steady. There were no changes in cheese, although activity in the same has been noticeable for the reason that Lent begins today. Fancy cheese is in very good call, particularly imported Swiss, since the decline of a few days ago.

The onion market contiues weak, despite lighter arrivals. The demand for seed potatoes is still good. Rain is delaying planting considerably. Spuds for immediately consumption moved slowly. The demand for seed potatoes is still good. Rain is delaying planting considerably. Spuds for immediate consumption moved slowly. Receipts were 1708 sacks. Bean arrivals were fifty-three sacks, sweet potatoes ninety-six sacks and apples 4059 boxes. There was a fair demand for this product and also a very good call for oranges.

TO BUILD CASTLE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Feb. 16.—Whittier Knights of Pythias celebrated at Pythian Hall this evening, the occasion being the burning of the mortgage formerly covering the large lots on North Greenleaf avenue. Chancellor Commander J. R. Squires had charge of the ceremonies, which included music, speeches and readings. The lodge now owns two beautiful lots near the public library and it is the expectation to build a Pythian castle thereon at the earliest possible date.

CARE OF FLOOD WATERS.

POMONA, Feb. 16.—The season's rain conditions here thus far have been ideal although little damage has been done in the way of washouts during any of the storms. The abundance of rain has led Mayor Vandegrift and the City Council to seriously consider the matter of proposing an initial bond issue of $15,000 to care for flood waters from the mountains and canyons.

HERMOSA BEACH PLANS TO TANGO.

PLEASURE PAVILION MAY BE BUILT ON PIER FOR PICNIC CROWDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HERMOSA BEACH, Feb. 16.—Following a meeting of business men, recommendations were made to the City Board of Trustees tonight that an appropriation be made to build a picnic and dancing pavilion on the municipal pier, the enterprise to be operated under the supervision of the city.

The business men unanimously recommended the proposition and a committee, consisting of C. D. Barlow, J. E. Walker and Ralph Bartlett, is active. The City Board is already on record as favoring some such an enterprise.

Today's meeting was the aftermath of a smoker given last night by the Chamber of Commerce, Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric, being the principal invited guest. County Supervisor Hinshaw was also a guest. Without promising anything definite, but intimating that Hermosa Beach might expect better car service in the event that larger crowds come here every Sunday and week-day, Mr. Shoup answered many questions relating to his system. He said he would gladly co-operate with the city, as always.

Supervisor Hinshaw said that the coast line boulevard to Venice was receiving the attention of the Board of Supervisors and he intimated that the road would be completed before summer, thus connecting all the beaches with one road system.

John Sommerville, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the smoker and introduced the speakers, who told of this city's plans to provide proper and desirable accommodations for picnic crowds. Secretary G. S. Thatcher presented to the chamber the cup won by Hermosa Beach at the Tournament of Roses.

At this afternoon's meeting of business men it was decided to recommend to the Trustees that the pavilion be placed on the big municipal pier instead of on the sand beach.

SHALL CANTALOUPE INDUSTRY THRIVE?

PRESIDENT OF THE EXCHANGE MAKES PERTINENT STATEMENT.

J. S. Crutchfield, president of the Western Cantaloupe Exchange, made the following statement last night in reference to the charges that the organization was formed for restraint of trade and acts in such a manner:

"The points involved in the suit filed against the members of the Western Cantaloupe Exchange are very vital not only to the cantaloupe shippers of the Imperial Valley, but likewise to the fruit growers and shippers of California and the entire Pacific Coast, the question being as to whether co-operation suitable to the needs of the business shall be permitted, and to what extent.

"The question is most important at this particular time to the cantaloupe growers themselves, railroads, banks, and business interests of Southern California because of the very large acreage planted in cantaloupes for the coming season. Something over 7500 acres of cantaloupes are planted in the Brawley district, the normal yield of the same approximating 6000 cars. Unless there is very definite co-operation permitted in the handling of the crop and especially if each individual distributor is compelled to work independently, it is probable that not over 40 per cent. of the crop can be marketed successfully. It would be a calamity not only to the growers, but to the whole business interests of California and to the consumers of the United States for such a condition to arise.

"It must be remembered that the Imperial Valley cantaloupes come on the market earlier than cantaloupes from any other district in the United States, but the exact time of their ripening is very uncertain, car lots last season beginning at the very early date of May 17, whereas in ordinary years June 10 is approximately the beginning date for car lot shipments. Ordinarily the shipments come on so rapidly that before the first freight car shipments reach New York there may be rolling in transit for the various markets more than 1000 cars. If weather conditions are cold in the eastern markets, and even regardless of weather conditions, no cantaloupes having been on the market for eight months previous, the consumers are not prepared to change off from grape fruit and strawberries and take cantaloupes in large quantities as suddenly as is necessary in order to accommodate the deluge of shipments unless there is perfect distribution. The trouble at the start is to hold the prices down so as to stimulate the demand to a volume sufficient to take care of the rapidly-increasing shipments. To do this cantaloupes must be sold in Denver, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis and other western markets at around $2.50 a crate when the same fruit might be rolled to Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh and Boston and realize $4 to $5 a crate. It is utterly impossible to do this without closest co-operation among the shippers. Thus co-operation tends to hold down the price to the consumer during the first part of the season in order to make possible the maintaining of reasonable prices for the grower during the heavy shipping period.

"Another point that must be considered is the highly perishable nature of the fruit. It must be picked exactly at the right moment and shipped, otherwise it spoils in transit. Thus concerted action in picking and distribution has a big tendency to bring the fruit on the market in good condition and much of it, and thus make the price reasonable to the consumer.

"We welcome these proceedings in California because the interests of this State are at stake. The question is whether the great cantaloupe industry of California shall survive at its maximum volume or not. Of even more importance than the successful marketing of any one crop of cantaloupes is the matter of stabilizing the industry so as to maintain the present high valuation of Imperial Valley lands and the very substantial developments in all lines that depend so much in that district on the cantaloupe industry. Two million dollars of outside money should be released in Imperial Valley within six weeks if the full crop is marketed correctly, whereas, under the demoralization resulting from individual effort in marketing, particularly this season, when business conditions are unsettled, probably not over 40 per cent. of this amount would be realized. The Western Cantaloupe Exchange was formed at the instance of the growers of the Imperial Valley. They have been the chief beneficiaries of its operation, and they will be the principal losers if the organization be not permitted to continue.

STORES BURGLED BY UNEMPLOYED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Feb. 16.—Six San Pedro stores were burglarized last night, but as no goods were taken except eatables it is believed the raid was made by members of the band of unemployed that has been making headquarters here for several weeks.

Five of the places entered were meat markets and groceries. At the New Market, No. 615 Beacon street, the burglars tarried long enough to participate in the spread behind the counter. With canned goods and meat their menu was complete even to pies from the delicatessen department.

Other stores entered were Clark's Market, No. 627 Beacon street; Knickbocker Grocery, No. 615 Beacon street; Weller's grocery and meat market, at No. 432 Beacon street; J. J. Connelly's grocery, No. 627 Beacon street; and O. B. Sadler's dry goods store on Sixth street.

Small amounts in cash were taken from several cash registers, but apparently the burglars had no use for any merchandise that could not be eaten.

For several weeks there have been a growing number of unemployed at the harbor, the motley crowd including some of the worst types of yeggs and I.W.W. agitators. So far the police have been given little trouble, but the officers are prepared for emergencies and are making every effort to separate the worst class from men willing to work and make them move on.

REMOVES SCREEN ON DIVORCE CASES.

SAN BERNARDINO JUDGE LIFTS LID ON COURT RECORDS WITH FORMAL ORDER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 16.—Secret divorces were placed under a ban by Judge H. T. Dewhirst in the Superior Court, following the motion of Attorney William Guthrie, and henceforth couples desiring legal separation will not be screened from the public, for their attorneys will no longer be allowed to file the action with the words, "withhold these names from the records."

Judge Dewhirst, while not issuing a formal order for the discontinuance of the practice, which has been in vogue for years in the County Clerk's office, stated in no uncertain terms that the law contemplated no secret actions and that the public was entitled to know what was going on in the courts. Dist.-Atty. Duckworth immediately issued an opinion advising County Clerk Patty that the practice should not be followed.

In the past few months there have been a number of "secret divorces" filed and the publication of the fact gave rise to rumors which placed many innocent parties in the hands of gossiping tongues.

The names of parties in many actions kept from the public by the old custom will come to light as soon as the new order becomes operative and when the names are divulged a few sensations are expected.

ENTRY PORT FOR FOREIGN STOCK.

MEXICAN CATTLE INSPECTION IS DESIRED HERE.

Attention of Harbor Commission is Directed to Possibilities of Building up Profitable Business with West Coast of Sister Republic. Will Investigate.

The possibilities of building up a highly profitable business in live stock shipments from the West Coast of Mexico to this port were called to the attention of the Harbor Commission yesterday. An investigation is to be started at once by Harbor Traffic Manager Matson. He will collect the necessary data, setting forth the opportunities for such development, and will take up with the Federal government officials the subject of providing for the proper inspection for foreign stock sent to this port.

The subject was presented by Octavius Morgan, who asked that steps be taken at once to rectify the deficiency of this port in not having provision made for inspection of foreign stock imports. In his statement to the Harbor Commission, Mr. Morgan said:

"Acquaintances of mine want to import cattle from Magdalena Bay and the West Coast of Mexico. At the present time the only ports on the coast to which cattle can be imported are San Diego and San Francisco, cutting out the port of Los Angeles entirely. A great trade can possibly be built up between the West Coast of Mexico and Los Angeles, if encouragement and facilities are given to the importers by which it can be done without unnecessary expense and delay.

"The people in Washington do not appear to know that the west coast of California is any different from what it was twenty years ago, and it is simply neglect, and that no demand has been made, that the port of Los Angeles is not included in the points where proper inspection of cattle can be made.

"All the packing-houses, such as Swift's, Cudahy's and Hauser's for the south are in Los Angeles. For these reasons steps should be immediately taken that Los Angeles be made a point of import for cattle from foreign countries."

NEGRESS WANTED FOR POLICE WOMAN WORK.

Chief of Police Sebastian yesterday requested the Police Commission to ask the City Council to provide such legislation as may be necessary to secure the employment of a negress as police woman. The commission recommended that in the examination to be called by the Civil Service Commission for police women there be specified that one position will be open for negroes.

Chief Sebastian says: "There is a constant and growing demand in Los Angeles for the services of a negress in police women work. While the negro population in Los Angeles is one of the most law-abiding in our midst, the Caucasian police workers have need of a colored woman to assist them. I believe it would be a step forward in our humanitarian work if provision was made for the employment of a negress for this particular work."

CENSORED FIREWORKS. BOARD TO SAY WHAT'S WHAT.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or cause or permit to be sold any explosives or fireworks, other than blank cartridges and fire crackers, in the city of Los Angeles, except such as are particularly designated by order of the Fire Commissioners of the city of Los Angeles as harmless fireworks."

This is the nub of proposed amendments to the ordinance governing the sale of fireworks, which the Public Safety Committee of the Council yesterday recommended should be prepared by the City Attorney.

The purpose is to definitely define what may be sold in the way of fireworks in this city, as at present there is confusion on the subject. Dealers in these goods desire to conform to city ordinances, but they ask that the Fire Commissioners may pass upon what is to be considered harmless. Representing the dealers, Attorney Ray Nimmo appeared before the Public Safety Committee yesterday to urge the adoption of the proposed amendments.

Under the proposed ordinance the Fire Commission would be vested with authority to examine all forms of explosives and fireworks and determine whether they are or are not harmful or likely to cause injury to the public if sold for celebration purposes. Persons desiring to sell such goods must apply to the commission for the privilege and receive written permits therefor. Such permit may be revoked by subsequent order of the board.

CONSOLIDATION. LEGISLATION REQUIRED.

The City Council had its attention directed yesterday by Meyer Lissner to the fact that in the first session of the present Legislature no action was taken towards the presentation of an act looking to the consolidation of the city and county governments, as provided in Amendment No. 19 to the State Constitution. He urged that the Council take action to bring the subject before the second session of the Legislature.

Upon motion of Councilman Bryant, the City Attorney was instructed to prepare and submit to the Legislature an act, or an amendment to existing acts, or an amendment to an act that has or may be submitted by officials of San Francisco, Oakland, or any other county, providing for consolidation in conformity with the amendment to the State Constitution.

The motion also provides that this instrument shall be presented to the Council for its consideration before it is submitted to the legislators.

APPEAL REFERRED. MONEY NOT AVAILABLE.

The City Council yesterday referred to the Board of Supervisors the recently filed appeal of B. N. Frankel and others, asking for an appropriation of $25,000 to aid the unemployed. The Council had also been asked to give its indorsement to a plan to try to secure use of the State Armory building at Exposition Park for headquarters for unemployed.

The report of the Finance Committee stated, as is generally known by the public, that there are no funds available for such an appropriation as is requested. The city has been maintaining the unemployed camp in Griffith Park, as well as supporting the United Charities and various organizations have received assistance through the Municipal Charities Commission. Now that the county is to assume general control of the charities work, the Council feels that this appeal should be placed in its hands.

LIQUOR PERMITS. ACTION OF COMMISSION.

The application of the American Slavonian Social Club for a social club permit for No. 652 North Broadway, first and second floors, was laid on the table by the Police Commission yesterday. It is the policy of the commission to grant no more social club permits until there are some vacancies in existing lists.

Jules Domecq was granted permission to move his saloon from No. 226 Aliso street to No. 215 North Spring street.

The saloon permit for No. 601 East Third street was transferred from Largomarsino & Romano to Daniel C. Romano.

The No. 2 restaurant liquor permit for No. 851 South Spring street was transferred from Louis B. Gyle to Vicich & Salamunovich.

The No. 1 restaurant liquor permit for No. 734 South Spring street was transferred from Charles A. Sowl to Thomas J. McGlinn.

The commission referred to the Chief of Police for investigation and report the petition asking for the closing to issuance of further liquor permits of West Second street, between Broadway and Hill street.

Ornamental Lighting.

City Electrician Manahan reported to the Board of Public Works yesterday that the collections of assessments have been completed for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Figueroa street, from Sixth to Tenth streets, and for the maintenance of the lighting system on Grand avenue, from Sixth to Ninth streets.

They Want Rotation.

In order to settel controversies over positions for vehicles of sight-seeing auto concerns at Central Park, a petition was presented to the Police Commission yesterday asking that the four large concerns in this line of work be given rotation rights for standing their autos at this station, the leading position to be held one week each by the concerns.

IN THE RECORDS. MUNICIPAL NOTATIONS.

The City Council has set 9 o'clock of March 3 as the time for hearing protests against the proposed improvement of Magnolia avenue, from Tenth to Pico streets. The hour of 10 o'clock on February 24 is set for hearing appeals with references to the construction of the Arroyo de la Brea storm sewer system, and 10:30 a.m. of the same date for hearing appeals on the construction of the Maple-avenue main sewer system.

Formal instructions were given to the City Clerk by the Council yesterday for the verification of names of qualified electors on the petitions for an election on annexation of territory within the San Fernando Valley.

The Council proposes to dedicate a portion of Walnut Hill avenue, between Avenues 59 and 60, in Hermon, for park purposes. Recently the Park Commission refused to consider taking charge of this territory, as it was simply dedicated as a public street. There is sufficient space for parking and citizens of Hermon are anxious that it shall become park property. The City Attorney was instructed yesterday to prepare the necessary ordinance.

THEIR CONDUCT AFTER DIVORCE.

INNER LIFE OF MR. HOWARD AND MISS ARMFIELD.

He Admits of Many Escapades with Her, but Denies Absolutely that He Ever Promised to Remarry Her—Their Relations as He Recited Them in His Behalf.

The peregrinations of Bryant H. Howard, wealthy San Diego yachtsman and automobilist, with Miss Maud Armfield after the annulment of their marriage, were admitted by Mr. Howard who took the stand in his own defense in Miss Armfield's $500,000 breach of promise suit before a jury in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. Whether Miss Armfield recovers any portion of the fortune she asks in her complaint rests on the alleged promise to marry.

The frail girl, whose baby daughter sits all day long in the courtroom, as quiet as a mouse, but, oh, so lonely, and with never a glance from the young man who does not recognize her as his daughter, vehemently stated that Mr. Howard did promise to remarry her. He as emphatically stated yesterday there was no such promise made by him.

He admitted the matter had been discussed between them, principally on Miss Armfield's side, but he said he never made the promise. When pressed by the girl, he declared he had told her, "I will see."

The marriage with the 15-year-old girl at San Diego, July 4, 1909, is admitted. Mr. Howard, who said there was no "Jr." on his name, testified they lived together as married persons "two and one-half months, I think."

"She said she was going to join the Post Musical Comedy Company at Phoenix," he testified. "I saw her several days later at Santa Ana. She wished to go to Chicago and requested funds. I got the necessary funds from my mother and handed her the money at Santa Ana, where she went to receive it. She tore up the tickets to Phoenix. I saw her several weeks later at San Diego after her return from Chicago. She lived in a cottage on Seventh street. I was living at my mother's home.

"She left San Diego for Chicago in January, I think. My mother furnished the transportation and accompanied her as far as Los Angeles. I saw her next in April, 1910, in Chicago. I was on my way to New York and stopped in Chicago two days. She was living with an aunt on the West Side.

"She told me her aunt was an unfit person to live with, that she was sending her to hell as fast as she could. She told me her aunt was running around with men and inducing her to do the same thing. I went to New York and saw her several days later. She asked me to take her away from her aunt's; she did not want to be like her people. I took her to Grand Rapids."

"What relation did you occupy toward her?"

The answer was indistinct but it seemed to be: "I presume she occupied the place as my wife, I don't know."

From Grand Rapids they traveled to Kalamazoo and there it appears that Mr. Howard went to work as foreman in a garage. Their next point was Detroit, thence West. At Ogden Miss Armfield left him and he went on to Portland. She told him, he said, she was going to join her people in San Francisco. Her uncle and aunt were connected with the Armstrong Musical Company. This was August, 1910.

"I next saw her in September in San Francisco. She kept wiring me for money, saying she was sick in a hospital. I made up my mind to investigate and I found her a chorus girl at the American Theater. She asked me to take her away. She said if I would give her another chance, this time surely she would brace up and be a good woman."

Mr. Howard took her on a jaunt to Chico, Prattville, Susanville and Coppervale, staying from September, 1910, until March, 1911. "We hunted, trapped and fished," he said.

"Who?" asked former Judge Britt, chief counsel for Mr. Howard.

Not once did he speak of her in any other terms. They went to Sacrament by way of Reno.

"The plaintiff went to San Francisco and I went to San Diego. I saw her in that city in April, 1911, and several days later she went to Battle Creek, Mich., accompanied by my mother."

The greatest thing in a woman's life was about to pass. Mr. Howard next saw her with her baby in San Diego in November, 1912. He said she came for money.

"What was said between you as to any negotiations of marriage?"

"She asked me many times if we were going to be married. I told her 'no.' Sometimes I evaded the question and simply said, 'I will see.'"

He saw her many times in San Diego, and nearly always he stated she came after money and would also ask the vital question, "When are you going to marry me?"

In various forms and on the dates specified by Miss Armfield, Mr. Howard's counsel asked him what he had said to her about marriage, and always Mr. Howard replied that he had made no promise.

"No sir."

"Did she make any reproaches?"

"I was not going to marry anybody else—how could she reproach me?"

"State whether you made any promise at all to her of that nature from the time of the annulment of your marriage until the present time?"

"I did not."

He also said that he had nothing to do with supplying her with funds subsequently to her leaving Battle Creek Sanatorium. This was done by his mother. His direct examination will be resumed this morning.

VERMONT AVENUE. FOR WIDENING THOROUGHFARE.

The report of the referees on the widening of Vermont avenue to 120 feet, from Sixth street to the entrance of Griffith Park, was practically confirmed by Judge Taft yesterday, who heard the exceptions filed by eight property owners to the awards made them in the condemnation proceedings of the City of Los Angeles against Clara R. Shatto and others.

The referees made a total award of more than $500,000 on 244 parcels of land owned by 440 defendants, for land taken. Exceptions were filed against the awards by George E. Bergstrom, William Mead, Rebecca Chamberlain, Edith Richardson, Minnie Briggs, William A. Anderson, William H. Hoegee and J. C. Cliff.

They objected on the ground that the awards were insufficient for the land taken, as well as for damages by reason of severance. The court allowed Mr. Bergstrom a 50 per cent. increase; increased the award of Mrs. Briggs by $250 for improvements, and raised Mrs. Chamberlain $750 for damages to the remainder of her property by reason of severance. The report was confirmed as to the others.

Former Judge Moss filed objections on behalf of O. W. Lord and others to the awards made with reference to the street, sidewalks, curbs and gutters. The court held that they were public property and not a proper element of damage, ruling out the awards on these three items. This resulted in a saving to the city of about $6000. The city was represented by Deputy City Attorney Whitehead.

DECLARED INCOMPETENT. PROPERTY REVERTS TO ESTATE.

Under a decision handed down by Judge Shenk yesterday, declaring the trust deed executed by Mrs. Georgia C. Balch to Harlan P. Sweet and the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, co-trustees, void, property in this county and in New Jersey, valued at $60,000, will revert to the estate.

Suit to set aside the deed was filed by the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, administrator of Mrs. Balch's estate, against Mr. Sweet and the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank. It was shown that Mrs. Balch had been declared incompetent under the laws of New York, March 20, 1911, she was restored to competency, and on the same day she made the trust deed to the defendants, providing an income for her only child and sole heir, Grace C. Balch. It further provided that upon the death of the daughter, the property was to be distributed among the collateral heirs.

The Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank contended that because of the incompetency of Mrs. Balch, she did not comprehend the nature of the deed. Depositions of twenty persons in the East who knew Mrs. Balch were read in court, stating in effect that she was not mentally competent to comprehend the transaction.

No evidence was introduced by the defendants tending to show her competency, but they set up that this court had no jurisdiction because some of the property was in this State and some in New Jersey.

MALPRACTICE ALLEGED. SUES ON FINGER INJURY.

During the trial of the damage suit of George M. Decker against Dr. Charles Hutchison for alleged malpractice, Mr. Decker submitted in Department Twelve to an examination at the hands of Dr. E. Clarence Moore, an expert witness for Dr. Hutchison. The result of this test to prove the truth of Dr. Moore's diagnosis that the condition of the hand of Mr. Decker was the result of anthritis deformans and not of Volkmann contracture, as the latter alleged, was a suit for $2015 damages filed against Dr. Moore yesterday.

Mr. Decker alleges in his complaint that Dr. Moore, in a violent and vainglorious manner and with malicious intent in order to demonstrate his theory, committed a violent assault upon him by pulling his hand and prying open his third finger. This test was so vigorous that Mr. Decker says the third finger of his hand was broken and may have to be amputated.

SHE FAINTS. RELAXATION TOO GREAT.

Relaxing suddenly from the tension of the divorce court, Mrs. Grace Conroy, who had been awarded a decree from John J. Conroy, swooned yesterday as she passed into the corridor through the swinging doors of Department Thirteen. Friends and her attorney supported the unconscious woman to a rest room.

The Conroys were married in 1908 and have one child. Judge Monroe awarded Mrs. Conroy the custody of the child, and ordered Mr. Conroy to pay $30 a month for support. He is alleged to have deserted his wife a year ago and failed to provide for her.

REMEMBERS FAMILY. ESTATE OF MRS. BROWN.

The five grandchildren of Mrs. Alice D. Brown, who died on the 8th inst., were handsomely remembered in her will, filed for probate yesterday. Judge Myers, who drew the will and is named executor, is Mrs. Brown's son-in-law. His wife, Blanche Myers, is given the cash on hand and in bank, the household furniture, jewelry and personal effects. Maud K. Pascoe, a niece, is bequeathed a walnut bedroom set, to be selected by Mrs. Myers.

The residue of the estate, appraised at $16,500, is given in equal shares to the grandchildren, namely, Everett, John and Gordan Brown, and Alice E. and John W. Myers.

THREE YEARS FOR CHINAMAN.

He Would Bribe an Immigration Inspector to Falsify Records for "Native" Born.

Gee Chong, alias Nom On, a San Luis Obispo Chinese, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Bledsoe to three years at McNeil's Island and to pay a fine of $100, for attempting to bribe an immigration inspector, and entering into a conspiracy to induce contraband Chinese to pose as native born.

Gee Chong, with three others, offered Inspector Griffin, stationed at San Luis Obispo, $100 for every Chinese he would allow to pose as American-born, by fixing up the records to that effect, and it is alleged that they conducted a "citizen factory" in the town for several years, reaping a rich reward from Chinese who desired to be let alone, or wanted to fortify themselves with the necessary papers that would admit them to this country after making a trip to China.

AQUEDUCT WATER GOOD.

In the case of H. A. Hart and E. M. Frost against the municipality, yesterday was consumed in the cross-examination of Carl Wilson, of Smith, Emery & Co., Mr. Wilson reiterated his positive belief that Haiwee reservoir is an effective barrier to pathogenic bacteria, and that Owens River water as brought to Los Angeles is potable and safe to drink.

ECZEMA STARTED WITH ONE PIMPLE
Itched Terribly. Could Not Put Hands in Water. Burning Intense. Very Unsightly. Used Cuticura. Hands Entirely Well.
Scappoose, Oregon.—"Eczema started on one of my fingers of the right hand with just one little pimple. It itched so terribly and soon began to spread and the itching kept getting worse. I did not know what it was until it got so bad and spread to the other hand. I could not do my regular housework for I could not put my hands in water. Besides being so very painful and causing them to itch worse it made the eruption worse. It first started with small water blisters, then formed eruptions which became scaly. The itching and burning were so intense I scratched these scales off which only made them deeper and caused it to spread. The breaking out was very unsightly.
"One of my neighbors told me to get a box of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap and they would cure me. By the time I had used one box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment my hands were entirely well." (Signed) Miss Josephene Spalding, July 28, 1914.
